THIRD B. S. U. CONFERENCE COMES TO CLOSE

"CHRIST ADEQUATE" KEYNOTE
272 DELEGATES ENROLLED

The delegates to the Baptist Student Conference, October 28-30, were welcomed by Dr. C. E. Brewer, our president, as a group of enthusiastic youth, representing the religious influence on the college campus, assembled for the purpose of receiving and giving inspiration.

It was indeed inspiring to those in charge of the registration to watch the delegates as they came in from the several Baptist and State schools. The registration for this third annual gathering of Baptist Students in a state-wide meeting was found upon completion to be 272 delegates.

At seven o'clock in the auditorium of Pullen Memorial Baptist Church, was held the first session of the conference.

With the opening of the session by Mr. R. Paul Caudill of Wake Forest as chairman, was begun a conference of which the ultimate results can be measured only by the inspiration carried back by the delegates to their respective campuses.

"Christ Adequate" was the theme of the program; the keynote of every devotion led by the students, the keynote of the messages of every speaker.

It is impossible to give a competent resume of so rich and intensive a program, but no one present could fail to sense the heart response to the stirring appeals made by such speakers as Dr. J. E. Dillard, Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. J. M. Dawson, Waco, Texas; our own Dr. Maddy, Dr. J. Clyde Turner, Greensboro, N. C.; Rev. H. H. McMillan, Maxton, N. C., a returned missionary; Mr. Frank H. Leavell, Memphis, Tenn.; Dr. William Russell Owen, Coral Gables, Fla.

SENIOR RINGS ORDERED

That greatest of all days for the Senior Class is about to come—the day when they get their Senior rings. Sizes have been taken and the order made, and the rings are expected around the 15th of the month. The rings will of course conform to those of previous years, as Meredith College has a standard ring—that of white or yellow gold with the college seal set in onyx.

MEREDITH TO ASSIST IN COMMUNITY
CHEST CAMPAIGN
MRS. CALHOUN DECLARES WOMEN
INTELLECTUAL LEADERS

Meredith Faculty and Students were very glad to welcome to their platform on Tuesday morning Mrs. Calhoun, representative of the City Community Chest movement. Mrs. Calhoun proved a most interesting speaker. In the beginning of her talk she introduced the subject of the Community Chest movement and emphasized the importance of the Red Cross in time of peace as well as in war. From that she digressed into a discussion of the recently recognized intellectual capacity of women. Beginning with Mother Eve and Ruth, Mrs. Calhoun cited women down through the ages who wielded influence through an appeal to their minds rather than because of their beauty. "Although I do not mean to reflect upon the much-referred-to beauty of women," she said, "I do intend to contend that women have minds as well as beauty, and the present world is turning to them for assistance."

Mrs. Calhoun concluded her brief talk with an appeal to the Meredith girls to contribute a dollar if possible and thus be enrolled as a Red Cross member; if not to make some contribution toward this drive which is to be put on this week.

The task of receiving any contributions which might be made was placed in the hands of the Student Government Organization, and it is expected that a goodly sum will be collected from the Meredith faculty and students.

HALLOWE'EN FAVORS MADE FOR SHUT-INS

The Sunshine work of the Young Peoples' Department of First Baptist Sunday school, which formerly included only the visiting of different institutions in the city such as Dix Hill, St. Luke's Home, etc., has assumed a wider range. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week, members of the classes taught by Misses Mary Martin and Mary Lynch Johnson and Dr. Rufus Hunter, made Hallowe'en favors for the "Shut-Ins" of Raleigh. This work was done under the auspices of the Woman's Club of Raleigh, and consisted of dressing All-Day-Suckers in black and yellow paper so as to impersonate witches. There are about six hundred Shut-Ins, and the four Meredith classes assumed the responsibility of making witches for each one of them. These favors were delivered to the Shut-Ins on Hallowe'en.

Sandwiches and cake, served at intervals added to the pleasure of making these.

N. C. C. P. A. MEETING
COMES TO CLOSE94 DELEGATES ENROLLED—15

PRESIDENTS BREWER AND
BROOKS ADDRESS
CONVENTION

The fall meeting of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association come to a close at 1:00 o'clock Saturday, when the entire delegation was entertained at lunch in the State College Cafeteria. As far as we as hostesses are able to judge, the meeting was a success. 94 delegates were enrolled as full-time attendants, which approximately 10-15 others attended some of the meetings. 38 girls were entertained at Meredith.

Among the items of business discussed and passed on, two were especially interesting. The first was a scheme presented by Edwards & Broughton Co., providing that a certain insignia be run above the Editorial department of every publication belonging to the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association. A sketch of this insignia was presented at the last business session, and it was decided that such an emblem be run as a mark of that publication being a member of the State Press Association.

