

PEARL JOHNSON CIRCLE HOSTESS

Freshmen Entertained at Home of Mrs. Boomhour

The Pearl Johnson Circle of the Tabernacle Baptist Church entertained at tea on two occasions honoring members of the freshman class of Meredith College. The first party was held at the home of Mrs. J. G. Boomhour on Hillsboro Road, and the second party at the home of Mrs. E. H. Broughton on Hillcrest Road.

Greeting guests at the home of Mrs. Boomhour was Mrs. Harry Cooper, who directed them to the living room where they were presented to members of the circle. The guests were then invited to the dining room where tea was poured and dainty sandwiches were served. The centerpiece in the dining room was a lovely arrangement of yellow and lavender dahlias and yellow candles, emphasizing the W. M. U. colors. Yellow cosmos and other fall flowers and burning candles decorated other rooms of the residence.

Mrs. Harry Cooper registered the fifty guests who attended in the guest book. Good-byes were said by Mrs. Boomhour.

CONSTITUTION DRIVE STARTED

Constitutions of All Organizations to Be Put on File

The student body of Meredith has voted to accept a recommendation of the Academic Council that a "constitution campaign" be carried on in all clubs on the campus. Each club has agreed to write a constitution if it does not have one, or to carefully review and modernize its old one. A copy of the revised or new constitution will be filed in some place such as the office of the Dean of Women, the library, or Miss Rhodes' office. This will be of great benefit to incoming officers who are not certain as to what duties they are expected to perform. In the past there has been no such systematic way of preserving the constitutions of clubs, and many officers were unable to find out from any reliable source what the laws governing their clubs are. This campaign is expected to be completed in the near future.

State BSU-YMCA Give Third Party

Concluding a series of three parties sponsored by the Meredith Baptist Student Union and Athletic Association and by the State College Baptist Student Union and YMCA, the State boys entertained at Pullen Hall on Saturday evening, October 29.

Alexander Smith, president of the Golden Chain, presided over a program given by the State boys, made up of tricks and hill-billy songs which were sung in a novel way. Dean E. L. Cloyd read from his little black note book, jokes on college students and college life.

The hall was decorated in orange and black, and ice cream, cakes and candy were served. Around thirty-six Meredith girls attended.

DR. B. F. BROWN CHAPEL SPEAKER

Economics Professor of State Tells of World Events

On Friday, October 28, Dr. B. F. Brown, professor of economics at State College, spoke to the students in chapel under the auspices of the International Relations Club on economic conditions of the world today.

In his speech Dr. Brown said, "The World War was a most profound failure in respect to the principles for which we said we were fighting." A list of the principles given are: making the world safe for democracy, fewer armaments, freedom of the seas, a world ruled by right instead of might, a world ruled by international law, and a freer trade so that the standards of living the world over would be higher. Dr. Brown compared Kaiser Wilhelm to Adolf Hitler, stating that the former is much more of a gentleman than Hitler as none of Hitler's promises can be relied upon.

The speaker gave some of the incidents that he believed had brought about the condition of the world today. Among these were the mistake of the United States in not joining the League of Nations, the inequalities of the treaty of Versailles, the folly of the indemnities which Germany and the conquered nations could not pay, the attempt of France to establish military control of Europe, and the failure of France and England to aid the Germans after the World War to establish a sound democracy. Dr. Brown stated that within the last decade the principle cause for the present economic conditions was the treason of English diplomacy as it was working in the interest of the English nobility to prevent its overthrow in the case of a future world war.

BARBER BIOLOGY CLUB MEETING IN ROTUNDA

Mrs. Charlotte Hilton Green Has Bird Study as Topic of Discussion

The Barber Biology Club met Friday night at 6:45 in the rotunda.

After a brief business meeting Mrs. Charlotte Hilton Green, author of several books on nature and editor of an article, "Out of Doors," which appears in the News and Observer, gave an interesting talk on "Birds." Mrs. Green told the girls that one way of studying birds was to get them around their homes. In order to interest the birds in home surroundings, Mrs. Green suggested the building of bird houses, baths, and feeding places.

In closing, Mrs. Green gave several suggestions to the girls who are planning to teach biology. She advised them not to put too much stress on scientific names, but to interest the pupils in everyday life.

COLTON ENGLISH CLUB HAS FIRST MEETING

Classical Club Is Guest, and Dr. Price Speaks About Her Experiences in Greece

The Colton English Club held its first regular meeting at 6:45 in the rotunda, October 20. The members of the Classical Club were guests at this meeting. Dr. Price spoke to the group on a phase of her trip abroad. She talked mainly on archeology and her experiences in Greece.

Preceding her speech, a short business meeting was held, presided over by Dorothy Reich, president of the club. Sada Louise Clark was elected vice president of the club, and several committees were appointed. A committee was appointed to work on the project which the club is undertaking. Those on the committee are Sada Louise Clark, chairman; Dorothy Byron, Charlotte Peebles, Miss Lanham and Miss Forgeus, faculty advisers. A committee composed of Carolyn Andrews, Carolyn Critchler, Annie Lee Tarleton and Dr. Johnson, faculty adviser, was appointed to write a constitution for the club.

Campus Leaders

Barbara Behrman is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mayes Behrman. The Behrmans came to Greensboro some years ago from Texas, and since that time Barbara has traveled a great deal.

That Barbara is a very versatile person anyone knows, for she is an ardent hockey player, excels in tennis, and successfully eludes most any basketball guard. She is an active member of the International Relations Club and Colton English Club. She was one of the first two girls in her class tapped into the Silver Shield Honor Society. A more faithful Phi cannot be found.

