GRAPHOGRAMS

"Brightness even when absent" is not a motto that the college officials wish us to take. Please turn off your lights when you leave your room and be "economical" for Meredith.

"Campaigning against chewing gum" should begin at home is a statement made by some of our students. The editors should banish beech-nut from the Publications Room according to the appearance of that room on last Monday night!

There has been much comment among the students about the behavior of the Student Body in general at the lecture which we were required to attend last week. Many students have expressed the opinion that the order in the chapel was not what it should have been. Perhaps the disorder was due to the inability of some of the students to hear? A few students who criticized have said that some of the students' manners were very questionable to say the least. We wonder if these remarks were justifiable?

INSPIRATION

Have you ever noticed the riot of color in the woods just back of our class rooms? If you are lucky enough to room on the eastern side of the campus, the trees, just at this time of the year, dressed in their autumnal clothes and growing on a rather uneven hillside, inspire you to do your best in everything! The scene is one we should take advantage of; and there are many views just as beautiful and lovely around Meredith. The glowing sunsets that we have are unrivalled. One has only to look out to the west in the late afternoon to realize this. The landscapes and scenery of Meredith are ones from which we can obtain enthusiasm and joy in life.

THE INTERNATIONAL MIND

We feel sometimes that we are rather shut off from the affairs of the world in the busy routine of college life. While we are studying the products of ancient years, the literature and history, we forget that men are accomplishing things today and that things are now happening. We should read more modern novels, and more newspaper and magazine articles. By reading more of the thoughts and actions of the people of the world we may grasp more of the international mind. The international mind is the attitude of mind which all leaders of the world wide movement for peace are striving to establish. Many thinking men and women of today have expressed the opinion it will take the world at least five hundred years to again reach the point in progress which it had reached in 1914. This is sufficient reason for the attempt to further friendly relations between nations; the best way to secure peace is to develop world wide ways of thinking.

IN AND OUT OF MEREDITH

Miss Ida Poteat has returned from a few days stay in Washington, D. C. Miss Katherine Maddry was at the college for a few minutes this week-end.

The "Sunshine Group" of Tabernacle Church reported a profitable visit to the State Prison Farm on Sunday afternoon. The grateful reception assured them that they were really helping the inmates by showing them an attitude of love rather than pity.

Miss Hazel Wilder, of the class of '28 spent the week-end at the college with her sister, Mattie.

The Mars Hill girls were given a pleasant surprise on Sunday morning when one of their beloved teachers, Mr. Stringfield, paid them a short visit.

The entire Student Body and Faculty is delighted that Marion Fiske has sufficiently recovered to return to the college infirmary from the hospital.

Jane Greene spent Sunday at her home in Raleigh.

We regret that it is necessary for Miss Ruth Armstrong of the music faculty to leave college until after Christmas on account of the illness of her mother.

Miss Welch is recovering after an operation according to the reports received. Her address is the Methodist Hospital, Hattiesburg, Miss.

Miss Grace Lawrence, Dean of Women, spent a few days recently at her home in Salisbury to be with her invalid father.

Mrs. Fiske, Marion's mother, has left the college. All of the girls sincerely regret to see her leave.

UNUSUAL NUMBER OF SCHOLARSHIPS AND PRIZES OPEN

The school of Mines and Geology has only one position to offer, that of teaching fellow in Geology at $450.

The College of Arts and Sciences has the following vacancies among its fellowships: one in the teaching of Bacteriology at $750; two in the teaching of Botany at $750; one in teaching Business Administration at $545; three in the teaching of Chemistry at $750; eight in the teaching of English at $750; one in the teaching of Foreign languages at $750.—The Tar Heel.

MISS HERNDON TALKS AT MEETING OF INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

When the Constitution was drawn up, measures were enacted to remedy this situation. Foreigners may own oil wells provided they will sign an agreement not to go to their governments for aid in case of difficulties. This ownership is limited to fifty years from the time the act was passed; thus, Mexico is looking forward with longing and eagerness to the time when these years will have rolled around and Mexico will be for the Mexicans.

Miss Herndon's talk was lucid and entertaining. It was heartily enjoyed by all of the large number present.

NEWS ITEMS

Miss Bertha Carroll spent Thursday night of last week at the college. She attended the Baptist State Convention and honored us with a little visit before returning to Chowan College where she is head of the English Department.

Mrs. Eugene Olive (Ivã Pearson) of Chapel Hill, called recently at the Alumnae office. She told us "Emily Caroline," aged two months, takes up a lot of her time.

Misses Ann Eliza Brewer and Mae Grimmer of Meredith College spent several days at High Point last week attending the Baptist State Convention.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. Osborne Lee, a daughter, Elizabeth Bobbitt, on July 9, 1928. Mrs. Lee was formerly Catherine Bobbitt, class of '25.
