PRESIDENTS OF THREE CLASSES ARE ELECTED

Donovant, Garnett, and Moseley Are Class Heads

Annette Donovan of Greensboro has been elected president of the senior class for the year 1932-1933. Annette has served as Director of the Sunday School Department for the past year, and during all three years she has been one of the leaders of her class.

Other officers elected for next year by the present junior class were: Agnes Moore of Raleigh, vice president, and Martha Viccellio of Chatham, Virginia, secretary-treasurer.

At a meeting of the sophomore class Virginia Garnett of Sylvania, Georgia, was elected junior president for next year. Other officers elected were: Vice president, Katherine Davis of Winston-Salem; secretary, Eliza Briggs of Raleigh; treasurer, Frances McNeil of Washington, D. C.; and cheer leader, Emily Miller of Raleigh.

Virginia Garnett is one of the most popular girls on the campus. She has served on the Acorn staff the past year; she has been vice president of her class; she is present director of the college department of the First Baptist (Please turn to page four)

Ibsen's "Doll's House" To Be Presented Here

On April 16 the Little Theatre will present The Doll's House by Henrik Ibsen. Ibsen is very popular today and The Doll's House has brought him much renown as a dramatist. He has created a new form of drama, realistic drama, in which he paints life as it really is. All plays before his are built on a system of climbing up the hill to a crisis and then rushing downward. But with Ibsen the downward path has been taken before the play opens, and the velocity is cumulative, from the first scene to the last.

Before the play A Doll's House opens, Nora has borrowed money from an unscrupulous man, Nils Krogstad. Circumstances made it necessary for her to forge her father's name. Too, it is necessary that Nora keeps this from the knowledge of her husband. To her husband, Torwald, Nora is a song bird, a doll in A Doll's House, who has never had any trouble and does not know anything about life. As the play continues, however, Nora is found to be a character of great strength. The play, one is im- (Please turn to page three)

Senior Class Starts Plans For Commencement

When asked about the plans which the Senior class had made for commencement, Edwin a Martin, class president, said that the Shakespearean comedy "Much Ado About Nothing" would be given on Friday night of commencement.

There is a tradition that every odd year the class will give one of Shakespeare's plays while on the even years a musical comedy is given. A Shakespearean play has not been given in two years since the last year's class exchanged with the present senior class.

The tryouts for the play have already been held. The following cast has been selected although there may be some changes made later:

French Class to Give Comedy by Moliere

The French 21 girls hope to present Moliere's comedy, "Le Médecin Malgré Lui," on April 12 at seven o'clock p.m. in the Astrotekton Hall. The cast of characters includes:

Sganarelle, Margaret Olmstead; Martine, wife of Sganarelle, Virginia Farris; Gérante, Doris Lineberry; Lucinde, daughter of Gérante, Frances McNeil; Léandre, Annie Vee Powell; Robert, Ruth McCourry; Valère, Frances Gray; Lucas, Agnes Moore; Josephine, the (Please turn to page three)

Athletic Association Sponsors Minstrel

A combination of a minstrel and vaudeville was given under the auspices of the Athletic Association Saturday night in the auditorium. A very successful burlesque of May Day was one of the main features, with Prue Choate as the blackfaced May Queen.

The show began with a typical minstrel act with such famous comedians as Pat Abernethy, Katherine Davis, Grace Carr, Katherine Hicks, Mary Schaub, and Jane Irwin. Pat Abernethy and Katherine Davis carried on the chief dialogue, with a dance by Katherine with the others as the chorus.

Edith Witt sang several numbers, including "Sleepy Time Down South" and "I Promise You."

Jo Arnette and Mary Lucille Broughton sang a duet and also (Please turn to page two)

Meredith and State I. R. C. Hold Joint Meeting Tuesday

The State College International Relations Club met with the Meredith Club Tuesday evening, March the eighth. The clubs met in the Senior parlor at 6:45.

Antoinette Charles, president of the Meredith Club, gave a short welcome to the visiting club. After this, Frank Busbee, who went as representative from State College to the "Southern Conference of International Relations Clubs held at Rollins College, Miami, Florida, during the latter part of February, and who was elected vice president of that organization, gave a report of the conference. The main theme of his talk was the part that students may take in the move for world peace. Following this re- (Please turn to page two)

Juniors Defeat Freshmen And Sophs Capture Win

One of the most closely contested games ever played on the Meredith court between classes was that of the Junior-Freshmen, when the Juniors took a close-edged victory, 18-15, on Wednesday night. The Freshman team showed decided improvement over the brand of basketball they displayed against the Sophs.

With such a general display of technique, it is hard to pick out individual stars of the game. The real heroes were the three Junior guards, Virginia Greene, Katherine Hawkins, and Miriam Brady, who played accurately, intercepting Freshmen plays to a decided advantage. Lois Sawyer and Pat Abernethy divided scoring honors, each marking up eight points. Ellen Hinkley scored the remaining points. "Speck" Harris played her usual steady game, featuring in good passing.

Virginia Ferrell was high scorer for the Freshmen, gaining 17 points. Mary Allyn Lewis scored the remaining three points. Mae Marshburn, Durb Jones, and Virginia Scott played well (Please turn to page four)

Miss Ida Poteat Is Speaker at Vespers

The blue parlor, lighted by rose candles was a quiet and fitting scene for the vesper service of Sunday evening.

Miss Roselle, with Miss McMillan accompanying at the piano, played soft music on the cello while the group assembled.

Mary Elizabeth Elam, President of B. Y. P. U., led a devotional exercise based on the ideal qualities of Mary, Mother of Jesus.

Nellie Norris Is Elected Meredith May Queen

At a student body meeting in chapel on Friday, March 4 Mary C. Shearin of Rocky Mount was elected president of the student government organization for the year 1932-1933. As treasurer of the student government for the past year Mary C. has proved her ability and has shown that she can carry on the work of the organization next year. Besides her executive ability she is one of the most charming girls on the Meredith campus. She has taken an active part in her class, in religious organizations, and served as a marshal of the Astrotekton literary society. She is also secretary of the Colton English Club this year.

At another recent meeting Nellie Norris of Gastonia was elected May Queen, winning over Rachel Marshburn. Nellie has served as secretary of the senior class this year and as a B. Y. P. U. president. She also wears an "M" for superior athletic ability and was May Queen at the Wake Forest Summer School.

Fashion Show Given by Home Economics Club

On Wednesday afternoon, March 2, the Home Economics Department gave a tea and a fashion show for the members of the faculty. Miss Ellen Brewer made a talk on foods, after which Miss Hanyan's textile students presented the fashion show in which the members of her classes were dressed in the correct and incorrect dresses for various occasions.

First of all the correct and incorrect costumes for school wear were presented. The correct dress was a simple knit suit of serviceable material and the shoes were sport oxfords—no jewelry was worn. The correct street dress was of black crepe with just enough color to relieve the monotony—a plain hat and dress oxfords were worn with it.

Besides these, the correct church dress of a subdued color, the good afternoon dress of black and the incorrect one of flowered material were shown. The correct dinner costume neither too elaborate nor too simple and the (Please turn to page three)
