"ICEBOUND"!

Wake Forest Boys Come Over To Entertain Seniors

ASTRO HALL A SCENE OF GAYETY
SNOW AND RAIN DOES NOT BOTHER BOYS

MEREDITH GIRLS ENJOY
ENTERTAINMENT

Snow and rain did not cut "any ice" with the Wake Forest Seniors when it came to acting host to the Meredith Seniors. For about eight o'clock Saturday night, the "Wake Boys" came "floating" in and were welcomed at the door by Nell Coffey, Eula Hodges, and Eloise Greenwood who directed them to the Astro Hall. The Hall was attractively decorated in Wake Forest colors, gold and black, and upon entering every boy was immediately made more welcome by the class of '28.

The most interesting amusement was the "conversational dates" directed by Charlotte Curtis. In this way the boys were able to meet all the girls and were also given a few seconds to debate on given subjects. Some of the subjects as announced by Charlotte were:

"Is June the first too early for men to put on straw hats?"

"Should a girl use cosmetics?"

"Do gentlemen prefer blondes and why?"

"Is a girl with dimples better looking than a girl without them?"

And, "Should women study law and men domestic science?"

The remainder of the evening was spent by dating of another nature during which delicious salad and ice courses and punches were served. Already our "bed-time hour" had passed, so Mildred Allen, President of Meredith Class of '28, in behalf of her classmates, bid our hosts goodnight; assured them that the evening had been greatly enjoyed.

TRIPS OF FOUR MINUTE SPEAKERS

CAUSE OF MUCH EXCITEMENT—TWO LARGE CAROLINA
BUSSES CHARTERED

What caused all the excitement this past week-end? Not the Senior party—but the trip that was given to fifty Meredith girls! Think of it—two large Carolina busses freighted with 4 minute speakers, going to various churches throughout Eastern Carolina, carrying their messages of inspiration.

"Icebound" the Title of Phi Play

WONDERFUL PLAY TO BE GIVEN NEXT
SATURDAY NIGHT

PLAY HAD A LONG RUN IN NEW YORK—HAS TO DO WITH COLD PERSONALITIES

Here's your chance girls to entertain your beaux at a delightful play! Are you going to see "Icebound" Saturday, December 10? Be sure to—it's simply wonderful.

The play won the Pulitzer Prize for 1923, and had a long run in New York with Robert Ames as star.

"Icebound" has to do with cold personalities rather than a cold, frigid climate. A hard, cold mother is dying upstairs. A group of hard, cold children, caring for nothing but money, are waiting downstairs—like "crow buzzards"—to pounce upon her property. But after she is dead, it is revealed that she left her fortune to her servant girl—on one condition. The condition is to be kept a secret, and to carry the condition out she must reform the youngest son and marry him. She loves the son and he in turn becomes her servant. Sometimes he rebels—while the other "crow buzzards" are still trying to pounce on the fortune. Then the frozen hearts begin to thaw and a new light begins to shine on the will.

Come now and see this entangled novel with a romantic ending!

MEREDITH GIRLS TO PLAY SANTA TO LITTLE GIRLS

PACKAGE ROOM FLOODED WITH DOLLS—DOLLS TO BE DRESSED
VERY ATTRACTIVELY

Last Sunday morning at the First Baptist Sunday school we were reminded of the near approach of Christmas more than ever before when Prof. Heck told us about the dolls that we were to begin dressing. Then on Tuesday morning we found our package room flooded with these dolls of all kinds and sizes waiting for us to come and claim them as our own. Now these children are in the hands of the girls to be dressed as attractively as possible. We expect to have all their dresses made and ready to take them dressed up to Sunday school with us the Sunday before we go home for the holidays. At that time each girl will be given a name of some "little girl" in or near her community to whom she will take her doll. Heretofore we have dressed dolls for the orphanage and hospitals, but this time we want to take them in person to some child who will not get a doll from "Santa." In this way we hope to take a little happiness and the real Christmas spirit to homes which are not so fortunate. We enjoy working with these dolls, and most of all we are happy that we can make someone else happy and glad at this Christmas time.

