ON STUDENT COUNCIL MEMBERS

Student Government at Meredith despite its many obvious deficiencies is not unpraiseworthy. For, by fixing the general code of conduct for all, it unifies the standards and the behavior of all.

It is generally agreed that any one student is theoretically as much responsible for the success of Student Government here as any other student, whether she be a Council Member, or just a plain student. The choice of some students as heads of this organization, nevertheless, mirrors the fact that there is a necessity for some students having greater authority and responsibility than others. Just as a Sophomore Council member is given Junior privileges, and a Junior Council member is given Senior privileges, so every Council Member has greater responsibilities than an unofficial member of Student Government. Therefore if one of the Council Members shows laxity towards the carrying out of Student Government policy, what can be expected of the students?

"If the salt has lost its savor, where withal shall it be salted?" or,

"If gold rust, what will iron do?"

Yet, it is neither carelessness nor law breaking, but rather the taking advantage of their position that is at present a serious charge being made by many of the students against Council members. It is a sort of unspoken law—like not robbing one's guest, or betraying the dead—that Council Members are not to make a personal matter out of council room decisions.

For the past two years, there have been Council Members who have said openly that they were afraid to express their honest opinions in the Council room so long as certain Council Members, who do not hesitate to take advantage of hearing "inside" information, continue to tell persons tried before the Council who votes for and against their receiving punishments. The object in divulging the supposed secrets of other people's opinions must be to gain popularity. If this is true, the cost of such popularity is too greatly at the expense of others. Such an action could be called nothing other than dishonorable, and selfish in the extreme.

CONFERENCE PLANNED TO DISCUSS PLACE OF STUDENTS IN POLITICS

Norman Thomas, Professor James T. Shotwell, Harry Woodburn Chase, Gerard Swope and Reinhold Niebuhr are some of the speakers who have been asked to take part in the National Conference on Students in Politics to be held in Washington, D. C. from December 28 to 31.

The National Student Federation, whose Ninth Annual Congress will take place at the same time, also in Washington, plans to cooperate in an attempt to coordinate its meetings on politics on the last two days with the sessions of the other Conference, which is being sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., The League for Industrial Democracy, International Student Service and Young America.

In presenting the policy of the Conference, the sponsors say: "It is our purpose to convene a widely representative conference of college and university students to consider the urgent issues of our time in the light of the political interests and responsibilities of the student classes. Students of America are becoming aroused to the necessity of political consciousness.

Seniors Win Hockey Cup Fourth Successive Year

On Friday, November twenty-four, the hockey season was brought to a close when the team of the Class of '34 successfully defended its championship by defeating the Sophomore team 2-0. The Seniors not only retained the championship, but were also undefeated. The Freshman team was the only one which managed to score against the champions.

The sophomores and freshmen tied for second place.

In the final game both the Senior and the Sophomore teams were well organized and showed good teamwork, but the sophs were unable to equal the strong senior offensive. Eleanor Rozar, playing left wing, scored the first goal in the first half. Vera Lee Thornton, playing center forward, brought the score to 2-0 in the second half.

Vera Lee Thornton and Eleanor Rozar are responsible for all of the Senior goals made this year, Thornton having scored four points and Rozar having scored two. The Senior team as a whole showed better stick-work than any other team.

The team of the Class of '35 lacked offensive power, failing to score in any of the games played. The team had a strong defense however, and put up a good fight in every game.

The strength of the Soph team lay in the forward line. Although the backfield was comparatively weak, it supported the rest of the team very efficiently. Katherine Liles was responsible for two of the Sophomore goals and Hazel Boswell and Geneva Gillespie each accounted for one.

Although a number of the freshmen had never before played hockey, the team made a favorable showing in all of its games. With a little more practice and experience, the freshmen will no doubt prove dangerous competitors for the championship.

The results of the championship games were as follows:

BARBER BIOLOGY CLUB

The second meeting of the Barber Biology Club was held last Thursday night in the senior parlor. The topic of the program was diseases. Such important questions as, "Whether cancer is curable" and "How long do we remain susceptible to colds" were discussed. Louise Helsebeck, Mary Creath, Elizabeth Davidson, and Helen Sears took part on the program.

STUDENT LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The Student League of Women Voters held its meeting Tuesday afternoon, November 28, in the Senior Parlor. The subject of the afternoon was a discussion of the "Cabinet," and in this the various officers and the duties of each were brought out.

