WHAT WE THINK

COLLEGE SUPERLATIVES CHOSEN

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN ELECTION

During the past several weeks, nominations have been made by the individual classes for the feature portions of the 1927-28 Annual. The following were nominees:

Most Entertaining: Janie Burns, '29, of Roxboro, N. C.

Most Charming: Mildred Allen, '28, of Warrenton, N. C.; Hazel Bumgardner, '30, Hester Kitchin, '29, of Scotland Neck, N. C.

Most Stylish: Annette Boney, '29, of Wallace, N. C.; Hesta Kitchin, '29, of Scotland Neck, N. C.; Davie Belle Eaton, '29, of Winston-Salem, N. C.

Most Athletic: Mary Browning, '28.

Most Graceful: Annette Boney, '29, of Wallace, N. C.; Hazel Bumgardner.

Most Musical: Dot Turlington, '30 of Salemburg, N. C.; Janie Burns, '29, of Roxboro, N. C.

Most Intellectual: Ruth Bowden, '28, of Raleigh, N. C.; Katherine Maddry, '28, of Raleigh, N. C.; Bess Thomas, '28, of Ramseur, N. C.

Rendered Most Service to Meredith: Katherine Maddry, '28, of Raleigh, N. C.; Mabel Claire Hoggard, '28, of Ahoskie, N. C.; Madeline Elliott, '28, of Edenton, N. C.

At a Student Body meeting on Monday night, each nominee was presented, and a secret ballot was then cast. A final counting of votes showed the following to be chosen from the list of nominations:

Most Entertaining—Janie Burns
Most Charming—Mildred Allen
Most Stylish—Davie Belle Eaton
Most Athletic—Mary Browning
Most Graceful—Annette Boney
Most Musical—Dot Turlington
Most Intellectual—Bess Thomas
Most Serviceable—Madaline Elliott

WORK OF CENTENNIAL CAMPAIGN SHIFT TO SOUTHEASTERN DISTRICT

DR. BREWER SPOKE TO CHURCHES OF WILMINGTON LAST SUNDAY

The great work of putting the Centennial Campaign "over the top" is being engaged in by more and more Baptists throughout the entire state. The great movement was launched in and around the Raleigh district in October. Headquarters are now being shifted to other sections of the state, chief among them being the Southeastern District.

On Saturday morning, November 6, Dr. Brewer spoke in the First Baptist church of Wilmington. His subject was of course connected with the launching of the campaign in that church and city. In the evening he addressed the members of the Temple church of that city on the same subject. Madaline Elliott and Magel Claire Hoggard as four-minute speakers, accompanied him and spoke at both the morning and the evening services, as well as at Sunday school and B. Y. P. U.

"IN DUTCH"—A VERY CLEVER STUNT SOPHOMORES FIND OUT STUNT BUT '31 GETS OUT OF DUTCH

Have you ever been in Dutch with your lover? Have you ever been "In Dutch" with another class? 'Fess up now, be fair with us for really we were.

You know fond lovers always have mistakes for as we have all found out true love never runs smooth. Well, to tell you the truth, it is better to be "In Dutch" and experience all the bumps and hard hits of love than never to experience it and in the outcome to have nothing—not even the one you really did like.

The following is an account of a love affair in which the parties concerned got "In Dutch"—but really the outcome is amazing.

Mary and David went to a masquerade and they both wore Dutch costumes and white masks. Two other sweethearts, Jimmy and Helen, went to the same masquerade, dressed in Dutch costumes, but wore black masks. By some mistake the boys talked to the wrong girl and as you have experienced, I suppose, the young ladies were really angry but after much explaining the lovers were happy again.

Then Helen met Mary and they decided to exchange masks to see if the boys really could tell the difference. Then by chance the boys met and exchanged masks. Really, how do you imagine it came out? Well, as love always finds a way, Mary and David were amazed to find that they were together, and to the surprise of Helen and Jimmy they still had each other.

But what about being "In Dutch" with the class—the Sophomore Class? Well, it's just this way, they had found out our stunt and we were trying to get another, but after these couples went to the masquerade and the lover's escapade turned out so well, we decided to give "In Dutch."

PULLEN BELVIN TO REPRESENT TOWN STUDENTS ON S. G. COUNCIL

TOWN GIRLS CLUB ORGANIZED—OTHER OFFICERS ELECTED

There are about seventy-five of our girls who are town students. The President of the Student Government, Catherine Maddry, called a meeting a few days ago, and the girls elected Pullen Belvin as President. This meeting was called in order to have a town student representative on the Student Government Council. Miss Belvin will also be the Student Council Representative.

A call meeting of the Town Girls' Club, as this organization is called, was held on Monday. The following officers were elected:

Vice President—Martha Medlin.
Secretary—Alice Dowd.
Treasurer—Bessie G. Gill.

At this meeting the girls decided to have a picture of the class in the annual. Here's hoping the town students will become more interested in Meredith!

JUNIORS WIN CUP FOR FIRST TIME IN HISTORY OF MEREDITH

SENIORS HAD ALWAYS WON BEFORE—WINNING STUNT ABOUT MODERN HENRY VIII

"Who will win the cup?" was the question asked in last week's issue of the Twig. Obviously, it was an important question for it was asked in the main head-line on the front page. The question, however, was not half so important as the answer which is given in the heading of this item, for only one class can have the honor of being the first to win the cup during any year other than the senior year and we think that every one is glad that it has now ceased to be almost a custom for the Senior class to get the cup. Hereafter, no one will be saying, as they have been saying for these many years, "Oh, why hope for it? You know the Seniors will get it," and there will really be a point of contest and hence some incentive for really hard work. For these reasons, if for no others, we are glad that the Juniors won.

