

AN INTERVIEW WITH TEACHING SENIORS

By MILDRED ANN CRITCHER

For the last few weeks some of the seniors have been practicing their wits and abilities in teaching in the Raleigh public schools. Hearing their rebellion, "If I ever get through with this mess!", or just mild, "It's more fun!" the rest of us are to consider such an enterprise as an unexciting undertaking. But, agreeably or disagreeably, it has proved quite different.

It seems that a great many of them can't get through those tedious weeks without eminent peril to their own dignities. The little ones with sunny curls and shy smiles have often been mistaken for students. Long walks in the rain to other entrances and reprimands for loitering in the halls have been the outcome of these girls' inability to look their age.

Classroom incidents have gone a little beyond the dull and added zest to the ordeal. One girl vainly argued with a little boy for an hour, trying to make him believe it was cold at the South Pole. He contended that that's where the sun is. Another, reproving a youngster for mild profanity, was met with, "Yes, Ma'am, I swear I'll never do it again." Margaret Kramer, with profuse blushes stood helplessly before her class, while they constantly misconstrued the meaning of her really quite proper questions.

But local color shone brightest in the hearts of the high school boys. The girls passed through the school halls to meet, modestly, the winks and nods of the many young Romeos, by whom they were regularly besieged in the afternoons after class. Dates and dainties swamped them, and every day, coursing toward the bus stop, they had their books borne for them. One was greeted, upon a call for questions in Latin, with a bold statement "Ego amo te," which, though properly dismissed, was brought up again after class with the audacious inquiry, "Did you know what I meant?" But much of our bewitching talent was manifested in Annabelle Hollowell, whose dimples and curls inspired an amorous lyric from one of her pupils, who offered it for publication in the school paper.

The price for getting a man beaten up on the lower side of New York has risen from a depression low of $40 to a new high of $60.—Today.

A sure sign of Americanism is the placing of huge signs on every piece of ground obtainable alongside our highways.

School teachers in North Carolina's public high schools number 28,000.—Clipped.

George Moras was the first senior to vote in the senior class election.

BERNIES'

Wishes You

—a—
Very Merry Christmas

—and—
A Happy New Year

JUST ONE MORE WEEK
To Have Sitzings

For Christmas Pictures
Reorders Filled Promptly

DENMARK'S

Athletic News

The official hockey season is over, but not without a last word or two concerning this sport. Forty girls won points towards their monogram by participating in this sport. The team of the Class of '38, with Ann Poteat as captain, remains the champion team. The varsity team, with Pauline Davis as captain, played games with St. Mary's team and Duke's team, tying in one game and winning in the other.

The soccer season opened on Monday, December 7, with a large group of Freshmen and Juniors coming out. This sport, which is new on our campus, is being managed by Jerry Tuttle. It is hoped that many students will participate in this sport, so come on out and help organize your class team. Juniors and Freshmen will practice every Monday at 4:30 o'clock; Seniors and Sophomores, every Wednesday at 4:30 o'clock.

For the second successive season, the Junior Hockey team won the Hockey cup. Playing three of the nine games of the season, the team was not scored against last year or this year. The scores for this past season's games are: Junior-Freshmen, 7-0; Junior-Sophomore, 2-0; Junior-Senior, 3-0. Ann Poteat is captain of the team. The line up consists of: center forward, Harriet Rose; right inner, Mirvine Garrett; left inner, Ernestine Neighbors; right wing, Jane Yelverton; left wing, Eleanor Rodwell; center half, Wilba Mills; right half, Anne Poteat; left half, Jane Nading; left full, Frances Olive; right full, Vivian Buffalo; goalie, Kilton Peele. Substitutes are Dot Haywood and Dot Howard.

We Specialize
in Cleaning, Repairing
and Remodeling
Ladies' Suits and Coats
HILKER BROS.

Clubs

COLTON ENGLISH CLUB

At the last meeting of the Colton English Club, Dr. Mary Susan Steele spoke on the subject, "Women's Dress In The Age of Shakespeare." Betty Kichline had charge of the program. Plans for a Club banquet on December 18 were made.

BARBER BIOLOGY CLUB

At the last meeting of the Barber Biology Club the subject "Modern Warfare Against Disease" was discussed by the new members of the club.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The International Relations Club met December 1 in the rotunda. The topic "Russia" was discussed by Frances Pittman and Anne Poteat. This was followed by a discussion of current events by all members. Catherine Aldridge will have charge of the program at the January meeting.

