The "Little Theatre" Dramatic Club has started a successful year, by sponsoring "The Mouse-Trap," by William Dean Howells, in which the freshmen will make their debut on the Meredith stage. New Ideals and Aspirations for International Relations Club*ORGANIZATION; PROGRAMS PLANNED

The International Relations Club met Tuesday October 9. The plans and aspirations of the club were outlined by the president, Margaret Jones. This year the club hopes to come into a closer relationship with international affairs, to acquire a greater appreciation for history, and to become a more important unit on the college campus.

Efforts are being made to obtain a room solely for this club. The books that belong to the organization will be placed at the disposal of its members, as they will have access to the proposed club home at all times.

Interesting programs will be given at the monthly meetings. It is hoped that several noted lecturers may be secured during the course of the year. Socials will be given at various times, and the club will have a jolly good time together.

Both the old and new members manifested a lively interest in the club at its first meeting in 1928. Surely the International Relations Club with its enthusiastic members its capable leaders, and its coöperative faculty members will accomplish a great deal this year.

Call is Made for New Members in Home Service Band

The Home Service Band has completed its organization for the year, and is ready to carry out its various programs on Christian work. Its officers are president, vice-president, secretary, and chorister. Its membership is divided into two groups led by Mabel Beeker and Doris Hewlitt, each of which will give programs from time to time. The meetings occur every two weeks. The last meeting was held October 11, and the subject of the program was "How Can We Serve on Our Campus." Are there not more girls consecrated and loyal—who will join with the Home Service Band for study and practice in service?

Phi Society Plans
Reception October 20*MEN TO BE INVITED

The Philaretian Society held a most interesting meeting Monday evening in the society hall. The president, Sarah Newborn, welcomed the new members and made everybody feel "at home." Ethel Day, the secretary, called the roll and each member replied by telling her talent. Just watch the Phi programs. The new members have got talent! We'll run the blues away.

It was decided that fines would be charged of all members for being absent without a good excuse. We don't think we'll have to collect fines because all the Phis are loyal.

Every Phi just must have her society pin so the price list was given and orders taken for the pins.

Matilda Holleman was elected reporter for the society—to report the meetings and all Phi business to THE TWIG.

Last, but surely not least the Phis are to have an informal reception—and that real soon. In fact, Saturday night at 8 o'clock! Then to add more color to the affair or more cream to the pie, the members can have their friends, No, not girl friends—real gentlemen friends. The occasion promises to be a memorable one in the memory of each Phi.

The meeting adjourned and each member received an invitation to send "him."

The members of the B. S. U. Council and the Student Secretary want to use this method of thanking, publicly, the individuals who have contributed to the furnishing of the B. S. U. office. These gifts, some of which are permanent, and others loans for the year, have been a great help in making the office the attractive place which it now is. We are deeply grateful to those who have been so thoughtful and generous. The list of contributors and articles follows:

Dr. Brewer, curtains and draperies; Ruth Truesdell, book-ends; Marguerite Mason, pottery bowl; Mabel C. Hoggard ('28), copy of "Blue Boy"; Miss Parson, pottery jar; Miss Ferrell, floor lamp; Miss Stevens, one book; Miss Keith, 1 book; Mabel Beeker, a cushion and seven books; Elizabeth Apple, four books, one motto, tracts and pamphlets; Lillian Odum, copy of "Lone Wolf"; Miss Armstrong, Miss Welch, Miss Biggers, flowers; Mrs. Paul Davis (Winston-Salem), one picture.

for Writing*AWARDS MADE BY UNITED DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY

Miss Mabel Beeker of Leaksville, N. C. and Miss Winnie Wilborn of Roxboro, N. C. were recently awarded by the State United Daughters of the Confederacy ten dollars ($10) in gold for the best articles pertaining to the Confederacy in 1928.

Miss Wilborn wrote a very interesting article on "Jefferson Davis' Tour of North Carolina," while Miss Beeker wrote a poem entitled, "Our Men in Grey."

Since 1923 Miss Beeker has been the successful contestant for seven prizes. She is a member of the Anne Johns Chapter, the Junior organization of Leaksville.

Meredith is, indeed, proud of these young ladies and the wish of every student is for their success.

NOTICE!

November 1, 2, and 3 are the dates set for the 28th semi-annual meeting of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association. All of our publications at Meredith are members of the association. The executive committee may meet here Saturday morning to discuss plans for the coming convention. Walter Spearman, editor of The Tar Heel at U. N. C. is president of the N. C. C. P. A. this year, Alice Dowd is secretary and A. L. Parker, business manager of The Guilfordian, Guilford College is treasurer. One of the interesting addresses of the convention will be delivered by Dr. Daniels of Clemson on Thursday night.

