

State and Meredith Joint Hosts To Press Association Next Week

Delegates are expected to arrive sometime Thursday afternoon by train, bus and car. From there they will be conducted to the Y. W. C. A. building at State College where they will register. There the boys and girls will part company for a time, the boys going in search of the rooms assigned to them at State College, while the girls will be brought out to Meredith. Upon arriving at Meredith, they will be greeted by the members of the Entertainment Committee who will show them to their rooms.

And then the fun begins! From Meredith to State and then back again they will go. The sessions will begin at 9 o'clock on Friday morning, the opening feature being an address by the President of the Association. The meetings will run from 9 until 1:00, and from 2:30 until 4 on Friday afternoon. There will be no night sessions. The convention will convene again on Saturday morning, coming to a close at noon of that day.

STATE-CAROLINA GAME FEATURE ON PROGRAM

The State-Carolina Football game, which is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, October 29, will come as a grand climax to the program arranged by the Entertainment Committee. Although the Fall Session will come to a close at noon on Saturday, reservations are being made previously and an urgent invitation will be extended to all delegates to defer their return and attend the game. State will be very likely to have some hearty yelling at that game. What the result would be should some of the invited guests proceed to flatter the Carolina ranks with their presence, remains to be determined. For fear lest the wrong impression be given and all the

Some folks think that great men have their pictures hung in halls of fame. Just now we wish to hang another picture in our hall of fame. The fortunate young man is none other than Hansel Hester, better known as "Jerry." And why should his picture occupy such a place of honor? Well, since Jerry is so modest we'll be forced to tell you that he is the president of our North Carolina Collegiate Press Association.

Jerry hails from that town that is sometimes called the "Twin-City." We are told that even back in his High School days he was recognized as a real leader. With all his talents it is no wonder that he was chosen president of the Press Association! "Jerry" is not only

HELP MAKE THE PRESS ASSOCIATION A SUCCESS

For the purpose of creating a more sympathetic understanding, and a better spirit of cooperation among the college students in this state, the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association was organized in 1922 with practically every college newspaper, magazine and yearbook being a member.

Each year two meetings of the association are held, one being in the fall and the other in the spring. The entertainment of the association rotates among the different colleges, and practically every institution in the state has been host to the organization. Last spring the representatives of the student press were entertained at N. C. C. W. The meeting for this fall will be held on October 27, 28, and 29 with Meredith and State jointly entertaining.

The newspapers and publishing houses of the state are greatly in sympathy with the activities of the N. C. C. P. A. Each year the Winston-Salem Journal offers a cup to the best newspaper, and last year the Chronicle of Duke University won the award. The silver loving cup offered by Christian & King Printing Co. was won by the Corradi of N. C. C. W. Edwards and Broughton reward the best annual of the state in the same fashion, and the Sights and Insights of Salem was acclaimed to be the best during last year. The Greensboro Daily News selects the best college editor in the State and Harlee Branch of Davidson was selected last year.

The assembling twice a year of the college students in the state who are interested in journalism and the like has affected an improvement in this field. Since 1922 practically every publication in the state has become affiliated until today about fifty publications possess membership. Approximately 150 students are expected to be present at the meeting this fall in Raleigh.

At the final meeting of the association held last spring at N. C. C. W. the following officers were elected: H. L. Hester, Duke University, president; David Carroll, U. N. C., vice president; Anne Fassoux Johnston, Queen's, second vice president; Frances G. Gibson, N. C. C. W., secretary; and A. L. Aydlette, State College, treasurer.
