Mysterious Notes Contain Delightful Invitation

MISS WELCH HOSTESS
AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

INTERESTING ENTERTAINMENT
AND DELIGHTFUL EATS

When lunch time came around last Thursday several girls found mysterious notes at their places in the dining room. On each note was a flower, but the words inside were best of all, for they were an invitation to a birthday party. Miss Welch thus announced her intention of being hostess to all the girls who claim September as their birth-month. There wasn't an old girl who had forgotten how much she had enjoyed her last birthday party nor a new girl who wasn't filled with anticipation.

People whose birthdays fall in some month other than September probably wondered why the dining room was all lighted up at ten o'clock that night. If they had been interested enough to investigate, they would have found a large group of girls at one end of the dining room. The faculty members as well as students enjoy having a birthday party. Miss Welch remembered that and so had as faculty guests, Misses Parker, Herndon, Ellen Brewer, Anne Eliza Brewer, and Mlle. Pascal.

Miss Welch seemed to think our minds were made to use, for she offered a very charming little hat to the guest asking the cleverest conundrum. There were easy conundrums and hard conundrums, but Miss Anne Eliza Brewer asked the hardest one and received the hat.

While conundrums were being asked no one thought of sitting down, but when we did look for chairs we found they formed one large circle. In the center of the circle stood a table. On Morning Watch!

AN INSPIRATION
FOR THE DAY
EVERY MORNING AT 7:30.

Girls! Y. W. A. invites and urges you to come to Morning Watch! Why not begin the day in the right way by assembling with the other girls in your dormitory just before breakfast every morning to read God's word and sing His praises? In every day there come little troubles that require strength and courage to meet, and Morning Watch will give you just the strength you need for the day. There is an inspiration that you get from this worship early in the morning that will repay you for all the few minutes of sleep you might lose.

There are four morning watches on our campus every morning; in the social rooms of first floor A, first floor B, first floor D, and third floor C. We urge you to come and worship with us every morning at 7:30.

Wake Forest-Carolina Game Causes Much Excitement

CAROLINA SNATCHES
STARTLING SCORE

MANY MEREDITH GIRLS ATTEND

Wake Forest vs. Carolina!
Snappy News! Everybody excited over a big game of the year. From early morning until early afternoon cars whizzed down the road—Chapel Hill bound!

The game between two big colleges of North Carolina is a game arousing a great deal of interest. Yet this year it must be admitted that the interest was greater before the game than either during it or after it. In spite of the fact that for the past four years Wake Forest had snatched the honors from Carolina, this year Carolina completely ran over Wake Forest making up in one game the scores of the games lost in past years.

The score could be foretold almost from the first touchdown. Wake Forest has material in the making but not quite the experienced players that could battle successfully against the wiser Carolina team. Team play on Carolina's side was well timed and efficient. Touchdown followed touchdown. When the first team had done their share, second team men were put in and finally a few third team men were played. Wake Forest got some hard knocks it seemed. One player was knocked out, and though for the remainder of the game he seemed a trifle dazed he has recovered now, we have heard.

Wake Forest rooters seemed dispirited but hope was held that the ma-

B.Y.P.U. Rally Day Held in Grove

MANY ORIGINAL
STUNTS GIVEN

MARSHMALLOW TOAST AT CON-CLUSION

The annual B. Y. P. U. Rally Day program was held in the grove Wednesday afternoon at four-thirty o'clock. Each B. Y. P. U. gave an original stunt which consisted of songs, one act plays and readings. Pauline Powell was the exact imitation of Clara Bow in the stunt given by the Alda Grayson. The Foy Willingham could never have chosen one better than Pauline Kitchin to represent Dr. Fix-Em-Quick, and his able nurse, Evelyn McCall. The success of Dr. Fix-Em-Quick was great until the end when poor "Heck," the dirty street waif, Roberta Royster and his dog "Speck" were admitted. "Heck" remained the same but "Speck" was transformed into a means of relieving his master's hunger. Those from the Winnie Rickett gave a doll quartet. As the Charles E. Brewer was the baby union it gave a kid chorus. The other unions sang songs, and gave readings.

At the conclusion of the program those gathered enjoyed a regular old time marshmallow toasting.

IN ANTICIPATION OF STUNT NIGHT

DATE SET FOR
NOVEMBER THE 10TH

BOOST YOUR CLASS AND STUNT NIGHT!

Miriam Daughtry, president of the W. A. A. called a meeting of the class presidents Monday night to discuss Stunt Night, an annual affair, participated in by all four classes and one of the outstanding events of the year. Stunt night is sponsored by the Woman's Athletic Association, and the proceeds of the night go to that organization.

Until last year the Senior Class had always had the honor of winning the silver loving cup, given as a prize for the best and most original stunt. Last year the Junior Class of '23 won the cup with their stunt "Oh Henry!" a farce on the private life of Henry the Eighth. The date for stunt night this year is now set for November, the tenth, and as there is quite a bit of extraordinarily good talent in the school, it should afford a most entertaining evening. There is a chance for any class to win the cup now, thanks to the record breaking class of '29.

This year no rented costumes will be used. Originality, wit, and cleverness take first place in judgment of the stunts. Boost your class and Stunt Night! Invite your boy-friend!

Initiation of Astros

OCTOBER 6
MEMORIAL DATE

SOMETHING TO LOOK FORWARD TO

A-S-T-R-O! Astrotektion! October 6, 1928 is the fatal date! Fatal? Yes, because on that day occurs the far-famed and much talked of Astro initiation! Who wouldn't be excited!