MANY MEREDITH STUDENTS
PLANNING TO ATTEND*MISS BIGGERS TO HAVE A DISCUSSION GROUP*BASKET-BALL SEASON IN FULL SWING*GOOD MATERIAL IS FOUND THIS YEAR*TRAINING HAS BEGUN

Girls, do you realize that the basketball season is here and in full swing? Just come out to the courts some Monday or Thursday afternoon at 4:45 and support your team.

The freshmen are going to have a fine showing this year, with Mary Lee Seate as team manager. There is a lot of good material in their team, and with a little practice they will be hard to beat. We are all interested in seeing Lottie Belle Myers, "Jo" Higdon and Elizabeth Thornton shoot some goals.

The Sophomores have a peppy team, with a lot of their "old faithfuls" back on the job. Lois Arnette is the team manager, with Lib Ayscue and Ann Harris back. Margaret Spears is a fine representative of the new girls. The Sophs are certainly going out for the good old game, and their opponents are going to have to work hard to have a showing.

Margaret Peele and "Lib" Apple are leading the Juniors with the help of Enzelia Smart, a new girl. The Juniors are going to have a strong team if they work hard and get a few more to come out.

Since only a few of the Seniors are going out for basketball, they are going to have to put in some hard practice to uphold the reputation of their class. Frances Scarborough is the team manager and with the help of Miriam Daughtry will lead the team through.

Those going out will have to start to keep training right away, so get your slips from Miriam Daughtry as soon as possible. Those girls who haven't come out yet, come and back up your class.

Glee Club to Broadcast Over W P T F*CONCERTS TO BEGIN SOON

The Glee Club expects to broadcast soon.

The glee club has, in past years, given several programs over the radio. This year, under the direction of Mr. Eyer, they will begin their broadcasting earlier than usual. The program that is to be given over Station WPTF at an early date will consist of several numbers by a double quartet, two piano solos and one vocal solo.

This year, the glee club is much larger than it has been in previous years, and we are looking forward with

We are ready to go! Are you?

To be original—time flies! And the day of the B. S. U. Conference is drawing nearer and nearer. It really is a great occasion. Meredith girls are needed! We are to have special—very special buses. And the cost! Just ask some one on the B. S. U. if you are interested!

Since last week's Twig contained a schedule of the meeting only Meredith's part will be stated this week. Saturday morning our own Miss Biggers will have charge of one of the discussion groups. Saturday night the stirring missionary song "Oh, Zion Haste" will be pantomimed by some Meredith girls. Then the Meredith B. S. U. council will have a real council meeting to demonstrate just how it is done here. Also our president, Ruth Truesdell, will make a short talk.

If you haven't started thinking—wake up and think now! If you have not started planning—start now! It's never too late to begin!

Mars Hill ClubsEnjoy Picnic*STATE AND MEREDITH
CLUBS JOIN IN GOOD TIME*ZOO AND MERRY-GO-ROUND VISITED

The Mars Hill girls left Meredith at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. All of them wore sport dresses. At the end of the car line they were met by Gary Biggers and A. B. Kinney. There followed a happy walk through the beautiful campus of State to Pullen Park.

At the pavilion the Mars Hill boys awaited the arrival of the girls. Every one was excited. There was a happy discussion of old friends and old times.

The girls gave two yells and sang two songs. Then the boys responded with two snappy songs. Each person was putting spirit into the occasion.

The twenty-one couples then left the pavilion for a long stroll through the park in the twilight. The boys introduced the girls to the animals in the park, including the "angry" buffalo.

All the thoughts of college and its dignities were dismissed and the "kids" rode the merry-go-round.

After this there was a delicious supper. Every one lined up for a plate. For supper they served sandwiches, salad, pickles, ice-cream, punch and cake. For once all the girls and boys ton, had enough to eat.

Someone built a bonfire, and while the fire was burning, forty-two happy Mars Hill students sang their "Alma Mater."

Don't think that the Mars Hill Clubs of Meredith or State have forgotten the chaperones. They were wonderful. They are recommended by both the girls and boys for any occasion. The two clubs wish to thank Mrs. Smith, Misses Biggers and Cooper. Half of the fun that the girls had is due to the chaperones, and the other half they owe to the boys.