Collecting and reading good literature are her favorite pastimes, and she finds her greatest relaxation by singing in the bath-tub, and thinking—(about people who live in Florida?)

President of her class the junior year, she proved her skill and loyalty from stunt days through perilous "crooking" nights. Now she is president of the Baptist Student Union, and one cannot but feel the power and beauty of Christ through her everyday life on the campus.

Bobby is one of those leaders capable of meeting any situation with poise, dealing with any problem so that she is able to attain the desired results.

SOCIETIES HOLD REGULAR MEET

Freshmen Members Present Programs for Both Societies

The Astrotekton and Philaretian literary societies held their first formal meeting since the admission of the new members, Monday night at 6:45, October 24, in their respective halls.

Members of the freshman class were in charge of the programs for both societies.

Marysia Chmielinski of Brooklyne, Mass., program chairman for the new Astros, wearing a little-girl costume, presented a musical by the "Baby Astros." Anna Louise Anglade, native of Puerto Rico, sang a group of Spanish songs, and Mary Elizabeth Frans of Hickory, and Marguerite Whitley of Wilson, also rendered vocal solos. Dorothy Pender of Tarboro, society pianist, was accompanist for the singers. Virginia McGougan of Tabor City played a piano solo.

Following the program was a social hour at which novelty candies were served.

Elizabeth Pruitt of Hickory, was in charge of the program given by the new Phis, Mary Jane Lindley of Winston-Salem, president of the Philaretian Society, welcomed the new members, to which Mary Elizabeth Hallway of Durham, freshman class president, responded. Dorcas Potindexter of Winston-Salem, and Geraldine Powell of Raleigh, appeared in a dance number and Doris Jane Bordeaux of Bolton, gave a humorous reading. Louise Pruitt of Hickory and Frances Dixon of South Boston, Va., a new junior, sang several duets. A piano solo was rendered by Dorothy Maness of Polkton.

Following the program, a business session was held. The president named a committee to consider compulsory society attendance. Serving on this committee are the following representatives from each class: seniors, Dorothy Willson of Athens, Tenn.; juniors, Dorothy Bell of Currituck; sophomores, Mary Tilson Edwards of Troy; and freshmen, Nancy Calloway of Concord.

STUDENTS HEAR MISSION TALK

Mrs. Basil L. Lockett Relates Experiences In Africa

Returning to her homeland after having been in Africa for twenty-two years, Mrs. Basil Lee Lockett spoke to Meredith students in chapel on October 22.

Going with her husband, who was a medical missionary and who later became associated with Dr. George Green in hospital work, Mrs. Lockett lived in Nigeria, which is just across the continent from Ethiopia, "the country which when it was captured by Mussolini, caused most people to discover that there was such a continent as Africa."

Mrs. Lockett told her audience that there are twenty million people in Nigeria who do not know Christ and who beg for missionaries after they have learned of the Saviour. Although the country is under the control of the British government, the tribal chiefs have some part in its administration. Many of these people sleep on mats, and they mark their children with tribal symbols when they are only ten days old. Snakes and gnats constitute a part of their diet, and they eat from one large pot.

In describing the cannibalism that existed in the Northern part of a village that contained a bed of around two hundred and fifty stones placed in rows. These stones represented the number of men that had been killed and eaten by the tribe. She said that now many of the people had been saved, and quoted Dr. Lockett by saying, "Jesus Christ can save even a cannibal." Many of these people have come to believe in a Great Creator, yet they will not go to church because they feel that He is too holy for them to worship. However, they permit their children to attend.

Mrs. Lockett told the story of a native chief that was sent to the hospital in a dying condition. He confessed that he had offered human sacrifices and that he was a polygamist. Before he had completely recovered, he accepted God. Later he realized that his king would be angry if he refused to offer human sacrifices when he went back to his native village. He never lived to join the church.

STUDENT LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS MEETS

First Regular Meeting With New Members; Skit Present- ed on Graft and Schools

The Student League of Women Voters held its first regular meeting Friday, October 21, at 4:45 in the rotunda. Cora Burns, president of the club, welcomed all the new members and stated the purpose of the club. She said that this year the Student League is going to have the type of programs that the members desire. Several interesting speakers will be invited to speak to the club during the year.

Virginia Lee Watson, program chairman, had charge of the program. She introduced the skit given by a short talk explaining because he was killed, and the missionaries felt that he was buried secretly because he had accepted Christ.

In closing, Mrs. Lockett said that many natives wanted to know when more missionaries were coming. She said that we answered their questions with our prayers and sacrifices of money and our lives. "People in Africa who have not known Christ very long go out and work for him."

Dorothy Green introduced the speaker as one of those modern conveniences that you have in Africa—a good next-door neighbor.

what it was to be about. The skit which was in three acts presented how political graft may affect the schools. To illustrate this the case of the Madison County schools was used. The characters in the skit were Evelyn Marshburn, Sarah Hudson, Nancy Brewer, Nancy Bradsher, Mary Gwin Oliver, Betty Brown MacMillan, and Carolyn Andrews.

The following committees were appointed by the president: Program committee: Virginia Lee Watson, Evelyn Levine, Nancy Bradsher and Carolyn Andrews; reception committee: Evelyn Marshburn, chairman, Mary Gwin Oliver; absentee committee: Thomassine Herring, chairman, Ella Edkins, Marietta McLendon; room committee: Mary Elizabeth Foster, Mary Virginia Glenn; reporter, Betty Brown MacMillan.