STUDENT LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The Student League of Women Voters held their meeting December 9. The speaker for the afternoon was Mr. Arch Allen who spoke on "Legislative Outlook."

LOOK YOUR BEST
During the Christmas Holidays
With a Lovely New
Permanent Wave
From the
THE PERMANENT
MARCEL BEAUTY
SHOP

Phone 2716
Capital Club Bldg.

B. S. U. Notes

The B. S. U. Council members were invited in to after dinner coffee, December 7, by Misses Hazel Clarke and Susan Steele. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Townsend and Misses Warner and Grimmer.

Sunday, December 13, at Vespers there will be the Christmas program and tree in honor of the Lottie Moon Christmas offering. Let's make our goal!

Mr. Perry Crouch, Secretary of the Department of Christian Education of the B. S. U. Convention, is to speak to the Meredith students, December 17.

On Tuesday, December 8, the Young Peoples' class of Hillyer Memorial Christian church, of which Maurine Winfree is president held its business and social meeting in the college parlors.

The Meredith Tabernacle class and Wake Forest boys had a "get together" last Saturday night. Both the Wake Forest boys and the Meredith girls presented delightful programs.

The Meredith class at Pullen Memorial church and the members of the brother class at Wake Forest will have a joint social Saturday, December 12, in the Astro Hall.

For Christmas Gifts—

Fountain Pens : Memory Books
Bill Folds : Zipper Cases
Ash Trays
Stationery

CHRISTMAS CARDS
and Wrappings

THIEM'S

MEMBERS OF FACULTY TO ATTEND VARIOUS MEETINGS DURING THE HOLIDAYS

A number of the faculty are planning very interesting trips for the week after Christmas. Dr. Harris, Dr. Johnson, Miss Porter, and Miss Allen are to be in Richmond, Virginia, for meetings of the Modern Language Association. Miss Barber plans to go to Atlantic City, where the American Association for the Advancement of Science is scheduled to convene. Dr. Henderson will attend a convention of the American Philosophical Association at Harvard in Cambridge, Mass.

The Excitement of Christmas Shopping

Is Best Ended by a Visit to

CAPITAL CLUB
SODA SHOP

Capital Club Building

S-T-A-T-E

AGAIN TODAY and SATURDAY
MAE WEST in
"GO WEST, YOUNG MAN"
— with —
Randolph Scott - Warren Williams

SUNDAY and MONDAY
Barbara Stanwyck - Joel McCrea
— in —
"BANJO ON MY KNEE"

TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY
Herbert Marshall - Katharine Hepburn in
"A WOMAN REBELS"

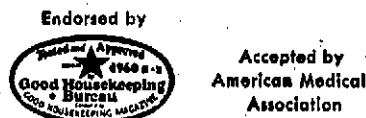

GIRLS, YOUNG AND BEAUTIFUL
NEW SEVENTEEN

KEEPS YOU THAT WAY!

And if you suffer from Hay-fever, Rose-colds,
Dermatitis or similar afflictions, our

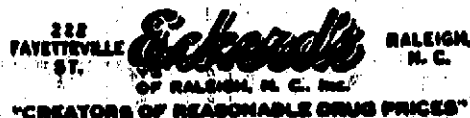

Non-Allergic

PREPARATIONS WILL NOT IRRITATE YOU!

CREAMS - SKIN TONICS - TOILET WATERS - POWDERS
LIPSTICKS - EYESHADOW - ROUGE - BRILLIANTINE
PERFUME

We Particularly Recommend
SPECIAL FORMULA
Expressly Created for That "Out-Door" Skin
Corrective Cleansing Cream
For the "After-Class" Face
and they all are within the limit of your allowance!

GIRLS What could be nicer
to take home to mother
and sister than
GIFT SLIPPERS

Rich velvets... genuine glove kid leathers...
topped with sherline fur
... brocades... and many others. Beautiful colors. Come to "Slipper Headquarters" for this most popular of gifts.

... a holiday array of all the newest and prettiest at just

$ 1

Beautiful Silk Hosiery

FREE! A TREASURE BOX
WITH THREE PAIR

59 c Pr

SMART NEW BAGS $ 1.00

VANITY
Beautiful Shoes

"Headquarters For Christmas Gifts"