

Athletic News

Well, playmates, basketball is certainly rolling along these days, and it looks as if the seniors are once more going to be proclaimed basketball champions. The junior team got off to a bad start by losing to the seniors, but rallied somewhat in the game with the sophomores and gave them a good run for their money, losing 35-34. The freshmen tied the sophs to a 39-39 score, playing one of the best games of the season.

And all of our wise words about supporting your class teams might as well have been written in water-they seemed to have impressed nobody. Anyway, we still think the teams should have better support from the side lines and can't think it very sporting of the students not to do their share.

Golf instruction is still going onand get this: It counts for one hour on your regular gym class-and that's saying a lot. If the weather continues good members of the classes are going out to the Raleigh golf association links to play. We already know of some girls who are practicing up on such choice expressions as "Fudge" or "Goodness Me" to be used in place of the customary strong expressions that New I. R. C. Books Donated one employs when one meets with difficulty on the golf course.

And my friends, what happened that so few of you attended the tea given by Miss Warner, Miss Grimmer, and Miss Mason? Of course I'll admit that an athletic column is a peculiar place to mention teas, but even we Athletic Amazons have our tender moments. So the next time anyone is thoughtful and kind enough to provide a tea in your honor, be sure to rose; American Neutrality by Charles go-you'll talk about anything from Seymour; By Pacific Means by Manthe swimming pool project right on ley O. Hudson; Peace in the Balkans down to the best methods for dissecting a doglish shark, as well as enjoying good tea and very tasty cakes.

Mr. Tyner Speaks At Church and P.-T. A.

In the absence of the pastor, Dr. J. Powell Tucker, Professor B. Y. Tyner filled the pulpit of the First Baptist Cherch on Sunday, February 16. He used as his subject "The Foundations of the Kingdom," in which he stressed the individual as the vital factor, but also emphasized the relative growth of the Kingdom in terms of the individual's attitude toward his fellow beings. He used as the text Mark 9:50 -"Have salt in yourselves and live peaceably with all men."

Professor B. Y. Tyner spoke on Tuesday evening to the Parent-Teacher Association of the Lewis School using as his subject "The Child as the Future Citizen." He brought out the fact that there are four great influences operating to determine the behavior of the individual, namely: (1) heredity, (2) surrounding or environment, (3) previous experience of the individual including formal training or education, and (4) the present state of the individual including health, vitality, emotional condition, attitude, etc. In this talk Professor Tyner stressed the importance of the parents' realization that character building is a continuous process from birth through the whole life of the individual, and that all forces of one's environment to which he responds are factors in personality and character building.

Ideal Man As Desired By Wellesley Girls

Anybody knows that a good proporion of the conversation among members of one sex is about members of the other sex.

Young women in a writing seminar at Wellesley College were enough in terested in each other's opinions about men to take a written canvass of the class in order to determine each girl's qualifications for her "ideal man."

One list, that of a brilliant poetess includes these points:

- 1. He must take a woman as a per-
- son, not as a woman. 2. He must be honorable.
- 3. He must be tolerant in every way

-this is most important. 4. He must have a broad interest (character, social ease, intelligence).

Another young author's list was

- 1. He must be generous.
- 2. He must be ambitious.

The third list, that of a millionaire's

- of graciousness that goes with a pipe they come. and tweeds.
- 2. He should be helpless at times.
- 3. He must be a real person—threefourths of all men have only a superficial knowledge of life.
- 4. He doesn't have to have a "moral" character.

Strangely, not one of the girls mentioned wealth or social position. After the answers were read in the class, a visiting married woman asked for the floor and declared, "You girls have been picturing saints, not men. In the first place, he should be intensely masculine. Then he should be broadminded-that's about all you can ask."

B. S. U. Notes

"And, if I be lifted up, I will draw all men unto me," "Do We Love enough to lift Him?" was the theme for Morning Watch as the Meredith girls observed a week of prayer for Home Missions. Some of the topics

"Do We Love the Foreigner?" by Lucile Sherron.

"Do We Love the Indian?" by Norma Rose.

"Do We Love the Mountaineer, the Deaf and the Needy?" by Virginia

"Do We Love the Negro?" by Martha Glazener.

"Do We Love the Cuban and Jew?" by Katherine Liles.

But prayer is not enough. Prayer must be supported by giving and each Meredith girl is asked to bring her Annie W. Armstrong offering for Home Missions to the circle meeting on her hall Sunday night.

Prayers supported by gifts WILL lift up Christ to those in the South