All the old Astros are excited over welcoming the new girls! All the new girls are wondering what an Astro initiation is similar to. Well, it won't be long now! Next week this time you'll be a real Astro! 115 new girls have said "I'll be an Astro, too." To these girls we say—Welcome! We wish to include in that welcome all the richness and purity of the dear old white and gold! We're counting on you to rally round the standard! We've counting on you to help us keep those stars shining away up yonder in the sky! Make them glitter and gleam in all their glory.

Do we have a goat? Well, we do have a goat! Every Astro is familiar with that "Billy" with the old gold and white tied around his neck! We have an initiation, too. In due time you will be notified just when you're expected to make your presence conspicuous. It may be early—it may be late! But early or late—be there when that appointed moment arrives! You really have something to look forward to! Initiation day is a great day! Just the word—initiation makes you kinda tingle and say "What in the world will happen?" Don't be alarmed! There's no need for you to sign your last will and

Y. W. A. Study Course Being Given

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE IN UNIQUE FASHION

THREE INTERESTING BOOKS BY THREE CAPABLE TEACHERS

On Monday night, October 1, at dinner in the big dining-room all girls were asked to pause a while from eating while an important announcement was made. Marguerite Mason, president of the Y. W. A. after cordially inviting all the girls to attend the Y. W. A. Study Course at 6:45 that evening, said she wanted to give the girls a foretaste of what they would study about in the Study Course. Accordingly, she announced the name of the first book to be studied, "The Ministry of Women" and introduced the teacher, Mrs. Charles E. Maddry. Then a few of the characters from the book came in to greet the girls; Rebecca the charming, was represented by Evelyn McCall, Hannah and her little son by Martha Sherwood and Roberta Royster, and Queen Esther by Josephine Lyles. The next book to be taught was "Lottie Moon," the latest Missionary book on China to be taught by Mrs. L. B. Olive, a real live Missionary who has spent several years in China and is soon to return to her work. As a forecast of this book, Olean Bostic, Mary Leigh, and Elsie Parker dressed in Chinese costume showed some Chinese customs. The last book was "Why and How" called the "Readin', 'Ritin' and 'Rithmetic'" of Y. W. A. work, to be taught by Miss Dorothy Kellam, the State Young People's Leader. Miss Kellam, herself, dressed as a typical old-maid "school-marm" with glasses on the end of her nose and switch in hand chased her naughty students the long length of the dining room. Several girls dressed as little boys and girls, eating apples, chewing gum, etc. represented the students.

After dinner about 150 girls gathered in the college auditorium for the study course. They sang several Y. W. A. songs and then went to the various classes. All were enthusiastic in saying they would bring some one else with them the next night.

MYSTERY OF THE MAN IN THE GREY HAT SOLVED

NEW DEAN OF MUSIC
DEPARTMENT ARRIVES

VALUABLE ADDITION TO FACULTY

Readers of last week's issue of THE TWIG will be interested to learn that the mystery of the man in the grey hat has at last been solved. Professor Frank Eyer arrived Monday morning of this week to fill the place of Dr. Dingley Brown as Director of Music for the college. We are delighted to welcome him to Meredith as a member of our faculty.

Dr. Eyer is a native of Ohio, but since he has a summer cottage at Montreat, North Carolina, we feel that our state can almost claim him as her

SATURDAY EVENING ENTERTAINMENT AGAIN ENJOYED

HISTORICAL PROB-LEM SOLVED

RIVAL OF HOUDINI PRESENT

On Saturday evening, September 29, the Meredith girls were highly entertained with the presentation of two features, Why Queen Isabella Gave Columbus Her Jewels, and The Man of Mystery.

To those who have never heard of the discovery of America, the question of how Columbus got the money for his famous voyage in 1492 would be of slight interest. To those of us who have gone back and labored over dates and historical events of minor importance the above question was of vital interest. Some of us knew that Queen Isabella of Spain gave her jewels for this enterprise, but few have dared to go further to find the real reason which prompted the sacrifice. The personal lives of these two characters were revealed to the public in a most realistic fashion. We have heard that behind the life of every great man is the influence of some woman. Now, friends, give thanks to the jewelers for the jewels and to Venus for her foresight.

"The Man of Mystery," a traveler of the universe, and seer into the mysteries of the unknown, gave us a most fascinating entertainment. With his able assistant, Miss How-Can-She, he presented some works of Magic that Houdini himself would have marveled

Wingate Club Meets for Organization

OLD FRIENDSHIPS RENEWED

"Hail, hail, the gang's all here!" It was; and all the Wingate Junior College girls were happy as they got together for the first time Sunday evening, September 30, in response to the invitation of Thelma Tadlock and Martha Taylor, president of the club.

Lucile Walker was elected vice president and Ruth Preslar secretary for the coming year. Little Miss Elizabeth Ann Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Broadus Jones, of Wake Forest, was chosen mascot of the club. Plans were made for regular meetings of the club once each month.

The hostess served ice-cream and cake. The members lived over again in spirit the glad times of former college days as they sang the Wingate Alma Mater. There was joined in loving loyalty the remembrance of earlier friendships and contacts with the present ties of Meredith.

The following are members of the club: Martha Taylor, Thelma Tadlock, Eunice Rushing, Lucile Walker, Lillian Odom, Ruth Preslar, Alma Medlin, Meithel Medlin, Faye Bivens, Bessie Barker, Loretta Seawell, Zula Walters, Shellie Bennett, Martha Sherwood, Alma Hocutt, Ruth Williams, Hallie Jones, and Edna Earl Beddingfield.
