September with its Labor Day (the day that is always set for the opening of Meredith) October with its Halloween, have come and gone, and November with its Thanksgiving Day has come. Isn't it a grand and glorious feeling this morning to be able to say "This is Thanksgiving Day"! As a group, we have so many things to be thankful for, from the handsome new walks in the court, to the turkey which we are anticipating for dinner today, that we won't attempt the impossible task of enumerating them; but merely sign off with the wish that this Thanksgiving Day will be the happiest day of everybody's whole year—that is, until Christmas!

The Twig is seriously considering adopting the slogan—"Make The Twig staff; we guarantee you your class presidency in one year." For facts to prove the advisability of this statement, consider the fate of three of our staff within one year. After scarcely one year's conscientious service on the staff of this paper, Marion Fiske, was elected President of the Junior class. History records the same facts concerning Mildred Allen, President of the senior class, who last year was assistant business manager on the staff. At the beginning of the year, we went out into the "highways and hedges" and brought in Sarah Briggs, member of the class of '31. At a recent meeting of the Freshman class, she was singled out from among that group approximately

Dear Sadie:

Well, Sadie, it has sho been one long time since I writ you an epistle. But goodness! Dontcha know I was bein' trained one time and I been trained some more now. I been reading a book called Eddie Ket and it don't have one thing about no Eddie in it only 'bout how to hold your fork and such stuff. Any ways I'm writing now.

Sadie, they is been some queer doin's around here. One day some girls come to my "sweet" and asked me to come to Jim and play basket-ball. I didn't know who was "Jim" or what was "basket ball", but I went! Law, Sadie, here I had got all dressed up for this here "Jim" and it was just a building named after James somebody and called "Jim" for short. Don't that beat all? But, not ALL Sadie! You oughta see this basket ball business! Two girls run out on the floor and stick their hands up in the air. Two other girls go stand back of them. A lady comes out there with a round football and throws it up in the air between these two girls while she blows a whistle. They try to see how far they can bat the ball while the other two run where they think it's gonna fall. One of them fires it at four people standing at one end. They slide around and fight for it. Then the one that has fit the hardest throws it through a hoop with skeeter nettin' around it what is hooked to a shelf in the air. Then they blows the whistle while everybody hollers and it all be-gins again! Some people is so dumb! Not for me, Sadie! I'm a dignified woman!

I'm going to some kinda court now to play tennis or something. If I meet the queen I'll tell her you said "hey." Here's the girls I'm going with now. So goodbye for a while.

Always agectionatly,
Myra.

"Say, Mister, I'll give you $10 for your rabbits. Come, I'll add one bit . . . two bits . . . three bits. Can't you speak?"

"Keep on talking."—Paris Rire.

160 strong and made class president.

The staff extends to her its heartiest congratulations, and warns the other staff members who are not seniors to be prepared at any time to assume the presidency of your class.

MEMBERS OF MISS M. L. JOHNSON'S S. S. CLASS DOING SUNSHINE WORK

VISIT OLD LADIES' HOME AND PLAN TO DO DEFINITE WORK THANKSGIVING

The members of Miss Mary Lynch Johnson's Sunday school class of the First Baptist church, which is composed of Juniors and Seniors from Meredith and Peace colleges, are manifesting much interest in Sunshine work.

On the fourth Sunday afternoon of last month a number of the members visited the Old Ladies Home bringing to these dear old ladies a program which cheered them and made them feel several years younger. The girls went away looking forward to the time when they might again visit that home.

At present the class is planning to do definite work during the Thanksgiving holidays. A large basket of fruits, nuts, and candies will be taken to a needy family and many useful articles will be distributed among those in need. The class aims to emphasize Sunshine work not only during holidays, but during the entire year.

ALDA GRAYSON UNION WINS B. Y. P. U. CUP

Last year, in order to inspire the girls to better records and thus better B. Y. P. U. work, a contest between the unions was begun. At the end of every six weeks, a silver loving cup was presented to the union making the highest per cent, measured by the eight point record system and including, in addition, points for reading the Biblical Recorder.

The Pearl Johnson B. Y. P. U., by earnest effort, won and kept the loving cup during the entire year, until the last six weeks. Meanwhile, the other unions were giving her a close race and at the end of these last six weeks, Alda Grayson had surpassed all other unions in records. Accordingly, Pearl Johnson surrendered her claim to the cup to Alda Grayson.

This year the contest, by reason of its success last year, was continued. Last Wednesday night at General Assembly, the curiosity of those who had glimpsed the cup was high. "I won-
