Sophomore's Win Cup Stunt Night, Second Place Won By Frosh

Other Cups Are Awarded to Winners of Afternoon Events—Seniors Get First Place in Palio and Step-Singing—Reserved Seats Are Won by Juniors—Alumnae Win Annual Sports Events—Freshmen Win Horse Race.

The sophomore class took first place in Meredith Annual Stunt Night contest. Honorable mention went to the freshman class. Addie Davis of Covington, Va., sophomore president, was awarded the loving cup by Dr. Frederick H. Koch of Chapel Hill. Dr. Koch was chairman of the judges for the stunts. Other judges were Miss Estelle Burt of Bule's Creek, Dr. A. M. Fountain, Miss Pat Abernethy and Mr. C. A. P. Moore, all of Raleigh.

TWIG PUBLISHES STUDENT EXTRA

On October 23 the Twig published an extra about Stunt Night which was held October 21. The extra consisted of one sheet of pink paper about twelve by fifteen inches. It was sold in the dormitories of the college last Monday afternoon by members of the Twig staff for three cents a copy. This is the first time that a Twig staff has published an extra.

The winning stunt was a "Knightmare," or romance written in blank verse. The programs were designed as medieval scrolls which were in keeping with the theme. The stunt itself was a take-off on a Meredith girl's romance competition with Saint Mary's and Peace colleges at neighboring men's colleges. The scene was in the Middle Ages. Cora Lee Burnett of Wilmington was seen as Lady Meredith; Harriet Noel of Goldsboro as Lady Peace; Mary Elizabeth Holloway of Durham as Sir State, best loved by Lady Meredith. Other characters were Elizabeth Rosenbloom of Scarsdale, N. Y., as the "Blue Duke" to whom Lady Meredith had been promised against her will. An interesting spot was the duel between Prince Carol of Carolina, played by Doris Jane Bordeaux of Bolton, and the Blue Duke. Twin brothers of Lady Meredith were Lord Wake and Lord Forest, played by Virginia Lancaster of Rocky Mount and Mary Sue Jackson of Raleigh. Cousin David of Davidson was played by Margaret Noel of Dunn.

NCCPA TO MEET IN RALEIGH SOON

Local Colleges Will Entertain Delegates November 2-4

The hostilities in Europe and the colorful reign of King Football in this country are the chief topics of conversation on our college campuses, according to a recent survey taken by a leading news agency. But to journalistically-minded collegians here in North Carolina the crisp autumn weather heralds the approach of another mighty important event... the annual Fall Press Convention.

Sherwood Staton of Wake Forest, president of the Association, has announced the dates for this year's get-together. It will be held on the week-end of November 2, 3, and 4 with the Hotel Sir Walter in Raleigh as the center of activity, and with the local colleges serving as hosts and hostesses. Those who attended the last convention held in Raleigh will recall that it was the largest in the history of the Association. With this as a challenge, Sherwood and his co-workers are rapidly completing plans for a convention that will top all previous marks. Stove Saller, executive secretary of the NCCPA, would like to get the names and addresses of all editors and business managers. —Continued on page 2.

TWIG MEMBER OF SURVEYS PLAN

Opinions of College Students Given on Various Issues

The Twig is now a member of the Student Opinion Surveys of America, the national weekly poll of college thought, which is similar to the Gallup and Fortune polls of national opinion. "The surveys offer to the college press what Dr. George Gallup offers to the U. S. press—a 'fourth dimension' in journalism," editors of the polls remark. In this poll a mathematical cross-section is established and the accurate opinions of college students in universities and colleges all over the country are measured. The project was started by the University of Texas Student Publications, Inc. Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president of the University, is the head of the survey's advisory board. Joe Belden is editor of the surveys. The purpose of the surveys is to report the opinions of American college students on social, economic, and political issues of the time. They do not in any way try to mold opinion, but do try to disclose the facts about sentiment about public issues among college students. They are an impartial account of the opinion of collegians in the United States. The interviewer will try to get the opinion of typical students of all classes, those who are working and not working.

PRE-MED TESTS GIVEN ON NOV. 28

Girls Applying For Medical School Entrance Must Take

The Association of American Medical College's Aptitude Test will be given in the Infirmary at 3:00 p.m., on November 28, 1939. This is the only time the test will be given this year. The test should be taken by all students who expect to apply for entrance to a medical school by the fall of 1940. The test has been adopted by the association as one of the normal requirements for admission. It measures one's ability to learn material similar to that which she will have in medical school. It also measures his general information and scientific background and his ability to draw accurate conclusions from a given set of data. Students should make application immediately to Dr. Bessie E. Lane. A fee of one dollar is required of each student taking the test.

Variety of Speakers, Entertainers, Changes In Announcements Improve Chapel Programs

There has been quite a lot of comment on the improvement of the chapel programs this year. There also seems to be an increase of interest on the part of the students in these programs. Upon being asked what they like most about the chapel programs this year, or in what way they think the programs may be even more improved, several of the students gave the following answers:
Carolyn Andrews—Dr. Campbell's talks are wonderful, and I just wish we had more of them. They are educational as well as inspirational and, after all, that is what the chapel programs should be.
Sarah Hayworth—I like programs by which we learn more about the European situation and the corresponding conditions of the other countries. I wish we could have more speakers like Charles A. Wells.

Freida Culberson—I like the idea of doing away with announcements in chapel as they usually break the unity of the program.
Betty Brown McMillan—I think we could do with more quiet at the beginning of the program; more like church. I also think chapel programs should be wholly devotional.
Minetta Bartlett—I am enjoying chapel so much this year that I don't even want to take my cuts.
Ella Eddins—More students are taking part in the programs this year than they did last year, and I hope the number will continue to increase.
Juanita Stainback—The chapel programs are very good, but I would like to see more clubs such as the Glee Club and Home Economics Club have charge of chapel.
Rachel Poe—I am enjoying chapel this year, but I think I would enjoy it even more if there were more songbooks so that everyone that wanted to sing would have a chance.

Rowena Daniels—The main thing I like about chapel this year is the change that has been made in the making of announcements. I still want to see more students take part in the programs.
Cora Burns—I like the variety of guest speakers and entertainers that we have had this year, and I hope we will continue to have more.
Rebecca Vaughan—I think the programs have been outstandingly good this year, and they make me excited about chapel and wonder what we are going to have each morning.
From the answers received, it seems that the chapel programs are very popular this year, and are becoming more what the students would have them be.
