Members of Jr. O. U. A. M.

Guests at Meredith

During lunch on Thursday, December 8, the Meredith students had the unexpected honor of being introduced to several prominent officials, and their wives, of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics. The officials were the guests of Dr. Brewer, the present National Councilor of the Order. They were Mr. E. A. Llewellyn, of Cincinnati, Ohio, the past National Councilor; Mr. Gurney Hood, Raleigh, State Bank Commissioner and Treasurer of the Order, and his wife; Mr. W. M. Shuford, Lexington, N. C., Superintendent of the Jr. O. U. A. M. Orphans' Home located at Lexington, and his wife; Mr. E. V. Harris, Tarboro, past State Councilor; Mr. B. C. Sisk, Warsaw, State Vice Councilor. Four little girls from the Home in Lexington were present also.

FACULTY TRIPS

Miss Charlotte Armstrong was in Richmond, Saturday, December 3.

Miss Ida Poteat and Miss Mary Spruill went to Durham Tuesday afternoon, December 6.

Miss Armstrong and Miss Welsh were in Richmond Saturday, December 10.

Miss Ida Poteat spent the week-end of the 10th at Forest Home in Caswell County.

Miss Mary Tillery went walking Sunday afternoon with Miss Mae Grimmer. Miss Tillery had one ear frozen which she later thawed out.

MEREDITH ALUMNAE

Several of the Meredith Alumnae have been back on the campus during the past few days. Ruth Truesdell, of Charlotte, was here for eight or ten days last week. Nell Norris, now teaching in Raleigh, spent Saturday night, December 3, here.

Those spending the week-end of December 10 here were Hester Kitchin, '29, of Salisbury; Louise Craven, '29, of Greensboro; Jessie Fay Green, '32, of Williamsston; and Ellen Bradsher, '30, of Roxboro, who is still here.

Nell Norris had dinner here Monday night, December 12.

CHOSEN SPONSOR

Miss Mary Florence Cummings has been selected as sponsor of the Y. M. C. A. of State College in the Agromeck for this year. Mary Florence's brother, Ralph Cummings, is President of the Y. M. C. A.

FORMAL DINNER

Miss Welsh is planning for the regular monthly birthday dinner this evening which will be a formal occasion to be enjoyed by all the students and faculty.

ASTROTEKTONS TO BE "AT HOME"

The Junior and Freshman Astrotektons will be at home in their society hall Sunday, January 8, from 4:30 until 5:30 to their friends. The following Sunday afternoon, the Seniors and Sophomores will entertain their friends.

DR. BREWER ATTENDS MEETING IN NEW ORLEANS

Conspicuous men in the teaching and administrative lines of work in education are invited to discuss questions of interest and importance before the Commissions as well as in the general meetings of the Association. There were two addresses of special interest to institutions for women. One was by Dr. Baldwin, Dean of the Woman's College of Duke University. She discussed the topic: "Development and Place of the Coordinate College." The other was by President Hubbard of the Texas State College for Women on the subject: "The Higher Education of Women in the New Age." Both of these addresses were illuminating and helpful.

Dr. Joseph Roemer of George Peabody College, was President in 1932. Dr. Few, President of Duke University, was elected president for the coming year. Because of the long and efficient service for the Southern Association, Chancellor J. H. Kirkland of Vanderbilt University, holds the position of President Emeritus.

The Southern Association of Colleges for Women meets each year at the same time and place as the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. This organization is giving special study to the development of curricula in colleges for women, with a view to rendering the greatest possible service to their students. Dr. Doak Campbell of George Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn., is leading in that study.

Dr. Brewer had opportunity to visit en route Brenau College at Gainesville, Georgia, where his daughter, Miss Ann Eliza Brewer, is teaching in the Department of Modern Languages.

We wish to congratulate the students of Catawba College for their response to the plea of the Salvation Army for food. These students contributed two truck loads of food to be distributed among the needy families.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT RENDERED BY CHOIR

well-known English carol, "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen." The third in the group was a Bohemian carol, "Still Grows the Evening O'er Bethlehem Town," unusually lovely because of its simplicity. "Angels O'er the Fields Were Flying," a French carol; and the Russian, "Carol of the Russian Children," rich in emotional depth and harmony, concluded this group.

The scripture reading was given by Dr. Charles E. Brewer, following which the sixteenth century carol, "O Jesu Sweet," was sung by Marguerite Warren, alto, and Louise Martin, soprano, with the choir joining in the last few measures. "Luther's Cradle Hymn," arranged by Prof. Spelman, was one of the most effective numbers on the program. The solo part was sung by Josephine Arnette, with the choir humming a harmonious accompaniment, giving the effect of an organ in the background.

The concluding number by the choir was "See Amid the Winter's Snow" by John E. West, the solo parts in this being rendered by Hazel Martin and Josephine Arnette. The hymn, "Oh Come All Ye Faithful," was sung in closing, with the soprano section of the choir singing a descant to the second and third verses.

The choir was accompanied in several of the numbers by the Meredith Trio, composed of Miss Charlotte Armstrong, violinist; Miss Alverda Rosel, 'cellist; and Miss Aileen McMillan, pianist.

the belief of other children who did not know.

Miss Johnson, Miss Harris, and Miss Tillery did not remember just when they first found out that Santa Claus' role is played by parents. Mr. Boomhour thought perhaps he found out some time between the ages of eight and ten. It gave him quite a funny feeling he said when the great mystery, as it had been to him, was solved.

Miss Barber said she wanted to believe in him but all the time she knew it was not so. Miss Doris Tillery, like Miss Ellen, Mr. Boomhour, and several others, confessed to happening upon a gift which later appeared as being from Santa Claus.

And speaking of Santa Claus customs, THE TWIG reporter heard of one senior who always left water, soap, and a towel out for Santa Claus, and in the morning they were always sooty!
