Editorial

"Music hath charms—" Do you room next to the practice hall? We're sorry, but it seems that all that-er-practise is necessary in order that the Senior Recitals may begin in a week or so.

We ask you, gentle reader, did you ever ruin a pair of new blonde slippers on a board walk whose boards rose up and greeted you like a long lost friend? We agree that they-meaning the walks-have served their purpose, but now they have all the rigidity of Gilda Grey doing her daily dozen, and they catapult us along with all the grace and wild abandon of a kangaroo. We used to like those walks when we first came, but they let us down, and that is something we never could stand. In fact, we didn't. In company with several others, we indulged in close communion with Mother Earth.

"Three-in-One," presented by the Senior Class last Saturday night was worth almost three times the admission charged. But in order to give honor where honor is due, we want to say, in behalf of the Seniors, that the credit goes to Mr. Sherwood Brockwell, who gave his time and talent to coaching the minstrel.

And along the same line, we want to thank State College, Carolina, Wake Forest, and "the man back home," for the masculine apparel so generously lent in order to make things seem what they weren't.

Next week will see a large number of our mothers and aunts in Raleigh for the W. M. U. convention. They are to have luncheon out here on Wednesday, and of course, we must all be on our best behavior, and in our best clothes. We almost said that we must show them ourselves just as we are, but it might be better to be just as they like to imagine we are!

Through our column we wish to give the report of the Senior Matrimonial Bureau for the Fall of the year 1925-26. At present there are eight Seniors who own diamonds that mean more than a gift from Dad. There are fifteen Seniors who are wearing fraternity pins. Out of the twenty-three gentlemen thus represented, ten have attended or are attending State, six are Carolina men, and Wake Forest comes third with five on the list. Credit for the unusual success of the Bureau is due to summer schools, B. Y. P. U., receptions, Fair day, ball games, Press Associations, and the Cally.

The fund for the shrubbery mounts up, and soon we will have signs saying "Don't pick the flowers," and "Keep off the grass." Isn't it encouraging to think of Meredith's future daughters picking a rose for her "date" from a bush purchased with your dollar, instead of saying, "For goodness' sake, don't bring all that mud in!"

It has been suggested that the words in our new Meredith song that are "and we realize, just what we owe to you," be amended to "what our Dad's owe to you."

"In the spring, a young man's fancy, lighty turns—" and the pity of it that it sometimes fails to RE-turn.

So far Meredith has had no trouble with the resignation of her athletic coach. Neither will rival colleges be calling our Gym by harsh names. You see, we expect to have our Gym classes in the nice new Society halls on the third floor.

We would have been almost uncomfortable with the water dripping down our back in chapel the other day if it hadn't been for the nice dry talk we heard.

Page Rodolph Valentino! He would most probably feel quite at home here on Saturday night with the Spanish party Meredith Sophs are planning for the members of '28 at State.

We saw a basketball game the other night, and it was almost as much fun as being at the zoo to see how our next-door neighbors made monkeys out of the other team during the last half.

STUDENT OPINION

How do you like New Meredith? The students have been asked this question so many times since Christmas, that we thought this an opportune way of telling all of our friends just what we do think of our new country home.

Why of course we are just delighted with our new surroundings. Just one of those glorious sunsets has fully repaid us for leaving the city. At last we are ideally situated, and the students have already started to do their part to complete the original plan.

We are so glad that now we can really and truly enjoy the wonders of nature, and have room to just grow and grow and grow.

Donations from the alumnae for the campus fund have begun to come in. Mrs. W. L. Gassaway has sent a check for $10.

JOKES

George: Do you like the simple things?

Sara Leigh: Are you proposing?

Madeline E.: Would you put yourself out for me?

Carnegie C. I certainly would. . . .

Madeline: Well, then, please do, it is almost time for date bell and I'm awfully tired.

A certain freshman applied for a job in a movie company.

"Now all we want you to do is get in the cage with this lion and let us take your picture."

"I—I—I—d rather not!"

"But he is perfectly harmless, he was brought up on milk."

"S—So was I but I—I eat meat now, too!"

Edith Rho Grady, saying her prayers after her first football game:

God bless pa,
 God bless ma,
 God save grandpa,
 Rah! Rah! Rah!

In Art Education:

Miss Ida: Now each one of you girls draw what you want to be.

After some time Miss Ida noticed that Vallie Morris was not at work but engaged in deep thought, "What is the matter?" she said, "why do you not draw what you want?"

Vallie M.: Well, you see, I want to be married.

Mr. Riley on Economics: Name three ways of conserving heat.

Student in rear: Radiators, steam pipes, and fireless cookers.

Crys: I can't get in the door!

Mutt: Turn sideways!

Crys: I can't, t'won't do any good, I'm such an all round girl!
