We think that we speak for the entire student body when we say that we have noticed a great improvement lately. On Friday and Saturday of last week we had two unusually good programs. Kazue Murata and Mrs. Lily Chow Djang talked to us and told us many amusing things about their countries. The undivided attention which their audience gave them proved that such programs are desired. We have other girls from distant lands, and it would be interesting to hear about their homelands. If all the programs were as interesting to the students as these were, there would be no cause for misconduct which we understand has brought about a lot of complaint. The chapel hour could be made a valuable part of the college life at Meredith. It is an excellent opportunity to offer educational as well as interesting programs.

We feel, too, that only a small percentage of our faculty takes an active part in our chapel programs. With such a capable faculty, we should have no trouble in having a variety of enjoyable programs.

Meredith's guest speaker in chapel on November 16 was Dr. Charles E. Maddry, secretary of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board. Dr. Maddry was formerly pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church in Raleigh, and at one time secretary of the Baptist State Convention. He expressed a love for other reasons, his daughter attended the college.

But Definitely . . .

When a college is mistaken for a penitentiary and an orphanage, it seems to us that it becomes a necessity to have some indication to the contrary. I have been told that some years ago prisoners were brought to Meredith by mistake, and I was personally asked if Meredith was not the Methodist Orphanage. Since our college is on the Scenic Route, we think that a sign telling who we are would prove to be an asset to the college.
