

MEREDITH GIRLS ENJOY
HOLIDAY FOR STATE FAIR*Holiday Affords Many Interesting Diversions

One of the annual holidays for Meredith students which comes on Thursday of each Fair Week offered many interesting diversions this year.

State Fair, the Mecca of North Carolina during last week, carried out the theme that has been synonymous with the State for several months: "Living-at-Home." Many attractive exhibits from the various counties and large farms throughout the State proved that North Carolina is able to grow a variety of food products and produce many other necessities.

Perhaps the art students found the art exhibit especially interesting this year. "The Landing at Neuse River," with its rich autumn shades created much attention as well as "The Cherry Blossom," a product of the State College Architectural department, which won a blue ribbon. There were also many clever and well designed displays of North Carolina pottery.

One of the main features of the exhibits was the miniature W.P.T.F. broadcasting station. Mary O'Kelly, Pauline Buffaloe, Dick Mason, Cecil Bell, and many others familiar to radio fans could be seen there in person.

Still others found delight in riding the Hobby Horses, the Leaping Lena, the Whip or the Lindy Loop—we are sure that Dr. Carroll would like this since it affords so many lung exercises).

Everyone seemed to enjoy the Fair thoroughly even though they grew a little tired and sleepy before the last bus came out to bring them to Meredith and a much needed rest.

STUNT NIGHT RACKET

"Sure! I'll be glad to do it." "Anything I can do to help?" And not a single "I just haven't time enough this week" would make an outsider think that Meredith girls are unusually willing to help anyone do anything, but any "old girl" would know that this angelic coöperation could mean nothing but the approach of Stunt Night.

A bunch of heads together, excited whispers of the owners of the heads and many curious unintelligible gestures of hands and feet (if feet can gesture!) also indicate that some-

The biggest event of the whole year is here! Saturday night will be the time when the curtain will be drawn to reveal another year's dramatic ability among the four classes at Meredith. Class spirit is running high. Keener competition than ever before is already in sight. The prized loving cup is the reason for all these practices beginning early in the morning, and some even late at night. Just one more day of waiting and the winning class will wear the crown of laurels!

Y. W. A. Hears Message
By Mrs. H. T. Stevens

At the Y. W. A. Vesper Service Sunday night, October 19, Mrs. Herman T. Stevens brought an impressive message, using the words, "Go Ye—Go Tell," as a missionary theme.

Just before the talk by Mrs. Stevens, Vida Miller gave a beautiful devotional, in which she brought out the thought that each girl should seek to attain the best things in life, to make her life the best and most beautiful of which she is capable, that her "treasure chest of memories" may be filled with the loveliest souvenirs possible.

Mrs. Stevens, in opening, spoke of the commission which Christ gave to His apostles before His ascension, that they go into all the world and carry the light of His Gospel. It is a command which has continued through the year to the followers of Christ and which

FORMER MEREDITH GIRL HONORED AT STATE

Miss Lorena Brinson, a former Meredith student, was signally honored last Monday when she was elected president of the girl's Student Government Association at State College. As the association was just organized this year, Miss Brinson is its first president. She did her freshman and sophomore work at Meredith, going to State as a junior in the scholastic year 1929-30.

Other officers of the association are: vice president, Huldah Branch; secretary, Maud Schaub; treasurer, Josephine Richards.

Meredith is justly proud of her daughter and predicts for her a useful and successful year at State.

COLLEGE BAND PLANNED WITH MUCH ENTHUSIASM

Enthusiasm and interest in unusual degree were created at a student meeting Friday when the organization of a college band was discussed. The suggestion met with such wholehearted approval that on Friday night about fifty girls met with Mr. Battin to make definite plans for the organization of the band.

A number of the girls already own instruments and have had some musical training; and all of them are interested in some instrument and in learning to play it. The music department plans to buy a collection of instruments for the use of those who do not own them, and to increase the number as rapidly as possible.

Plans for the band include attractive uniforms for its members and music of varied types: snappy music to add to the zest and pep of the athletic field, and more classical programs to give pleasure upon other occasions.

The band hopes to be fully organized within six weeks and every one is looking forward to its activities on the campus.

Mrs. Highsmith Speaks to League of Voters

The Meredith League of Voters held its first meeting of the session 1930-31 on Tuesday evening, October 14, in Jones Hall, with Juanita Sorrell, president of the club, presiding.

