

DEMONSTRATION GIVEN OF AUSTRALIAN BALLOT

Interesting Skit Is Presented By League of Women Voters

An interesting and helpful skit was given by the members of the League of Women Voters on Friday evening in the Astro Hall. This skit took the place of the regular monthly meeting, and the entire student body was invited to attend. The purpose of the skit was to teach the students how to vote by the Australian ballot.

In introduction Juanita Sorrell, president of the club, demonstrated the correct method of casting a ballot, with Lillian Johnson as a voter. The skit illustrated the errors and ab-

Seniors Are Guests At Swimming Party

On Saturday, May 17, the faculty entertained the seniors at a swimming-supper party from 3:30 to 6:30 at "Mordell Hill," Dr. Carroll's home.

Cars and busses were sent to convey the guests to the affair, and by 4 o'clock the party was in full swing. Many of the students and faculty members went in swimming, while others strolled around the grounds or through the house, which was open to every one. The lovely gardens and "linger-nooks" were explored and enjoyed by every one. Those who went to the house were lost in admiration of the fine paintings and statuary, and were fascinated by numerous other articles of interest.

A delicious supper was served, picnic-fashion, at 5:30 in the garden, after which came a frolic in which every one, students and faculty members, participated. Groups were arranged for such gay childish games as "Farmer in the Dell," "Three Deep," "Pop the Whip," and "London Bridge Is Falling Down."

At 6:30 the girls returned to Meredith regretting that such an enjoyable evening had to come to a close.

Juniors Entertained At Attractive Party

The "Odd Spirit" of Meredith was at its height when the Freshman class entertained their "Big Sisters" at a picnic in the grove on Tuesday afternoon, May 13. Attractive invitations had been sent to every junior asking that all college dignity be left upon the closet shelf, and that each person be a kid again. Long curls, hair-ribbons, plats, short skirts and anklets, along with that gay "Odd Spirit" showed with what

DR. HILL IS TO DELIVER BACCALAUREATE

Annual Address Tuesday Morning By Dr. Bernard C. Clausen

June first is our 1930 commencement Sunday. The baccalaureate sermon at 11 o'clock in the morning and the missionary sermon in the evening will both be preached by Dr. John L. Hill, of Nashville, Tenn. Dr. Hill was for some years professor of history and political science in Georgetown College, Kentucky. Much of this time he was also dean of the college. Since 1922 he has been on the editorial staff of the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. In this connection he has rendered distinguished service. He has been

Graduating Recital Given By Miss Annie Gray Boney

Mrs. Kemp Neal Talks At Chapel Exercises

The series of vocational lectures continued Friday, May 16, with an interesting talk by Mrs. Kemp Neal, who spoke on the profession of nursing as a vocation for young women. Today nursing is one of the most attractive fields of work for young women of ability. Although it is a new profession, having been first started by Florence Nightingale, it has grown to be one of the largest fields of work

Miss Terry Plays At Student Recital

The most interesting features of the student recital Thursday afternoon, May 15, were the four opening numbers by Miss Ela Terry, of Wendell. Her first number was Grieg's Sonata in F Minor, and it was played with a great deal of depth. The other three numbers showed careful work and understanding interpretation.

The vocal quartet, composed of Josephine Lyles, Ruth Starling, Alma Dark, and Mary Lucile Broughton, added variety and interest to the program.

The entire program was as follows:

Piano—Sonata, F Minor.....	Grieg
Allegro Moderato.
Octave Etude	Kullak
Nocturne, Op. 37, No. 1.....	Chopin
Waltz, Op. 34, No. 1.....	Chopin

ALMA DARK, MARY LUCILE BROUGHTON

Student Volunteers Hold Last Meeting

The Foreign Service Band held its last meeting of the year May 15 at 5 o'clock. "Going Back to the Old Home Church" was the topic of discussion. Each member talked of at least one means of a volunteer's using her vocation in her vacation. Miss Madaline Elliot concluded the discussion by a practical talk on the use of sympathy, understanding, and tact in a young Christian's carrying on of Christ's work. Plans for next year were mentioned. The new officers had charge of this meeting.

Piano Numbers By Miss Glennie Paul Add Interest To Program

On Friday evening, May 16, Miss Annie Gray Boney, a student in voice under Miss Ethel Rowland, gave her graduation recital before a large number of friends and music lovers. Miss Glennie Paul accompanied her and assisted in the recital.

