Keen Interest Shown in
Plans for Stunt Night

Plans for Stunt Night, which is to be held November 3, are creating a great deal of excitement among members of Meredith Student body. Despite the changes made in the plans for Stunt Night this year, which brought about some alterations of ideas, the class presidents agree that progress is being made. They are absolutely silent and cannot be persuaded, as yet, to impart even the slightest suggestion of their class's plans.

This year the stunts will be judged according to presentation, originality, and ability of the class to keep within the time limit. The winning class will be awarded the loving cup for a year's possession.

Stunt Night was first held in 1913. Mrs. William McCurray, Black Mountain, N. C., (nee Berte Brown, ex-'16) is given the credit for being the originator of the traditional event.

The loving cup was given for the first time in 1923. Since then Stunt Night has become more elaborate and original, affording opportunity for class rivalry.

"The Land of Heart's Desire"
Presented By Freshmen

On October 19, "The Land of Heart's Desire," by W. B. Yeats, was successfully given by the freshman class, under the direction of Mamie Lou Forney, president of the Little Theater.

The cast of the play was as follows: Maurteen Bruin, Mirvine Garrett; Bridget Bruin, his wife, Dorothy Howard; Shawn Bruin, their son, Jeanette Dunn; Maire Bruin, wife of Shawn Bruin, Jean Davis; Father Hart, Lucy Jackson; a Faery Child, Charlotte Webster. From backstage Margaret O'Brian sang an Irish song, the words of which were set to music by Louise Correll. Josephine Turner composed the music for the dance of the Faery Child.

Dr. E. M. Poteat to Speak
At Memorial Service

Dr. E. McNeil Poteat will deliver the address at the Memorial service for Dr. Delia Dixon Carroll, which is to be held in the college auditorium, Sunday afternoon, November 4.

Dr. Carroll, college physician since the beginning of the school, was dearly beloved by all connected with the college. Since many of her friends will be here on this week-end, it is an especially appropriate time for a service in memory of her.

There will be expressions of appreciation from several groups of her friends: Catherine Moseley, president of the student body, will represent the students and express their gratitude and love; Mrs. Ernest Leggett of Scotland Neck, head of the Meredith alumnae, will speak for Meredith graduates; Dr. Lemuel McMillan Freeman will represent the faculty; and Dr. J. Rufus Hunter will convey the appreciation of the trustees. Professor Spelman, of the music department, has charge of the special music for the service.

Classes in Contest for Magazine Subscriptions

With an indoor swimming pool as its goal, a magazine subscription contest has been launched by the Meredith student body. The drive is sponsored by the Curtis Publishing Company, publishers of the Saturday Evening Post, the Country Gentleman, and the Ladies Home Journal, which is giving Meredith students 65 per cent of the money realized on all subscriptions sold.

For the contest, the student body has been divided by classes into four sections, each of which is headed by the class president. Over the four groups are the commander-in-chief, Annie Mae Taylor, and the two faculty advisers, Miss Mae Grimmer and Miss Janie Parker. Each president has appointed lieutenants who report to her every day the progress the members of the class have made. They are: Elizabeth Poplin, senior class president, Caroline Garrison and Kathryn Privott, lieutenants; Norma Rose, junior class president, Christine Adams, Melba Gaskins, and Helen Ruffin, lieutenants; Sue Brewer, sophomore president, Susan Rudisill and Ruth Privott, lieutenants; and Kate Mills Suttor, freshman class president. Meredith Student Wins
Art Prize at State Fair

Effe Raye Calhoun, of Columbia, N. C., was given second prize for an oil painting in the art exhibit at the State Fair two weeks ago. The painting was done two years ago and entered by a friend, and its winning second place came as a complete surprise to Effe Raye.

Last year, Katherine Davis, '34, won first prize in oil paintings. This year's winner, Miss Lena Alice Tuttle, of Chapel Hill, is a former Meredith student.

Effe Raye was also given honorable mention for a flower study in oils.

Collegiate Press Convention
To Meet in High Point

The College Editors and Business Managers of the three publications are planning to attend the fall convention of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association, which is to be held in High Point, November 8, 9, and 10.

Ten North Carolina colleges will be represented, and around seventy-five delegates are expected to attend this meet.

