

B. S. U. NOTES

FOREIGN MISSIONARIES

The whole campus has been alive with the new vision of missions in foreign fields. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Dozier who are to sail for Japan in November, were here for several days last week; and every one seemed to have a personal interest in their work. Mr. Dozier, who is better known to us as Helen's brother, was born in Japan and lived there until he came over to America to enter school. After graduating with the class of '29 from Wake Forest, Mr. Dozier went to the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, where he finished in '32. Mrs. Dozier is a graduate of the W. M. U. Training School in Louisville, Kentucky. Wouldn't it be grand if we could really know more missionaries! All of our prayers and thought will be following Mr. and Mrs. Dozier as they start out in their new work.

COLLEGE DEPARTMENT ORGANIZED AT PULLEN MEMORIAL CHURCH

Hattie Mullis has done a good piece of work since the beginning of school in her organization of a college department at Pullen Memorial Baptist Church. This college department was organized primarily for the purpose of meeting the needs of the State College boys and Meredith girls. Much interest has been shown in this new step, and we're proud of Hattie for starting such a good thing!

B. Y. P. U. SOCIAL

"Boys, boys everywhere" seemed to be the theme song of all Meredith girls Saturday night. Meredith seemed to be swarming with boys at the gala occasion, and it has been said by many that it was a queer sight. Looks as if Meredith will be well represented at Wake Forest society day according to the time made by the girls!

RAINBOWS

Who isn't made happier by the rainbow? Well, come out to morning watch every morning and learn more about "Rainbows." This means you, and you, and you!

GREAT NEWS!

There has been some good news circulating around on the campus lately. What? The State B. S. U. conference will be held in Chapel Hill, November 4-6. We want a big crowd from Meredith, so start making your plans now to go.

OUR JAPANESE GIRL

All of us are thrilled over the prospect of sending a little Japanese girl to school this year. Do you realize what this might mean to Japan? Think twice about it and really give something toward keeping her up.

New Books in Library

New books are continually being catalogued in the library. Some of these which should appeal particularly to a college community are:

Little, C. C.; The Awakening College.

McKown, H. C.; Extra Curricular Activities.

Martin, E. D.; Meaning of a Liberal Education.

Hearn, Lafcadio; Books and Habits.

Ward, G. O.; Practical Use of Books and Libraries.

A book which should especially interest North Carolinians is Paul Green's The Field God and In Abraham's Bosom.

Edna St. Vincent Millay enthusiasts will be interested to know that the library has a copy of her Renascence and other Poems.

Other books of fiction are: Maugham, W. S.; Of Human Bondage.

Priestley, J. B.; Angel Pavement.

Odum, H. W.; Rainbow Round My Shoulder.

Johnson, G. W.; Randolph of Roanoke.

Wilder, Thornton; Woman of Andros.

Hearn, Lafcadio; Chita.

In the field of biography, the library has secured:

Brooks, Van Wyck; Life of Emerson.

Burdett, Osbert; William Blake.

Liszt, Franz; Life of Chopin.

Roscoe, E. S.; Aspects of Dr. Johnson.

Hollis, Christopher; Dr. Johnson.

Keller, Helen; Midstream, My Later Life.

Hall, G. S.; Life and Confessions of a Psychologist.

Mumford, Lewis; Herman Melville.

Little Theatre Announcements

The Little Theatre has set November 12 as the date for the freshman play. Tryouts will be held Monday evening October 17, and all freshmen interested in dramatics are urged to appear for tryouts, or to enlist with staging, make-up, or business committees.

The Club will hold its regular meeting in the social room, third floor Vann Hall Thursday evening at 6:30. Special request is made by the President that all members assemble promptly, ready to discuss plans for freshmen play!

Twig Reporter Covers State Fair Friday

"Did you ever see so many hicks in your life?"

"Well, take that in, will you?"

"Where are we going first? Let's skip the exhibits."

The reporter who covered the State Fair turned in a very amusing account. The following dialogue is characteristic of our students:

"No exhibits for me. The only person who cares about exhibits is no good."

"Same here. Here goes for the midway, but I know I'm not going to spend a fortune on those gambling chances this year."

"O-o-o! look! 'Ossified Harry! We've got to see that."

"C'mon—What? A whole fare ticket! I'll be 12 on my next birthday. Oh, well! Next time we'll let the littlest one of us buy all the tickets and Emily Miller bought them."

"A man with two bodies—a girl with 1,000 eyes—the sword swallower—the vampire. Oh, let's don't see those fakes."

"Hot ziggerty, 'Ride the Rapids'—let's go!"

"Wasn't it good? Let's go again—(30 minutes elapse). Let's try another."

"Oh, my neck's broken. Let's eat now."

"One hot dog, mister. Leave off the onions. Oh, let's get some of that frozen custard."

"Me for a maple waffle. (45 minutes pass.) Well, that's all of them I can stand now."

"This Ferris wheel is all the bunk. Let's ride the caterpillar. Oh, it's worse; no more rides for me."

"Oh, look! He's taking pictures. Let's be snapped!" (and then the camera broke—no joking, one of our students did break one of the cameras.)

"Oh, let's fool him on our weight. I know he can't guess mine. Well, what do you know about that—right on the mark. Let's try some more of them. (30 minutes elapse.) I'm most broke; let's watch the people at the gambling booths, just to see if any one ever wins."

"Oh, I want one of those dolls so bad. Look! he got one. I'm going to try just once. Oh, well, I'll put up again. (An hour passes.) Well, I'm going to stop after just one more. (45 minutes pass.) Let's try another. I know I can win on this one. I think I'll take a kodak. No, I believe I'd rather have a rabbit. (Time flies.) Guess we'll take in the exhibits now. Flat broke!"

On to the exhibits for all the samples and souvenirs.

MISS CATHERINE ALLEN, DELEGATE OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN TELLS OF TRIP TO EDINBURGH

seaport of Scotland while Edinburgh, the capital city, is beyond all doubt the most beautiful city of Great Britain.

"The miles of rugged moorlands, the picturesque lochs, the firths which resemble the fjords of Norway, the rugged grandeur of the almost perpendicular cliffs of the Scottish seashore awakened the greatest admiration and were awe-inspiring.

"Inverness and Flodigarry will always be associated with the stirring and heroic events of the life of Flora MacDonald, Scotland's heroine."

All doors of Scotland and England were hospitably opened to the visiting delegates of the Edinburgh Conference, and the summer spent in the British Isles is according to Miss Allen, one of her choicest experiences.
