

PATRONIZE
OUR ADVERTISERS

THE TWIG

LEAP YEAR
FEBRUARY
29

Volume XV MEREDITH COLLEGE, RALEIGH, N. C., FEBRUARY 29, 1936 Number 10

Total of Ninety-three Make First Semester Honor Rolls

Fifty-nine on First Honor Roll and Thirty-four Make Second Honors

Three Juniors and Two Seniors
Make Straight A's

A total of 93 Meredith girls attained the honor rolls for the fall semester 1935-36. Of these, 59 were on the first honor roll, and 34 were on the second, showing a slight increase over the fall semester last year.

Five girls averaged straight A for the semester. Those who made this record were: Edna Lee Pegram, Raleigh, and Norma Rose, Wadesboro; Seniors; Eleanor Edwards, Cary; Ethel Knott, Oxford; and Margaret Kramer, Elizabeth City, of the Junior Class.

The complete honor rolls are as follows:

FIRST HONOR

Nancy Allen, Wadesboro; Lisette Allgood, Roxboro; Alice Andrews, Raleigh; Nellie Ball, Raleigh; Ruby Barrett, Laurinburg; Flora Kate Bethea, Latta, S. C.; Nina Binder, Mount Airy; Margaret Blanchard, Rose Hill; Blanche Buffalo, Garner; Margaret Bullard, Raleigh; Henrietta Castlebury, Raleigh; Lucile Cates, Mebane; Mary Chandler, Durham; Beth Gilbert Crabtree, Raleigh; Mildred Ann Critcher, Lexington; Mildred Crowder, High Point; Elizabeth Davidson, Raleigh; Miriam Early, Winston-Salem; Eleanor Edwards, Cary; Dorothy Finlator, Raleigh; Melba Gaskins, Spring Hope; Alice Goodman, Raleigh; Madeline Hall, Woodsdale; Adelaide Harris, Norwood; Laura Mae Hilliard, Cary; Margaret Hines, Manteo; Mary Elizabeth Jenkins, Anacastia, D. C.; Catherine Johnson, Winston-Salem; Ethel Jones, Cary; Helen Jones, Selma; Betty Kichline, Raleigh; Ethel Knott, Oxford; Margaret Kramer, Elizabeth City; Mary Martin, Lexington; Martha Messenger, Port Washington, N. Y.; Kathleen Midgett, Elizabeth City; Ruth Nowell, Cary; Edna Lee Pegram, Raleigh; Jessie Mae Perry, Wingate; Lucy Mae Perry, Millbrook; Pauline Perry, Winston-Salem; Frances Pittman, Kinston; Alice Poe, Raleigh; Grace Porter, Rockingham; Helen Rivers, New Bern; Elizabeth Rodwell, Warrenton; Harriet Rose, Wadesboro; Norma Rose, Wadesboro; Helen Ruffin, Raleigh; Ruth Sears, Morristown; (Please turn to page three)

Biography Course Added To History Department

A new course in biography, taught by Mr. Samuel G. Riley, head of the history department, has been added to the curriculum of Meredith College. Typical biographies of leaders of radical movements, not confined to any period or country, are to be studied.

The general plan of the course is to have one student take the lead in the discussion by giving the life of the leader chosen for study. The rest of the students, who are expected to have read less detailed lives of the man, are to contribute to the discussion.

This course is not primarily designed for history majors; all students who have had freshman European history are eligible. For this semester, the course is to be a one hour course, meeting on Tuesday evenings at 6:45. It is not too late to register.

Recreation Evening Series Inaugurated February 24

On Thursday evening, February 24, Mrs. Sorrell inaugurated a series of Recreation Evenings with a program of games, songs, and marches for the sophomore class. Each of the other classes will have an opportunity to meet together as a class in the future. The limited space in the gym makes it necessary to confine the programs to designated sections of the student body.

These social get-togethers, beside providing a relaxation period and the spirit of fun for the participating groups, also enables would-be recreation leaders to assume responsibility and direct games. The Gym 60-61 class aids in the direction of the groups.

