Installation Program Given In Phi Society

Mary Louise Huffman, vice-president.
Verona West, secretary.
Lottie Belle Myers, treasurer.
Irma Mott, chief marshal.
Nellie Upchurch, marshal.
Virginia Long, marshal.
Josephine Lyles, marshal.
Opposite, on the right, marshaled by Virginia Crawford, came the new officers:
Kathleen Durham, president.
Oreon Bostick, vice-president.
Velma Webb, secretary.
Martha Viccelio, treasurer.
Virginia Crawford, chief marshal.
Rachel Marshburn, marshal.
Josephine Lyles, marshal.
Birdie Lee Debnam, marshal.
These met in the center and took their places in a semi-circle on the platform, after which Kathleen Durham took the pledge of office from Chloris, and in turn gave it to the other new officers. Then the retiring president, in summary of the work for the year, expressed her appreciation of the fine spirit and work of the officers and members of the society during the year, and, bidding them farewell, said that although she would be gone, Mother Philaretia would remain with her always.
Kathleen Durham, in behalf of the society, then presented her with a token of appreciation for her services during the year, after which the officers marched off as "Mother Philaretia" was sung.

The installation service was followed by an informal reception, at the close of which several hearty yells were given for the old and new presidents.

Graduating Recital Given By Miss Annie Gray Boney

which were "Will o' the Wisp," by Spross, and "Joy," by Cadman, formed a brilliant close for the program.
Glennie Paul gave two solos—Waltz, Opus 64, No. 2, by Chopin, and Staccato-Caprice, by Vogrich, in which her usual brilliance and interpretative ability were evident.
At the close of the recital the family and friends of Annie Gray were invited to an informal reception in the parlors. The ushers for the occasion were Elizabeth Deans, Margaret Trotman, Fern Lasley, and Marianna Herring.
The program of the recital was as follows:

much in demand as lecturer on historical and inspirational topics, and has made a wonderful impression upon our young people in their various gatherings.
The annual address this year will be delivered on Tuesday morning by Dr. Bernard C. Clausen. Dr. Clausen has held responsible pastorates, being now pastor of the First Baptist Church of Syracuse, New York. This important place he has filled with genuine satisfaction to his flock and to his city since 1922. Dr. Clausen is no stranger to Meredith College and its constituency. At our commencement of 1927 he delivered the annual address, and made such a wonderful impression upon our people that all have been eager to see and hear him again.

We are fortunate in having secured these two distinguished men for our exercises this year.

Louise Edwards, and Margaret Whittemore. The guests were then bade good-bye by Misses Elizabeth Deans and Edith Buchanan.
The parlors were beautifully decorated with a profusion of spring flowers. A bank of sweet alyssum surrounding the punch bowl was especially attractive. Burning tapers about the room added to the beauty of the surroundings.