The program was a varied and unusually lovely one, containing selections which proved Annie Gray's ability from both a technical and artistic standpoint, and in which she showed poise and a pleasing personality.

Three groups of songs in French, German, and Italian showed careful interpretation and skill. Her last group, in

Seniors Honored By Mrs. Cooper At Dinner

Mrs. B. W. Cooper entertained the seniors of the club at a delightful banquet Friday evening, May 16.

The Meredith Club was transformed into a lovely scene by the soft glow of candles and gay-colored flowers. The color scheme of green and pink was used for the occasion, giving the atmosphere of a spring garden. The tables were beautifully decorated, and a delicious four-course dinner was served. The menu consisted of strawberry cocktail, followed by the main course, then a salad course, and finally the last course of ice cream, coffee, and mints. During the dinner the well-known song, "Stand Up," was sung to the seniors, Mrs. Cooper, and to the guests of honor, among whom were Dr. Brewer, Miss Burris, Miss Spruill, and Misses Margaret Craig and Oreon Bostick.

Mrs. Bickett Discusses Social Welfare Work

At the chapel hour on Saturday morning, May 17, Mrs. Bickett gave another talk in the series of vocational lectures. The subject of her discussion was social welfare work as a vocation for women, and her experience as N. C. State welfare worker furnished her with information on her subject.

She discussed the work in the light of its three phases. First, there is the welfare work among elderly people. If they have no home or are incapable of taking care of themselves they are placed in the county home. The probation work among the prisoners is another important branch of the welfare department. The workers keep in

Installation Program Given In Phi Society

An impressive installation service for the incoming officers marked the year's closing meeting of the Philaretian Society Monday evening, May 12. As the Phi song was played softly on the piano the spirit of Philaretia, Josephine Lyles, took her place on the back center stage just below the shield. She was followed by the old and new chief marshals, Irma Mott and Virginia Crawford, respectively, who, after exchanging the regalia, led the retiring and incoming officers to the stage.

To the left, following Irma Mott, were the old officers: Chloris Kellum, president.

Dr. Brewer Is Host To Seniors At Banquet

On Tuesday night, May 13th, Dr. Brewer entertained the Senior class at a banquet in the college dining hall.

At 6:30 the guests assembled in the parlors. Dr. Brewer and Glennie Paul led as the group walked in couples across the court to the dining-room. They made a beautiful picture in their lovely dresses of pastel shades.

The tables were arranged in the form of a T. Dr. Brewer and Glennie Paul sat at the head. At each place was a miniature corsage of pansies, and the tables were decorated with flowers.

After Dr. Brewer had given words of welcome the dinner was served. After a fruit cocktail, the main course, consisting of chicken, creamed peas, Irish potatoes, biscuit, gravy and iced tea, was served. A salad course and dessert completed the menu.

The banquet was thoroughly enjoyed by every one present.

New B.Y.P.U. Officers Lead First Meeting

At the opening assembly of the Meredith College B. Y. P. U., May 14, Velma Preslar, the incoming president for next year, took charge of the program. Alma Dark led in singing "Take My Life and Let It Be," after which the president offered the opening prayer.

Announcement was made of the State B. Y. P. U. Convention, which is to be held at Mars Hill, June 24-26, by several members of the Union coming from either side of the platform with cards giving the place and date.

The new president led the devotionals by giving several

Senior Class Gives Tea For Faculty

A most enjoyable tea was given by the Senior class in honor of the Meredith faculty on Wednesday afternoon, May 14, from 4 until 6 o'clock in the college parlors.

In the chaperon's parlor the guests were greeted by the officers of the class—Misses Glennie Paul, Annie Gray Boney, Mary Louise Huffman, and Della Roberson. Misses Margaret Craig, Pauline Kitchin, Chloris Kellum, and Marguerite Maison were receiving in the rose parlor. Miss Mabel Bagby directed the callers from the rose parlor to the blue parlor. Miss Eleanor Covington received at the door of the blue parlor and directed the guests to the punch bowl, where they were served by Miss Irma Motte. Delicious sandwiches, nuts, mints, and cakes were served by Misses Ellen Bradsher, Emma Hartsell, Roberta Royster, Sarah Cummings, Blanche Obenshain, Mary
