

Athletic News

By BETTY PARKER

How many of you really know what is happening in athletics here at Meredith? I do wish more of you would take advantage of the sports instead of staying in your rooms on such lovely, fall days.

Two interclass hockey games have already been played. One between the Junior and Sophomore classes and the other between the Senior and Sophomore classes. The Juniors won their game 3-0, with goals made by Harriet Rose, Eleanor Rodwell and Ernestine Neighbors. In the Senior-Sophomore game the score was 4-2 with the Seniors victorious. The goals for the Seniors were made by Martha Messenger and Pinky Davis; Messenger, 3, and Davis, 4. Lettie Hamlett and Betty Lyon each made a goal for the Sophomore team.

Fifteen girls are sticking to their swimming and do they have high hopes! Some hope to swim in the next Olympic games, I hear. Anyway, a senior life-saving course is no easy thing to pass and when they do pass it they will have something to be proud of.

The day has come that we've all worked so hard to make a success. I hope it will be enjoyed by every one and will be marked as a red letter day in your school years.

DR. HENDERSON GIVES ADVICE ON HOW TO STUDY

During Student Chapel hour on Wednesday, October 30, Dr. Henderson of the Psychology Department made a talk on "How to Study." His talk was based on the Self-Recitation theory. First, the pupil reads his lesson to get the idea as a whole. Next he reads it breaking the topics into units. The third time he questions and outlines important points of each section. This method improves thought development and gives the pupil self-confidence and a feeling of mastery of the subject.

Dr. Henderson stressed regularity in studying. "Have a regular time and regular place for study. Find the proper environment and have your working tools close by. You can't work efficiently at a cluttered desk. Nor can you concentrate when lighting, ventilation, or temperature demand attention."

Among his "Don'ts" were: "Don't continue reading when half asleep. Get up and wash your face. Flunkers often study longest—don't substitute the motions for the real thing."

SOPHOMORES LEAD IN INTER-CLASS TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Inter-class tennis tournaments have been going on for four weeks. Five matches have been played and the sophomores are leading. At the close of these matches, St. Mary's and Peace are to be invited for a match here on November 21.

Members of Student Government: Student Council, 3; International Relations Club, 3; secretary of Needle Work Guild; stunt, 1; Barber Biology Club; Campus Council, 3; K. K. Club; College choir.

Margaret Love Clarke, Georgia: Treasurer of Student Government, 3; student representative of Student Council, 2; International Relations Club; secretary of Needle Work Guild; stunt, 1; Barber Biology Club; Campus Council, 3; K. K. Club; College choir.

Advice, Rain, Roofs and Reminiscence

By ANNIE ELIZABETH COWARD

Chewing my pencil pugnaciously, I sit in a sad and pensive state of slow deliberation, pondering upon the merits of drowning as opposed to heart failure. A week ago I marched down to the Arts Building and water trickled on my nose, took the curl out of my hair and made me realize my shoe soles weren't what they used to be! There was no need for a new swimming pool; we had pools all over the campus. I have jumped puddles and moved chairs, but the grand climax came when I spied, in a submerged history room, one little Freshman calmly seated in the midst of the spray with an umbrella raised over her, and looking like Noah must have felt when the forty days' rain fell.

Overhead the earsplitting knocks of a hammer set my hair on end and my foot on a gallop, as if to rebuke me for my unfair resentment of rain-drenched classrooms. My psychology sadly neglected on account of a tempting and weight-lifting feast upon golden brown chicken and black smudgy fudge, I turn to the bedlam above for inspiration and stimulus. Ah, yes there is a certain personality to the blows. A steady hard rain of them takes me back to the good old days when I pounded vigorously upon an innocent hunk of tough steak, while the coffee boiled over and the frying pan played hide and seek. The quick steady knocks, one every few minutes, are an unwelcome reminder of the times I crept around on all fours, a fly swatter in one hand and an evil and greedy gleam in my eye, only to pound murderously and gleefully upon the anatomy of a common fruit fly, while papa offered a penny a dozen from the side lines. When a sum total of the world's off-tones and noises fall simultaneously upon a doubtfully up-over roof, I grin from ear to ear and remember my best study moments at home—the telephone ringing, the radio soaring, two babies expanding their lungs to the fullest capacity and my sister yelling at me to do the dishes.

"The knocking is over," says Professor Henderson. Bam! whang! And down comes the hammer in joyful respite! Alas, says Wordsworth, "The world is too much with us."

Meredith-State Class of Pullen Memorial Enjoys Picnic

Camp Craig again lived up to its reputation of being a favorite spot for Raleigh collegiates when the Pullen Memorial Sunday School class held its fall picnic there November 5.

Over one hundred Meredith and State students sang songs, roasted wieners, and contributed to the holiday spirit of the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Johnson chaperoned those attending.