This fall an elaborate program is being planned. The group discussions are to be continued and several prominent newspapermen from all over the state will be present to make addresses. The aim of this year's conference is to bring in the smaller colleges of the state hitherto not represented.

The officers of the association are as follows: Larry Martin of State, president; Thompson Greenwood of Wake Forest, vice president; Frances Hines of E. C. T. C., secretary; and Monk Livengood of Duke, treasurer.

The spring convention is expected to be held in Greensboro with W. C. U. N. C. acting as hostess.

Collection of New Books
Is Received By I. R. C.

Seven new books and three pamphlets have just been added to the International Relations Club book shelf in the library.

In recent months a great deal of attention has centered around what form the government of a country should take, special attention being paid to the Nazi government in Germany. Most of the new books were chosen with this topic in mind. To these have been added a book dealing with the question of international debts as it relates to the United States, and one discussing air warfare, which is a pertinent question at this time when investigations are being made as to the control of manufacture and sale of munitions. This book is supplemented by the two pamphlets containing speeches on the munitions question. The pamphlet on Chinese politics deals with still another world problem. A list of the books follows:

"Between Two Worlds," by Nicholas Murray Butler; "New Governments in Europe," by Raymond Leslie Buell; "The Air Menace and the Answer," by Elvira K. Fradkin; "The European War Debts and Their Settlement," by Wildon Lloyd; "The Soviet State," by Bertram W. Maxwell; "Crisis Government," by Lindsay Rogers; and "The Heritage of Freedom," by James T. Shotwell.

The pamphlets are: "The Constitution of the United States, The Declaration of Independence, and The Articles of Confederation"; "Chinese Politics Today," by Harold S. Quigley; and Reprints from Congressional Record of addresses on the Munitions Investigation, by Senator William E. Borah, March 5, 1935 and Senator Gerald P. Nye, March 6, 1934.

Meredith Hostess to State-Wide Delegation
at BanquetDr. T. G. Dunning Speaks to Large Audience at Youth
Fellowship Meeting

Dr. T. G. Dunning, a prominent young people's leader of England, was the speaker at the Youth Fellowship banquet, held October 18. Young people and their leaders from all over North Carolina were present.

Dr. Dunning opened his address with a good will message from the young Baptist of the World Alliance. He was delighted with the American institutions he had visited since his arrival to the United States, and speaking of Meredith said, "I wish my beloved England had a Meredith."

Every age has its own characteristics, and the speaker showed the relation of Baptist faith to the present age. This modern age may be marked by the intellectual ferment and the international frictions that are prevalent among all nations. Scientists are telling the secrets of human life and the universe, and there is also a great deal of religious unrest abroad.

Secular evangelists are putting forth every effort to spread their cause, and followers of Fascism and Hitlerism are "fingering their lives away on a questionable field." Dr. Dunning said, "We cannot afford to talk to Jesus in (Please turn to page three)

Walter Hampden to Appear in Raleigh

The opportunity of a life time for the play-goers of Raleigh and vicinity has at last come in the form of Walter Hampden as Hamlet, who comes to the State Theater, November 7 for one performance. This Hamlet, as played by Mr. Hampden, is the one by which all others are judged.

It is seldom indeed that a Shakesperian play featuring so fine an actor comes to Raleigh; and since the death of Edwin Booth, there has been no greater Shakesperian actor than Walter Hampden.

Mr. Hampden is also noted for his work in The Merchant of Venice, in which he co-starred with Ethel Barrymore, and for the role of Cyrano de Bergerac.

With Mr. Hampden come the rest of his company who furnish an adequate supporting cast.

Tickets for this performance may be secured by mail from the State Theater box office.

Dr. Johnson Speaks at Teachers' Association

In Asheville, October 19, Dr. Mary Lynch Johnson, Professor of English at Meredith College, talked to the English section of the Western North Carolina Teacher's Association on the subject of the place of English in Education, taking as her specific topic: "Literature is Neither New nor Old, but Eternal." The general theme for the Association was "Education for the New Era."

The same day at 1:00 o'clock luncheon, Dr. Johnson also talked to the Alumnae of Asheville, using as her subject "Miss Elizabeth Avery Colton," who was a pioneer in higher education of women in the South and who was for thirteen years, head of the English Department at Meredith College.
