Dr. Claude Halstead Van Tyne to Lecture Here in December

AUTHORITY ON THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION TO VISIT MEREDITH

WELL KNOWN ALL OVER WORLD AS HISTORIAN AND LECTURER

The lecture to be given early in December by Dr. Claude Halstead Van Tyne is eagerly anticipated by those who know anything of him. He is a very prominent historian, and a world-wide authority on the American Revolution.

He was originally from Teeumseh, Michigan, but his home is now in Ann Arbor. Now about sixty years of age, he is noted as an author as well as a lecturer. Two of his most famous books, "The American Revolution" and "The Causes of the War of Independence" are in the Meredith library. Among his other best-known works are "The Loyalists in the American Revolution," "School History of the United States," and "India in Ferment." He has studied at the University of Michigan, the University of Pennsylvania, Heidelberg, Leipzig, and Paris.

GENERAL DISORDER IN TWIG OFFICE MONDAY NIGHT

EDITORIAL STAFF SUFFERS MENTAL DILEMMA

On Monday evening several members of the student body remarked on the general disorder in the Publication Office and the harried expressions of the managing editors. If all the secrets of that office were only known, and if each and every person at Meredith could help bear the many troubles of the editorial staff, perhaps matters might be improved. But it has already been tested and proven that in all the activities of this world the responsibility rests on a few. And in this case the "few" were working and worrying, as usual. However last Monday night even more than usual. If towseled hair and lined foreheads portray inward disturbance, the most casual observer would be assured of the poor editors' mental dilemma. And the cause of all this? One should say causes! Stunt night is just over. All excitement has died out. Nothing is going to happen from now until Christmas. Not enough news to even fill up the front page. Why do such lulls come in the college term? There are French tests tomorrow that ought to be studied right away.—Then one bright editor decides to write an article to fill up space. She gets some paper out and settles herself. Ten seconds pass and she is still settling. Why don't ideas come at critical moments? Why do

SOCIETY DAY AT WAKE FOREST SATURDAY

PROGRAM IS PLANNED FOR A BUSY DAY

Society Day is almost here and the plans developing for the occasion tend toward a delightful as well as profitable day.

A debate between the two societies begins the program. The Euzelian debaters, Paul Caudill and Wade Brown, are to speak against the Philomathesian debaters, Wade Bostic and Roy Robinson. The Query is: "Resolved, That a three-fourths or nine-jury system is enough to render a verdict."

A football game affords pleasure for the afternoon. Wake Forest Freshmen and Wingate Junior College will vie for the honors. Judging from the article in the "Old Gold and Black," it is inferred that the girls are expected to yell their loudest for old Wake Forest.

Dinner follows the game. The boys and their guests will dine at the Williamson and Robertson clubs.

After dinner there will be an hour's intermission. No one will have trouble in filling up this hour!

Orations are next in order. The orators will be C. E. Baucom and W. F. Woodall, Euzelians, and T. S. Lawrence and J. R. Bender, Philomathesians.

The crowning feature of the day will be a reception which will be held in the gymnasium.

UNUSUAL TEA GIVEN BY MISSSES ELLIOTT, TRUESDELL, MASON AND BOSTIC

GIVEN IN HONOR OF WEEK-END GUESTS

ENTIRE STUDENT BODY AND FACULTY INVITED

Misses Madaline Elliott, Ruth Truesdell, Marguerite Mason, and Oreon Bostic were joint hostesses at one of the loveliest teas of the season, Saturday afternoon from 4:30 until 6:00 o'clock in the faculty parlors. This tea was given in honor of Miss Nancy McDaniel, Mr. Yates McDaniel, Misses Hortense Honeycutt, Elva, Martha, Julia and Katherine Davis; visitors at the college.

Misses Sarah Cummings and Louise Mumford met the guests at the door and introduced them to the receiving line composed of the guests of honor, Mrs. J. W. Bunn, Miss Nancy Bunn, Miss Mae Grimmer and the hostesses.

Miss Grace Lawrence and Mrs. R. E. Truesdell presided at the tea table, and were assisted in serving by Misses Sarah Briggs, Mary Lee, and Lois Arnette. The color scheme of green and yellow was carried out in both the refreshments and decorations.

A large number of Raleigh friends, visitors at the college, faculty members and students called during the afternoon.

JUNIOR CLASS WINS CUP FOR MOST ORIGINAL STUNT

STUNTS PRESENT PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE OF ALL LANDS

FRESHMEN WIN SECOND PLACE

December 8 to be Date of Astro Play

CHARACTERS CHOSEN AND PRACTICE BEGINS

The Astros have begun practice for the annual play, which is to be given Saturday, December 8. The try-out was held Monday night, and the characters were chosen. This play is one of the major productions held at Meredith during the year, and is being looked forward to greatly. The success of the Astro play last year promises that the one this year will be interesting also. Dr. Horton of Raleigh, who is well-known by all Meredith girls, is to coach the play. Everyone can be assured that the piece selected is an attractive one, and December 8 is a date to be anticipated.

"AIR-MINDED" STUDENTS ARE MAKING THEIR DEBUT

HARVARD FLYING CLUB ORGANIZED

Intercollegiate News Service

That the wheezing and coughing "collegiate" Ford must not have its sister conveyance in the air, is the warning of Mr. Edward P. Warner, Assistant Secretary of the Navy in charge of Aviation. Mr. Warner, in an address before the Third Intercollegiate Aviation Conference at Yale, pointed out the danger of flying with any but trustworthy planes.

College men are beginning to take to the air in appreciable numbers. The Harvard Flying Club and that at the University of Southern California are two of the most advanced student groups. The latter already owns several planes. European students, however, surpass the Americans in flying. One of the speakers at the conference cited a meeting in the Rhone River section last August where 400 planes were entered. Eight hundred pilots took part, ninety per cent of which were college men. College men won all of the prizes.

The popularity of flying has added a new prohibition to the list of "thou shalt nots" of the Wellesley College