Well, what's going to happen Saturday night? Rumors have been going around about strange happenings here! Moonlight; boys; hidden treasure, perhaps pirate gold; fun! good times—all this has been whispered of Saturday night.

But, why the deep, dark mystery? Here's the secret! The Meredith College B. Y. P. U. are going to entertain their brother Unions from Wake Forest at a moon light treasure hunt! Come on, girls! Let's all go and give these Wake Forest boys the time of their lives.

The stunt which the Juniors presented was of course original, including all the music and songs, and it had a really historical value. The name of the stunt was "Oh Henry!" and it brought out the fact that Henry VIII was quite ahead of his time. In the first scene three college boys entered a dormitory room

SOPHOMORES WIN SECOND PLACE

"PIRATE LOVE" A CAPTIVATING ROMANCE ABOUT A TRIP TO EUROPE

CLASS OF '30 ALSO WON SECOND PLACE LAST YEAR

For the second time in its short life, the Class of '30 has won second place in the Annual Stunt Night contest of the Meredith W. A. A.

The dagger-shaped programs of the Sophomores were in keeping with the class mascot, a jaunty and captivating pirate with dagger in hand.

"Pirate Love" is a clever little romance written by the Sophomore stunt committee with snappy songs by Margaret Craig and set to music by Glennie Paul.

The time is 1906. The first scene is on board the S. S. Cretic, two days out from New York. Miss Ida Poteat, Margaret Craig, dressed in one of the Poteat dresses of that time, is chaperoning six Meredith girls to Europe.

The scene changes to a street restaurant in Paris three weeks later. Betty (Hazel Bumgardner) and Bob Van Dyke (Pauline Kitchin), whose father owns the Yellow Star Line, have fallen in love, a situation which worries Miss Ida very much.

On board a pirate ship! How thrilling! But how dreadful, too! However, the six bloodthirsty pirates capture our hearts with their song,

"Wild and wooly are we,
Fierce pirates of the sea.
We capture fair ladies
And scare them like Hades,
But all the time they are free.
We brandish our daggers high
And wave them toward the sky,
We sail the deep,
For prey we seek,
And now we've won our prize."

The pirates vanish as the six girls enter with their hands bound. Miss Ida is indignant at the outrage.

"The idea of being captured by pirates in this day and time! Why, it's preposterous!"

The pirates reënter. Betty recognizes the leader as Bob Van Dyke, and

MISS GRAYSON A WELCOME VISITOR HERE THIS WEEK

TO BE PRESENT AT ALDA GRAYSON B. Y. P. U. MEETING WEDNESDAY NIGHT

We are very fortunate in having as our guest for this week, Miss Grayson, who is a return Missionary from China. She is one of our own Meredith girls, and all of us love her very dearly—especially the Alda Grayson B. Y. P. U. which bears her name. We are hoping she will enjoy her visit with us, for we are happy to have her come back to her Alma Mater. She will be present at the Alda Grayson Union Wednesday night, social room first floor "B." Each girl has a cordial invitation to visit our Union and meet our friend. May each girl avail herself of the opportunity of becoming acquainted with her and her work.

'28 PRESENTS "A FRAME UP"

DEALT WITH CLASSICAL PICTURE ORIGINAL IN MUSIC AND IDEA

"A Frame Up" was presented by the Senior class and perhaps it was the title that held a jinx on '28's luck for that night. The whole idea of the stunt was very different from the usual stunt and was worked out very cleverly and with a marked degree of originality. The stunt was a one act performance and prevented a great deal of the boring time for the audience which comes from long waits in between scenes and acts.

The funny paper with its comics proves much more interesting to this little boy than the picture study book his mother has so laboriously sought to interest him in. On her departure from the room, out comes the funny sheet and then you find yourself laughing, in spite of all, with this boy. A child's imagination is of the wildest and most extreme nature usually and so the dream of this little boy is very fantastic but vivid and real to the on-lookers. As soon as sleep claims the child in come six little elves who continually cause a stir and are in motion on the stage, quickly they dress the little boy in a suit like theirs and he then participates in all their antics, which were always interesting and very good to the last minute. One by one the classical pictures studied by the little boy appear, and after each one comes a comic. The last classic is "Hope" sitting on top of the world—so Rosie said. Archie and Rosie, as lovers, loving as ever, then take

DR. GREAVES DIES SUDDENLY BELOVED PASTOR OF TABERNACLE BAPTIST CHURCH TAKEN AWAY

Every one was tremendously shocked at the news of Dr. Greaves' sudden death Wednesday morning. He was busy in the Master's work until the end, having attended a social meeting at his church on Tuesday night. He had endeared himself to Meredith girls on his frequent visits to conduct chapel exercises and he was very well known for his optimistic and sunny disposition. Those of us who attended the Tabernacle Baptist Church know what a powerful preacher he was and have felt the strength of his personality. We feel that we have lost a wonderful friend but we are thankful for the inspiration of such a life as his.

The whole student body and faculty of Meredith College wish to extend their deepest heart-felt sympathy to the family and especially to our classmate and friend, Mary Ruth.