Mrs. Sorrell believes that the values of social get-togethers are many:

1. Socials enable us to handle large groups.
2. Socials are acceptable to communities where other activities are taboo.
3. Little equipment and no training is necessary for those who participate.
4. Responsibility can be divided among many, thus giving opportunity for leadership training.
5. In play, which is natural and en-

(Please turn to page three)

Seniors Do Supervised Teaching in Local Schools

Seniors who are planning to teach have been given assignments for supervised teaching in several of the Raleigh city schools. The thirty-five who are doing observation and teaching this semester are as follows: Fred Olds—Dorothy Andrews, Frances Calloway; Hayes-Barton—Mary Ann Brewer, Helen Ruffin, Mary Roselle Sears; Boylan Heights—Minnie Ruth McNeill, Dorothy Crutchfield, Elizabeth Rodwell; Wiley—Dorothy Finlator, Bertha Mae Futrelle, Mary Elizabeth Lawson; Needham Broughton—Hilda Williams, Nina Binder, Sonora Bland, Henrietta Castlebury, Mary Chandler, Mary Bynum Dark, Dorothy Dockery, Melba Gaskins, Virginia Ogletree, Lucy Mae Perry, Ida Leane Warren, Martha Williams, Catherine Moseley; Hugh Morson—Marjorie Gregory, Ruth Lovelace, Helen Melton, Helen Frances Parker, Violet Penny, Norma Rose, Ruth Alice Ward, Flossie Whitley; to be placed—Dorothy Dent, Christine Odum, Dorothy Tyson.

Candidate For Governor To Speak At Meredith

Dr. Ralph McDonald, a candidate for the next governorship of North Carolina, will address the Student League of Women Voters Thursday, March 12, at 5:00 o'clock, in the Rotunda. The president of the organization, Bertha Mae Futrelle, extends a cordial invitation to everyone to attend.

Dr. McDonald was formerly professor of economics at Salem College, relinquishing this position to become a member of the House of Representatives. In his candidacy for governor, he maintains the slogan "A New Deal for North Carolina." The speaker will discuss certain important issues of the day in our states.

DR. JOHN L. HILL

WEEK OF DEEPER SPIRITUAL THINKING TO BE MARCH 9-13

Dr. Hill To Hold Daily Services On Campus

Dr. John L. Hill, of Nashville, book editor of the Sunday School Board, is to be the speaker for the week of deeper spiritual thinking, March 9-13.

An unusually interesting program has been planned for that week. Dr. Hill, who is one of the most popular speakers in the South, will hold the regular morning chapel services, and in addition will speak every night at 6:45, and on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. Open forums will be held, when the students may talk informally with Dr. Hill.

Last year the week of deeper spiritual thinking was conducted by Dr. E. McNeill Poteat, of Raleigh. His theme was "Launch Out into the deep and let down your nets for a draught." Dr. Hill has not yet announced his topic.

A personality sketch of Dr. Hill will be found on page 4.

Orchestra Organized Under Direction of Miss Wagar

Recently an orchestra has been organized on the Meredith campus. This is the first time in five years that any definite action has been taken toward building up an orchestra here. Miss Pauline Wagar, 'cello and theory instructor of the Music Department, is director for the newly organized orchestra. At present there are ten members, including four violins, played by Olive Hamrick, Addie Belle Wilson, Julia Currin, and Mae Marshbanks; three 'cellos played by Lola Freeman, Edith Baucom, and Charles Freeman; and two wind instruments, played by Marjorie Thomas, and Betty Parker. Edith Britt is the accompanist for the orchestra.

There have already been two rehearsals, and in the future there will be a rehearsal each Tuesday afternoon at three forty-five in the auditorium. Outsiders as well as Meredith students are eligible to become a part of the orchestra. Anyone who is interested should see Miss Wagar as soon as possible.

COLLEGE CALENDAR

- Athletic Board Entertainment February 28.
- Civic Music Concert March 4.
- Faculty-Senior Basketball Game March 4.
- Society Plays March 6.
- Week of Deeper Spiritual Thinking March 9-13.

Court Declares Meredith Blameless In Silver Case

ALDEN G. ALLEY DISCUSSES "ETHIOPIA" FEBRUARY 17

Advocates Collective Security; Rejects Pacifism and Neutrality

"Ethiopia" was the subject of the address by Mr. Alden G. Alley in the College Auditorium Monday evening, February 17.

He hesitated that the institutions necessary for a peaceful community are: a community law-making body, a community court, and a community enforcing body. In addition a peaceful community must have "citizens intellectually and morally fitted for peace."

