Commencement News

Alumnae, have you put "Meredith Commencement" on your social calendar, from May 29-June 1? If not, do so now.

Hospitality Committee

Janie Parker Dixon of Raleigh has a corking good committee to greet you. Someone from each reunion class, along with a score of others will be on the job in the Rotunda—Alumnae Headquarters—from Friday, the 29th, on to the end. This committee is planning to give you a hearty welcome, to properly register you and to make the Rotunda an interesting drop-in place between events. At intervals the Meredith movies will be shown.

Mabel Claire Hoggard Maddrey

Will call the semi-annual business meeting to order at 10 a.m., in the Astro Hall Saturday. She is a "minute man," so be on time! The program, besides the routine of business, will include piano solos by Edith Hall of Fayetteville, Bert Brown McMurray's speech on "Degree for Alumnae-Master Citizens," of course a welcome by Dr. Brewer, and our own alumnae president's message.

The Luncheon

Mary Norwood Vann of Raleigh and her committee are making arrangements for the annual luncheon. It will be in the college dining hall at 1 p.m., following the business meeting on Saturday. Anna Kitchin Josey of Scotland Neck will be toastmistress and make the occasion a lively one. Margaret Pope McIntyre of Lumberton will make her fiddle talk, and Mabel Martin of Apex will warble her best. The Granddaughters will do their part, and so will everyone else. If you wish a plate reserved, let the Alumnae Secretary know before May 28. The luncheon is May 30.

Reunion Classes

All alumnae are invited to Commencement, but the Dix plan so wills that the classes of '11, '13-'14-'15-'16-'26-'34 and '35 have special reunions. Doubtless all reunion classes will appear not only en masse at the luncheon, but also at their own private class meetings sandwiched between events. Be on the alert for notice of a special class meeting.

1911's be on hand from the beginning to the end, for rumor has come to the alumnae office that you'll have a special reunion class meeting.

1913's come along and reunite with the whole generation, 13-14-15-16.

Kate Johnson Parham vows that the 1914's will have a special reunion meeting.

Isabell says to the 1915's: "Let's all be at the college bright and early Alumnae Day and take in the whole program. Then will you not meet me immediately after the class day exercises for a class meeting? We'll arrange for the place later."

Members of Class of '16

"I hope each of you will try to be at commencement. We all know Bert Brown used to be a talker and it seems as though she still is. Let's all get together and be there to give her a hand. Mae is expecting us all, so don't fail her." Nell Covington Hardee.

To the Class of 1926

"Fame of prophet assured. Startling revelations of ten years ago proved by time. Come and see how accurately the famous Bernice Hamrick foretold the future." Margaret Wheeler Kelly.

Come 34's

"To our Alma Mater's doors, For on our sisters' class day We must sing their blues away.

So rack your brain for all the news. P.S. Don't forget your alumnae dues."

Katherine Davis.

And Now 35's

The last, and shall we say best? come join the celebration.

1911 Ahead

It is too early to predict which class will receive the award for having the most active membership. For the present the 1911's may gloat for they are ahead with a score of 24 per cent. Alumnae dues are $2.00.

Other Events

Other events will include the annual concert, which will occur on Friday evening, May 29; the Senior Class Day exercises at 5 p.m., in the grove, and the society programs on Saturday evening; the morning and evening sermons on Sunday by Dr. E. McNeill Poteat, Jr., of Raleigh; the Art Exhibit in the college parlors at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon; and the graduating exercises at 10:30 with Dr. Bernard C. Clausen of Pittsburgh, Pa., as speaker on Monday, June 1.

The social calendar will be pretty crowded with class reunions and other parties. And too, Dr. Julia Harris will entertain her "Lit. Critters" at breakfast on Sunday at 8 a.m.

Chapter Meetings

The Goldsboro Chapter held a meeting on Monday, April 13. Sallie B. Privette, freshman, gave interesting highlights of the college. Ethel Lyles, ex-'34, is president of the chapter.

The Haywood County chapter held its second meeting on May 2. Mrs. Addie Tyner Baucom is president—and by the way, she has a freshman daughter in college.

The Wake County Chapter will hold its last meeting of the spring on Monday evening, May 11. Carolyn Mercer, '22, has been president of the chapter for two years.

Mrs. Gordon Maddrey's (Mabel Claire Hoggard) commencement letter will reach you very soon. It may go in an envelope bearing a one and one-half cent stamp. Be sure to open it and read it. Enclosed with her letter will probably be a questionnaire and other information.

The last call for COUPONS. Send them in now and then bring to commencement what you accumulate between now and then.

We regret the passing of Mrs. Charles Cree Hunter (Catherine Nobles Baines), of the class of 1926, of Oxford, on March 14, and extend deepest sympathy to her family and friends.

Birth

Born to Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Page (Gladys Blaylock, '30) of Morrisville, a son, Millard Wilson, on April 20.

Marriage

William Elizabeth Harrelson, '33, and Dr. Robert Louis McGee, on April 28. At home, 16 North Dawson St., Raleigh.

Mrs. Bowden Speaks To Students On Emergency Campaign

from June 8 to 19 in order to educate properly and train the representatives from colleges in this vicinity, who will later spend the summer spreading peace propaganda.

Already delegates have been chosen from the Duke Women's College and Guilford College, whose expenses are to be paid by interested individuals and groups in the community. The expenses for the whole time for one person will amount to approximately $150. If a student can pay $75, the National treasury will pay the remainder.

This campaign is something which affects all of us, and we should think seriously about it. If we cannot go ourselves, certainly we can send or help to send some one who can go.