Ella Lee Yates, President of the League, has stated that the League is planning to give a minstrel some time in the near future for the purpose of raising funds for the expenses of the club.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club met Tuesday, November 28 in the clothing laboratory. At this time Miss Taylord spoke to the club on the subject of Home Economy and Social Service.

CLASSICAL CLUB

Dr. Price will hold the Saturnalia Meeting of the Helen Hull Law Classical Club on Saturday, December 9. It will be held at the home of Mrs. Tilghman on 425 N. Bloodworth Street. The time of meeting will be stated in the invitations.

GLEANINGS

"The University of Texas at Austin has recently received a first edition of the authorized translation of the Bible, familiarly known as the King James translation, printed in 1611. Because of its influence upon the development of the English language and literature it has come to be called the greatest in the world."—The University Echo. The Argonistic.

According to the international News Service, co-eds in Soviet Russia are majoring in shoe making and minor-ing in carpet weaving so that they may prepare themselves for careers in the industrial world.—The Argonistic.

Football has been discarded for rodeo sports at the Cheyenne School at Colorado Springs. Bucking horses and wild steers are considered less dangerous by Dr. Lloyd Shaw, Superintendent.—The Carolinian.

"An inquiry made at Harvard revealed that most students carry on their person an average of 22 cents. The average at Miami University is six cents."—Old Gold and Black.

Any Sophomore, Junior or Senior making an average of C may own an automobile. There were five hundred on the campus last year. —The Duke Chronicle.

Occupations of fathers of students at Mercer lead with fifty-eight merchants with forty-two farmers taking second place.—Mercer Cluster.

Although Emory University in Georgia has an enrollment of 2,000 or more, it does not have intercollegiate sports. There are no home coming games, no fanatical football yells, and no heart-breaks over lost games. However, Emory is quite a thriving place; the students there are interested in their work. The graduates are among America's best. Maybe football isn't the most important factor in an institution of higher learning after all. —Old Gold and Black.

The Florida Flambeau informs us that on a recent tour through Tallahassee, Tom Mix voiced the opinion that the college girl of America is the finest in the world. Tom Mix has two daughters in institutions of higher learning; one is majoring in psychology and philosophy at Columbia University, and the other is in an Art School in San Francisco. Mr. Mix spends his leisure time reading and studying psychology. —Old Gold and Black.

At the Theatres

STATE

Clara Bow is coming to the State Theater on next Thursday, Friday and Saturday in her second and what is by all measures her outstanding production. It is "Hoopla" and it fits the dynamic little star like the proverbial glove.

Cast as a dancer in a carnival, Miss Bow releases all the dramatic facets that mark her personality. She is fiery and tender at once, carefree and deeply concerned, a hoyden and at the same time a sincere character who wants out of life the little happiness that it holds.

A Charlie Chase comedy, another of the Walt Desneys all color cartoons "Birds in the Spring," and a News completes this program.

"Tugboat Annie" and "Rasputin" form the latest cinema team. Marie Dressler and Lionel Barrymore, together come Saturday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to the State Theater in "Christopher Bean," which marks their first appearance as co-stars.

The new picture, a vivid drama based on the famous New York stage hit, presents both stars in characters unlike any they have ever played. Miss Dressler enacts Abby, the faithful old servant. Barrymore is seen as the kindly country physician who under the lash of avarice turns to a scheming, grasping scoundrel seeking to rob her—only to have the woman's faith turn him back again to his life-long path of honor.

A Musical comedy and News completes this program.

ANNUAL DINNER MEETING OF A. A. U. W. NOVEMBER 21

The Raleigh Branch of the A. A. U. W. will present a "Parent's Exposition" at Smith-Stevick's from December 6-9. This will include an educational exhibit of toys, books, pictures, clothing, musical instruments and other articles showing the play life of the child and the things that make for personality development. There will be programs for adults and children, with some out of town speakers.

Second Issue of Acorn Will Appear Soon

The next issue of the Acorn, which will appear December 8, will feature several interesting contributions: Among these are the poems of Ruamie Squires and a Christmas story by Virginia Farris. Mildred Moore has contributed an article of particular interest to music students, and to others as well, about Negro music. Two Freshmen have also contributed to the Acorn. Gaynelle Sorrell has written a Christmas story, and Mary Fay McMillan will satisfy more of our curiosity about China. Nine Binder and Elizabeth Austin also have articles written in their characteristic styles. Grace Lawrence, editor of the Acorn, has announced that there will be five issues of the Acorn this year, and that beginning with this issue complimentary copies will be given to the faculty.
