

BASKETBALL NEWS

There have been several weeks of basketball practice now, and the championship games will be played soon after exams.

The freshmen are certainly coming out to practices. They have three full teams and good material on each. Hazel Boswell, Catherine Liles, Mildred Eaton, Louise Helsabeck, Dorothy Dockery, and Henrietta Castlebury will probably play on the first team in the opening game. Flaval Bullard, Elease Smith, Edith Levine, Pauline Covington, and Eleanor Andrews are running them a close second and there are still others out doing good work.

The sophomores have nearly all their regulars back this year, and Virginia Rogers, Norine Butler, Evelyn Fowler, Undine Weeks, and Mabel Bowling, together with several others, have showed up as good first-string material, too.

The juniors still have the Davis girls, Matha and Katherine, Ruth McCoury, Virginia Garnett, Ella Lee Yates, Vara Lee Thornton, Eleanor Rozar, and Marguerite Warren. They still seem to have the same old pep, and every one expects them to fight to keep the cup.

The seniors are making another record by having a senior basketball team. Although they lost Ellen Hinkley and Lois Sawyer this year, they have added Kathleen Riddle to their regular line-up of Pat Abernethy, Katherine Hawkins, Helen Bennett, Miriam Brady, Mary C. Shearin, and "Speck" Harris.

Before Governor Gardner's administration came to an end, he enjoyed the privilege of selecting the four prettiest girls at Meredith, one from each class. The girls chosen by ex-Governor Gardner as being the most beautiful in their respective classes are: Mary Frances Snead, of Newport News, Va., senior; Gwennie Crowder of Raleigh, junior; Stuart Weatherspoon, of Raleigh, sophomore; and Edna Taylor, of Kinston, freshman.

The pictures of these girls will receive a prominent place in the 1933 Oak Leaves.

Home Economics Club Meets Tuesday

On January 10 the Home Home Economics Club had an interesting program on health. Miss Blue of the city health department spoke to the girls regarding the general health conditions in Raleigh and near vicinities. She told some interesting accounts of poorly nourished and diseased children and the methods used in restoring those children to good health.