The second business item of importance was a plan, introduced by A. L. Aydlette of N. C. State, whereby a system similar to the Associated Press should be practiced by the colleges belonging to the N. C. C. P. A. This organization is to be called the Collegiate Press, with the purpose of exchanging news between the various colleges before it should be "ancient history," so to speak.

The delegates were quite fortunate in having the opportunity of having such outstanding men as Mr. Best, Mr. Horn, Dr. E. C. Brooks, Mr.

B. S. U. DELEGATES ENJOY
ANNUAL BARBECUE

Saturday afternoon, October the twenty-ninth, the time of the long-talked-of barbecue in the grove, arrived. All of the new girls had been looking forward to this annual event with eagerness and curiosity, while the older girls were frankly longing for it. It is hardly sufficient to say that every one's hopes were fulfilled, for, under Miss Welch's expert supervision the occasion was quite a success. It was also evident that the visitors present, enjoyed their supper under the trees as thoroughly as the members of the College did.

DR. PRICE SPEAKS
IN CHAPEL
TELLS OF PRESENTATION OF
"EVERY MAN"

Dr. Helen Price, a new member of the faculty at Meredith, who is head of the Latin and Greek Department, gave a most interesting talk in chapel last Friday on a play (entitled "Every Man"). Which she had seen abroad this summer. The play was given in Switzerland with capable actors and actresses taking part under the direction of the noted Max Reinhardt. Every Man was the hero of the story and he portrayed the life of man as it has always taken place. Other important characters were the Devil, Death and Greed.

According to Miss Price the acting was marvelous, holding the audience practically spell-bound during the entire performance, because of an atmosphere about the play that was almost unreal in its power over the audience. In her charming and delightful manner Miss Price presented such a vivid account of the play that it makes each one of us want to make a special trip to see it.

PICNIC SUPPER
IN THE GROVEMISS JOHNSON'S CLASS HAS PICNIC

To a few old girls who were in Miss Johnson's class at the First Baptist as freshmen, the prospect of another picnic like the ones we had then, meant more than the word picnic itself indicates. Never will any girl who was at the picnic supper in the grove last Tuesday night fail to greet with delight the idea of another such. Old girls and new girls shared in the fun of a real camp supper inspite of the fact that it was cold and damp. If any thing we enjoyed the fires more because it was so cold. But the fires

SOPHOMORE STATIONERY
ARRIVES

The Sophomore Stationery has at last come and the proud "Sophs" are displaying it on every occasion. Really, their correspondence has suddenly become very extensive. And no wonder! "One peep" is convincing enough. The "pirate" idea has been carried out as the pirate is the class mascot. At the top of the paper stands a daring, blood-cuddling, savage-looking pirate with one foot upon the treasure chest. The numerals "30" are in big figures on the sides. Look out for the "Pirate Sophs"!

W. A. A.'S ENTERTAINED
ON HALLOWE'EN NIGHT
GHOSTS APPEAR

Hallowe'en! What a volume of meaning there is in this one word. The mere mention of it brings to our minds the dark night on which ghosts, goblins, and witches hold their annual revel.

The Hallowe'en which has recently passed was a realization to the imaginations of at least the members of the Athletic Association and their guests.

In front of the Library steps, there gathered after dinner a band of strange beings. There were clowns in their many-colored costumes, ready to afford fun by their jests; there were ghosts galore with their pale faces illumined by the light of the moon; and there was even a witch, garbed in black and ready to fly to the moon on her ever-ready broomstick.

As soon as the assembly was complete, a call was issued, commanding that all should march single file into the dark forest (the grove).

When the middle of the wood was reached, fires and pretty decorations were perceived. To the first fire, the creatures went by couples. On the way delicious punch was served. At the fire Ruth Bowden told some

MISS GRAYDON
CALLED HOME
BECAUSE OF ILLNESS OF MOTHER

Miss Mary Graydon of the Latin department of Meredith College was suddenly called to her home in Columbia, South Carolina, Thursday morning by the illness of her mother. Mrs. Graydon has been suffering with heart trouble for some time and because of a more serious attack Miss Graydon was called to her. The latest reports show that her mother is much better and we hope that she will recover rapidly.

ALPHA GAMMA

Mrs. William Franklin Armstrong entertained the members of the Alpha Gamma Ro Fraternity of State College at her home in Raleigh on Wednesday night at 8:15 with a candy pull. Several of the Meredith girls were invited. Musette Kitchin, Marguerite Mason, Dorothy Satterfield, and Irine Vinson.
