Mrs. Everett Gill, a retired missionary from Europe was on the Meredith Campus the week of November 11-15, and taught a very interesting mission course, using the book written by her husband, Europe: Christ or Chaos. She was fully capable of teaching such a course, having lived in Europe during most of her married life. With a captivating style, she portrayed to us the customs, religions, and attitudes of the Britains, Germans, Latins, Slavs, Hungarians. and Rumanians, and obliquely brought in the other peoples of Europe in her teaching. We are deeply fortunate in receiving the opportunity of listening to such an interesting informant. MARIETTA PRICE,

Day Dawn In Yoruba Land, by sionary work in Africa was begun in Nigeria in 1850 by Thomas J. Bowen. We were told of the various missionaries who followed carrying on in many fields of work. Of great interest was the story of Miss Neale C. Young who achieved much in W. M. U. work of Nigeria. Also, we learned of the A. Scott Pattersons, Dr. and Mrs. George Green, the W. H. Carsons, and numercus other missionaries who have given their hearts and lives to the carrying on of God's work among these dark people of Yoruba Land. These people know there is a God, but they know not Christ as their Saviour. They are calling for someone to teach them and tell them about Him. Are we ready to send or go?

After-Dinner Coffee Served

Thursday, November 21, the Interdenominational Council of the B.S.U. served after-dinner coffee in the Rose Parlor to faculty and students of denominations other than Bantists.

Those receiving were Leette Smoak, Interdenominational Council. Those serving were Eloise Garris, vice-president of the Interdenominational Council; Rachel Fulton, social chairman, and Lillian Watkins, program chairman. Others who helped were Dixie Belle Bullock, Mildred Ward and Evelyn Dillon.

Miss Mary Louise Porter presided over the coffee table. The list of guests included Dr. Carlyle Campbell, Miss Anna Mae Baker, Miss Edna Frances Dawkins, Dr. and Mrs. Norman Price, Dr. Sydnor Stealey, the B.S.U. Council pastor, and the pastors of non-Baptist churches in Raleigh.

Homecoming will be observed at Campbell College Saturday, November 30. The afternoon program will consist of the annual debate, the query this year being 'Resolved: That the nations of the Western Hemisphere should form a permanent union." A banquet at dinner hour and "Mignonand Bela Lugosi, who are seen as ette" will complete the program for the evening.