RECITAL BY
OS-KE-NON-TON

UNUSUAL RECITAL ATTRACTS MANY PEOPLE—BARITONE
SINGS IN INDIAN LAN-GUAGE AT HUGH MORSON
HIGH SCHOOL

Quite an unusual song-recital was that given by Os-ke-non-ton (Running Deer) of the Mohawk Tribe, Bear Clan. Two busses of Meredith students went to the Auditorium of the Hugh Morson High School, Friday, December 2, 2:45 o'clock to hear this baritone sing in the Indian language and tell some of the folk-lore of various tribes.

The program consisted of the following numbers:

a. The Coming of Montezuma (Zuni)—Troyer.

b. From an Indian Village (Blackfeet)—Lieurance.

c. The Scalp Dance (Omaha)—Loomis.

d. Inketunga's Thunder Song (Omaha)—Farwell.

2

a. Invocation to the Sun God (Zuni)—Troyer.

b. The Sun Dance (Sioux)—Grunn.

c. Hunting Song (Cliff Dwellers)—Troyer.

d. Song of the Deathless Voice (Dakota)—Farwell.

NEW CLUB ORGANIZED

MARTHA MEDLIN ELECTED PRES-IDENT—ANNIE REA MCGOUGAN AND LOUISE SULLIVAN
OTHER OFFICERS

A meeting of those eligible for membership in a Dramatic Club was called Wednesday morning, November 23 to discuss the organization of such a club. The girls voted unanimously in favor of this club. Dramatics have been sadly neglected on Meredith campus and we welcome a Dramatic Club which will furnish excellent training for girls interested in this line of work. At this meeting Martha Medlin was elected president of the club. It was also decided that the club should have regular meetings on the first and third Monday nights of each month.

The Dramatic club met again on Monday evening, November 27, to complete the organization of the club and discuss plans for the work of the club. The following officers were elected: Vice President, Annie Ree McGougan, Secretary and Treasurer, Louise Sullivan. Much interest and enthusiasm was shown at this meeting, and every member is ready to put forth her best effort to make the club a great success this year.

MEREDITH NIGHT OB- SERVED AT ART EXHIBIT

NUMBER GIRLS SEE DISPLAY THROUGH KINDNESS OF
MRS. ARRINGTON

Wednesday evening, November 31, was Meredith night at the Art Exhibit of paintings and sculptures given in the Sir Walter Hotel. At seven-thirty an overfilled bus—a quite common sight at Meredith left with a party of girls, art students and others, who were chaperoned by Misses Ida Potcat and Mary Tillery. After the usual bumps, changing of cars, and bumps again, they arrived, a little the worse for wear and just bit subdued in spirits. Upon entering the Virginia Dare ball room they found themselves in a perfect sea of pictures; large ones, small ones, bright and sunny ones, paintings with a vagueness of atmosphere, and some so natural that one wanted to touch them to see if they were real. It was quite overwhelming and one quickly realized why this collection was said to be made up of some of the very finest examples of American Art.

After finding seats it was quite absorbing to choose individuals out of the incoming crowd and imagine that he or she was one of the artists. Later, however, a little to their disappointment, they found that there were no women artists present, but at least it was consoling to see them represented by so many pictures. But

STATE SOPHS PAINT NUMERALS

AMID YELLS AND CHEERS MERE-DITH SOPHS AND SENIORS
WACH GLORIOUS '30
PAINTED

Zip! Zip! Zee.
Who are we Meredith Sophs
Yes sir ree!

Rah! Rah! Ru!
Who are you
State Sophomores Tried and true

Thus Meredith was made aware that the Sophomores of the State Wolf Pack had come to paint the glorious numeral "30" so that that all the world might know of the existence of the class of '30. Congregated on the porch to the right of the Library Building, Meredith Sophs with their President Salinda Perry watched and cheered Lewis Upchurch and his Sophs as they painted the red and white numeral.

The Senior Class helped their little sisters out with songs and yells. They even yelled for their "little State Brothers."

Margaret Peele led the cheering for the Meredith girls and great excitement filled the hearts of all the girls who participated in the yells.

In one short hour the painting was finished but every Sophomore will continue to thrill as she views that lovely numeral—so State Sophs here's a cheer to you.

A Meredith College Faculty Program Feature of Broad- casting Station

STATION WPTF SENDS OUT INTERESTING PROGRAM

MANY MEREDITH TEACHERS
ON PROGRAM

A Meredith College faculty program was the feature of broadcasting from station WPTF Monday night from 7 to 8. The program was planned by the music department of Shaw University.
