

At The Theatres

PALACE

Death strikes mysteriously . . . suddenly . . . horribly to all those who dare woo favors from the warm, red lips of a beautiful woman in the thrilling picture "Murders in the Zoo," which will be shown at the Palace on Friday and Saturday featuring Charlie Ruggles, Lionel Atwill, Kathleen Burke (the Panther Woman), Randolph Scott, John Lodge and Gail Patrick.

A Jack Haley comedy, "Then Came the Yawn," a Mickey Mouse cartoon "Mickey's Follies," and a Sound News complete this program.

Buster Keaton and Jimmy Durante turn the laugh on the beer question in their new comedy, "What! No Beer?" which plays at the Palace Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

"There's Only One," musical act, "Officer Save My Child," Slim Summerville Comedy, and Sound News completes the program.

STATE

Joan Crawford, who will be seen in "Rain" at the State theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday is herself far more interesting, more vital, than any role she has created upon the screen. Restless, moody, high-strung, she makes full use of every hour as if she felt that life is all too short. She is a brilliant example of the modern girl, whose courage and ambition thrust all else aside.

A screen song "Ain't She Sweet," a cartoon "How's Tricks," and a Sound News complete this program.

"Let's Have a Party," a gay stage presentation that's different, has been booked by the management of the State for three days beginning Monday. The program consists of specialties and novelties, and from all advance reports is said to be one of the most outstanding presentations yet shown at the State.

Completing this program is a musical act "Singing Boxer" with Donald Novis and a Sound News.

EDITORS CHOSEN TO HEAD TWIG, ACORN, AND OAK LEAVES

(Continued from page one) on the Twig staff last year. Her religious activities as Y. W. A. Circle leader and as secretary of the Pullen Memorial College Department have been outstanding. She is also a member of the Colton English Club.

Emily has been associated with the Twig staff for three years, and as a sophomore was on the News Bureau. The clubs to which she belongs are the Little Theatre and International Relations Club. Her other most important work has been done as publicity director of the B. S. U. and as college and class cheer leader for the past two years.

Evelyn's experience with college publications consists of work as associate editor of the annual for this year and as class editor of the Acorn during her sophomore and junior years here. She is also a member of the Colton English Club, of the Student League of Women Voters, and of the International Relations Club.

Gwendolyn has been filling the office of business manager of the Oak Leaves in 1932-33. She was president of her freshman class and for two years has been a Philaretian Society marshal.

PRESIDENT MAKES FIVE DAY TRIP

(Continued from page one) Louisville, he also visited the W. M. A. Training School, where he saw two former Meredith students, Mary Currin, '31, and Blanche Banks, '26. This was Dr. Brewer's first visit to the "House Beautiful," and he says he was particularly impressed with the Memorial Chapel which was placed there in honor of Miss Fannie S. Heck of North Carolina, and also with the small memorial room which contains a portrait of Lottie Moon with some of her Chinese friends.

On the evening of March 21 while in Louisville, Dr. Brewer also spoke before a meeting of juniors.

Dr. Brewer's next stopping point was Knoxville, Tennessee, where he spoke again. While here he also visited several of his friends including Dr. F. F. Brown, President of the Southern Baptist Convention, and he also visited here the parents of Josephine Hudson.

On Thursday, March 22, Dr. Brewer returned to North Carolina—making a visit to Mars Hill in time for the morning chapel exercises.

Thursday evening was spent in Hickory, N. C., where Dr. Brewer visited in the home of Mrs. Rose Martin Halloway, Meredith Alumna; he also addressed a group of Meredith alumnae at her home, and he spoke to the high school students at the high school there.

Dr. Brewer, despite the fact that his trip was felt to be both interesting and profitable, states that the "best part is always getting back home to Meredith and seeing the students and faculty again."

Two members of the faculty of Agnes Scott College have recently received outstanding honors. Miss Janef Newman Preston, associate professor of English, had five of her poems published in the recent Anthology, Georgia Poets. The Diapason, official organ magazine of America spoke this of Miss Eda E. Bartholomew of the Music Department: "Miss Bartholomew is one of the best exponents of Bach in the South and is to be congratulated upon the fine ministry she is rendering her section."

THAT'S A SINCERE APRIL 1st WISH

"Raleigh's Largest Department Store" offers you more for less this Easter in the way of smart Accessories than ever before.

Our buyers have selected the smartest assortment of Millinery—these queer little things, those big floppy brims, or those hats that look like hats . . .

Then our Blouses are just full of dots and made of the thinnest material you ever saw. The summer flannel skirts, if they are not all sold by this time, are something you should not miss . . .

Our ruffled and frilled collars and cuffs are just made to look different, the organdy bows are almost taking the day, but metal jewelry always has its place.

Then Hose, Bags, Gloves, and Slippers and we are all ready "to go places and do things."