Mrs. Henry J. Highsmith, president of the Raleigh League of Women Voters, gave a splendid talk on the proposed amendments to the constitution of North Carolina to be submitted at the election on November 4, 1930, with a discussion of the conditions of the child welfare in North Carolina.

The new officers of the club will be elected in November by the Australian ballot.

BIOLOGY CLUB

A most interesting program was presented at the Barber Biology Club Friday evening, October 17, at 6:45 o'clock. Helen Middleton was in charge of the program which was as follows:

"Butterfly Wings Take Own Pictures," Elizabeth Boomhour; "Story of Baby O'Possum," "Tropical O'Possum," Ruby Lee; "Leprosy, Pellagra," Helen Middleton; "Wool and Cotton Clothing," "Individual Hot-

W. F. Meredith Party

The Literary Societies of Wake Forest College are to entertain the Meredith Literary Societies at an informal party on Saturday night, November 1. This social function is a preliminary affair to the Annual Wake Forest Society Day which is to be on Saturday, November 8.

Kappa Nu Sigma Society Receives New Members

At the chapel services of Meredith College on Tuesday morning, Dr. Brewer made an announcement concerning the Ruth Livermon Scholarship, which was won last year by Miss Frances Maynard of Raleigh. This scholarship is given annually to the student who makes the best scholastic record during her freshman year. It is given by Miss Ruth Livermon for the purpose of stimulating interest in high scholarship and is conferred through the Kappa Nu Sigma Honor Society.

Also, announcement was made of the reception of Miss Ethel Day as a member of the Honor Society. As her junior year was spent studying in France the records had not reached the college when the other new members were received.

The officers and new members of the Society are as follows: President, Vida Miller; Vice President, Lois Arnette; Secretary-Treasurer, Gertrude Bostic; Elizabeth Ayscue, Elizabeth Boomhour, Ethel Day, Kitty Makepeace, Adele Rogers, Juanita Sorrell and Verona West.

During the coming year the Honor Society plans to sponsor a lecture to be given in the Meredith Auditorium.

MEREDITH SENIOR WINS IN NATIONAL CONTEST

Ruth Britt, Meredith College senior, was awarded one of the school prizes offered in the national contest of the Borden Fabric Company of New York City for a dress which she made in Home Economics. The contest was in June.

There were only four winners in North Carolina. Ruth, who entered through Meredith, was the only Raleigh girl to enter the contest.

Ruth won the grand prize at State College last year in the state contest when girls from various North Carolina schools took part.

UPPER CLASSMEN ATTEND
ANNUAL BARN WARMING*State Gym is Scene of Gay
Festivity

October, with its red leaves and crisp air, and October, with the Barn-Warming has come again. The Barn-Warming, given by the N. C. State Agricultural Department, is an annual social event looked forward to with much pleasure; and it was given again on Saturday night, October 18, with much success. A large number of Juniors and Seniors from Meredith, dressed in gay prints and gingham, were among the guests who enjoyed it.

The State College gymnasium was appropriately decorated for the occasion. On entering, the guests were obliged to climb over piles of hay, stacked before the door, a feat which occasioned much merriment. Within, hay scattered over the floor, and a profusion of pines contributed to the rustic effect of the scene, while crepe paper in red and white, and gold and black, strung across the top of the room, gave brightness and color.

A convenient plan for forming couples during the evening was by having a line of girls and a line of boys march in opposite directions past each other until the music stopped, at which time the girl and boy standing opposite each other became partners for a while. A number of entertaining contests gave variety to the amusements, one of which was the pig-calling contest. Of the twelve boys taking part in it, Mr. Crisson was the winner. This was followed by a husband-calling contest by eight girls, in which Anne Thacker, of Meredith, won. Another enjoyable feature was a contest in clog-dancing. "Coon" Silver was given the title of best dancer. During the evening, the singing and dancing of talented little Louise Mitchell provided pleasant entertainment.

The choosing of the queen was one of the most interesting events of the night. Miss Lucile Miller, of Meredith College, was selected to fill this place of honor and was led to the royal throne, which was built of hay. Lucile was presented with a beautiful bouquet of dahlias.

Delicious ice cream and cake, peanuts and apples were served at the close of the program. Guests declared the 1930 Barn-Warming worthy to be added to the list of the most enjoyable ones ever given.
