search of a new hat, prepar a trip to Raleigh to hear Presider Coolidge speak, and particular when more than a week aft Easter, the representative of a co tain prominent firm drew up a con tract concerning The Oak, in which provisions were made for the enlargement of the paper in consistence with the gift recently received. The staff thoroughly enjoyed preparing the feature articles, which we feared frequently appeared quite ridiculous and absurd; we appreciated the occasional word of commendation concerning it which has come to our ears and we sincerely hope that the majority of you entered into the spirit of our fictitious issue and received the hearty laugh from the reading of it which we intended for you. And this is no April Fool!
