STATE AND WAKE FOREST SOPHS ENTERTAINED BY MEREDITH SISTERS

'31'S' USED IN DECORATIONS AND PROGRAMS

LECTURES BY VARIOUS ARTISTS AND FIVE MINUTE DATES FEATURES OF PROGRAM

If all the years were Soph years, If all the days were Soph days, The parties for the Sophs we'd have— There'd be no parting of our ways.

The Meredith Sophs entertained the Sophs of State and Wake Forest Saturday night in Sophomore style. '31 displayed class spirit!

The exact reproduction of the water tank with the '31's painted on it occupied the center of the stage. Miniature '31's were everywhere and everybody wished every day was Soph day and every night the same.

Programs on which black water tanks bearing the numerals painted in yellow and red were given each guest. Ruth Phillips presided over the program. The party traveled to many European countries and heard many famous artists, among whom were Kitty Makepeace, Nell Baker, and Elizabeth Ayscue. Then in America the Painters gave a dance. After the journey lollypops in the shape of paint brushes were given to each guest by the painters. Punch and cakes were served during the evening.

Five minute dates were the next number on the program. Each boy was supposed to ask a girl for a date which was to last five minutes but sometime the couples liked each other so well that they did not pay any attention to the bell.

The time for departure came too quickly and the guests and hostesses lingered as they realized that the party was the last party that would be held while they were Sophomores.

Mrs. Dowell Entertains Library Assistants

GUESTS ENJOY A MAKE-BELIEVE JOURNEY TO IRELAND

ST. PATRICK SPIRIT MUCH IN EVIDENCE

Mrs. Dowell delightfully entertained the library assistants on Saturday evening, March 9, at her home on Chamberlin Street. An idea of St. Patrick's Day was carried out. Soon after the guests arrived they were given their "luggage" and a book in which to keep a record of their journey. Then the fun began with a trip to Ireland. The travelers kept a record of all they saw along the way. They visited several cities of interest. Went to the Blarney Stone, saw several things which were "As plain as the nose on ye face"; went to the Dublin Art Gallery where they saw some masterpieces of art; and later they took part in an Irish potato race. After this delightful refreshments were served. These also carried out the St. Patrick's Day idea. Everyone enjoyed the evening very much.

MONSIEUR LANUX TO LECTURE AT MEREDITH BY REQUEST OF MEREDITH AND STATE INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

NOTED WRITER, ORGANIZER AND LECTURER, AND AN AUTHORITY ON INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

Monsieur Pierre de Lanux, director of the Paris information office of the League of Nations, noted writer of the Life of Henry IV, Young France and New America and numerous other books, and a highly accomplished lecturer, will speak in the Meredith Auditorium on the evening of March 15, at 8:30 o'clock. Monsieur de Lanux is on a tour of America and is coming to Meredith is sponsored by the Meredith and State College International Relations Clubs. Too much cannot be said of the brilliant young lecturer, who with a versatility, characteristic of French leaders, is also famous as an editor, a practical organizer and executive, a linguist, and an internationalist. The subject of his lecture on the 15th will be Missions of the Great World Groups. The Clubs extend a cordial invitation to all those who desire to attend the lecture of M. Lanux.

Glennie Paul Elected Senior Class President

TALENTED MUSICIAN AND CAPABLE LITERARY STUDENT

HAS HELD OTHER IMPORTANT OFFICES

At a very important meeting of the Junior class, Glennie Paul of Beaufort, North Carolina received one of the greatest honors which can come to a girl at Meredith College—that of being elected president of the Senior Class.

Glennie has already proved her ability. She has acted as vice president of her class this year, and has

EDITH BUCHANAN ELECTED EDITOR-IN-CHIEF OF TWIG

ORIGINAL AND POSSESSED OF JOURNALISTIC ABILITY

MANAGING EDITOR OF THIS YEAR'S TWIG

Edith Buchanan of Sylva, North Carolina has been elected Editor of THE TWIG for the year 1929-30. Edith has been a most efficient managing editor for THE TWIG this year. Since she has been in Meredith she has been recognized as a girl with journalistic ability. And as for originality—Edith is full of it. Add to that the fact that she is a sturdy and dependable worker—that she is friendly and easy to work with and you have a most capable editor. All of those who know Edith feel that they can well intrust THE TWIG of 1929-30 to her and what is more—that she will give us an excellent paper!

MEREDITH HOLDS ANNUAL S. S. STUDY COURSE

THREE WELL-KNOWN TEACHERS HERE FOR A WEEK

MORE THAN ONE HUNDRED GIRLS TAKE ONE OF THE COURSES OFFERED

On Monday afternoon, March 11, at 5:30 o'clock a group of eager Meredith girls gathered in the Auditorium for the Annual Sunday School study course. The course of study was continued for a week with two classes a day. One from 5:30 to 6:00 o'clock and the other from 6:45 to 7:45. Three books were taught during the week. Mr. W. A. Harrell, Secretary of the Young People's and Adult's Department, taught The Young People's and Adult's Department. Mr. Perry Morgan, State Sunday School Secretary and an old friend of each Meredith girl, taught Building a Standard Sunday School. Miss Gladys Beck, State Elementary Sunday School Secretary, taught Working With Children. Meredith was indeed fortunate in having such well-known and capable teachers. Over a hundred girls signed up for one of the courses.

LITTLE THEATRE TO PRESENT "SHE STOOPS TO CONQUER"

GWYN LENOIR AND LOIS HARTNESS WILL HAVE LEADING ROLES

THIS PLAY IS FIRST STEP IN LITTLE THEATRE'S PROGRAM OF SPONSORING BETTER PRODUCTIONS OF BETTER PLAYS AT MEREDITH

"She Stoops to Conquer" by Oliver Goldsmith will be presented April 13 by the "Little Theatre," under the direction of Mrs. Hardy M. Ray, who is a graduate of North Western University School of Dramatics. The leading roles will be taken by Gwyn Lenoir, as "Miss Hardcastle," and by Lois Hartness, as "Marlow." The remainder of the cast has not been definitely decided on, though it is certain that parts are about equally divided among the four classes.

The selection of this play by the "Little Theatre" for its major production of the year is the first step in its program of sponsoring the better production of better plays at Meredith. "She Stoops to Conquer" is a classic among comedies of manners, and because of its sprightly dialogues, entertaining characters, and amusing accidents, as well as its picture of the life and manners of the times, the "Little Theatre" decided to produce it, on the recommendation of the play-reading group, which has been making a study of the representative plays of various nationalities this year.

Phi Society Presents Oscar Wilde's Comedy "The Importance of Being Earnest"

CAST WELL-CHOSEN; EACH ROLE WAS DRAMATICALLY PLAYED

MRS. BLAYLOCK DIRECTOR

On Saturday Evening March 2, "The Importance of Being Earnest," Oscar Wilde's charming comedy, was successfully presented by the Philaretian Literary Society. At eight o'clock a large and eager audience waited expectantly for the curtain to rise. Nor was this audience disappointed. The presentation of the play marked a step forward in dramatic production at Meredith College. There was excellent stage setting and costuming, and the cast proved to be superb. Some of the attractive costumes worn by the heroines were courteously provided by The Lucielle Shop. Men's clothing was provided by Ebird's Department Store.

The stage manager was Mattie Lee Eagles, the property manager, Verona West, and the wardrobe mistress was Kathleen Durham. Incidental music was rendered by Miss Virginia Branch. The play could not have been the success that it proved to be without the aid of the director, Mrs. Sarah Blay-