Mr. Allen is well qualified to speak with authority on many subjects relating to the future peace and war of the world, having fought in the World War, traveled extensively in Europe, and attended ten sessions of the League of Nations.

In advocating collective security for the world, he emphasized his statements by a comparison with Raleigh without a police force.

The League of Nations has called out against Italy the World Police Force of economic and financial forces. The League has refused to sell Italy war supplies, to ship her the secondary supplies of war, to lend her money and to buy from her.

The nations of the world, according to Mr. Alley, are divided into three types: the status quo nations, such as France in whose favor the treaties after the War were made; the "Timid nations" among which is the United States of America; and the unsatisfied nations, Italy, Germany, and Japan.

Mr. Alley rejected pacifism and declared that neutrality is impossible. "Everybody has to do something and be willing to pay the price of world peace."

Vienna Choir Boys Appear In Third Civic Concert

The third of a series of four concerts this season under the auspices of the Raleigh Civic Music Association will be given in the Hugh Morson High School Auditorium, March 2, by the famous Vienna Choir Boys who are on their fourth American tour.

This choir had its beginning six years after the discovery of America, in 1498, when the monarch Maximilian decreed that a daily mass must be sung by a chorus of boys and ordered that the court orchestra train and tutor such a body. Since that time the institution has continued to grow from eight boys to eighty. They have always occupied the former imperial residence, where they pursued academic and musical studies and were maintained by the state.

Their concert tours take them to most of the European capitals, but the especially festive occasions for them are the Sundays and high church holidays when they sing with the entire ensemble of the Vienna State Opera and the Philharmonic Orchestra.

Their program will include madrigals, Catholic liturgical and other religious music, as well as folk and (Please turn to page three)

Friends of College Agree to Raise Subscription for Bills

Charitable Institutions May Not Be Held Liable is Ruling

In Superior Court on February 11, 1936, Meredith College was exonerated of any further complications in the suit of Lois Sallie Silver, plaintiff, versus Meredith College, Incorporated, defendant.

The action had its origin two years ago when Lois Silver was a student at Meredith. Performing an experiment in organic chemistry laboratory, she neglected to follow the directions given her. As a result the chemicals boiled up and into her eye. Later, she lost the sight of this eye.

After a few preliminary procedures, the plaintiff asked for a compromise outside of court, by which she would receive from the defendant an amount sufficient to cover her hospital and doctor bills. The defendant declined to make any such compromise. Thereupon Miss Silver exonerated the college and all of its agents, after which friends agreed to contribute funds to cover the desired medical expenses. Following is an account of the judgment:

The above entitled action duly and regularly coming on to be heard and being heard before His Honor M. V. Barnhill, Judge, and a jury:

HEREUPON it appears to the Court and the Court finds and adjudges:

1. That Meredith College is a charitable corporation and that as such it would not be responsible for the negligence or torts of its employees, if any such negligence there should be, and that none of its funds or properties are or would be subject or liable to levy or sale under execution.

2. That there was no negligence on the part of Meredith College or any of its teachers, employees, or agents in connection with the surplus suffered by the plaintiff, and that the plaintiff's injuries were suffered by her while she was not following the instructions properly given to her, and that the defendant is not liable to the plaintiff on account of the injuries she suffered.

3. That certain friends of the parties have agreed to contribute liberally out of their own resources toward the expenses incurred by the plaintiff for

(Please turn to page two)

Advanced History Classes Do Research for Commission

Several students in advanced history classes are doing research for markers for historic spots.

The legislature provided a fund which enables these markers to be placed under the supervision of Dr. C. C. Crittendon, Secretary of the Historical Commission. The following girls will check up on the date and prepare it for the markers: Eleanor Andrews, Mary Chandler, Mary B. Dark, Dorothy Dockery, Dorothy Finlator, Ida Fuller, Salle Matthis, Ida Leane Warren, Clara Colvard, Marjorie Gregory, Ruth Lovelace, Minnie Ruth McNeill, Catherine Moseley, Mildred Patterson, Hilda Williams, Martha Williams, Mary Johnson MacMillan, Katherine Shuford, Grace Cashwell, Martha Mae Glazener, Ethel Knott, Katherine Malloy, Frances Pittman, Frances Tatum, Helen Whitehurst, and Gwendolyn Kester.