S. G. and B. S. U. Heads Are Elected

Marty Jeffreys, Hamlet, N. C. Is Student Gov't President; Milly Thornton, B.S.U. Head

Martha, or better known as "Marty," Jeffreys has been elected president of the Student Government Association of Meredith for next year. Marty, whose home town is Hamlet, N. C., is majoring in chemistry and has as her related fields, biology and mathematics.

She has played an active part in the school organizations throughout her three years at Meredith. During her freshman year she was chosen as class president. On the Student Government Council she has held the positions of sophomore class representative, and secretary, which office she had this, her junior year. On THE TWIG staff she was a reporter her freshman year and during her sophomore year was columnist. She is now vice president of the Barber Science Club and president of the Art Club. Marty is also a member of the Astrotekton Literary Society and the Sigma Pi Alpha language club.

After graduating, Marty hopes to be either a laboratory technician or a chemist for a plant.

For Baptist Student Union president for the coming year, Mildred, or "Milly," Thornton has been elected. She is from Garden City, Long Island, New York, and she has a double major—religion and sociology. She began her offices on the B.S.U. Council her freshman year when she was chosen as freshman representative. She has also held the office of program chairman, and is third vice president of the B.S.U. Council. Milly, in regard to the World Fellowship group, has been secretary and extension director. This year she is vice president of the junior class. Other clubs to which she belongs are the Sociology Club and the Philaretian Literary Society.

After finishing Meredith, Milly wishes to do either educational work in a church or teach Bible and social science in a high school.

Fourth War Loan Report Made

Meredith College pledged $7,407.00 to the Fourth War Loan. The faculty and administration pledged $6,488.25 and the students pledged $918.75.

Miss Bell, Miss Donley, and Mrs. Allen were solicitors for the faculty and administration, and Margaret Webb was general solicitor for the students. Mrs. Vera Tart Marsh was in charge of the drive as chairman of the Women's College Division.

War savings stamps will be sold all year. The sale of stamps totals $190.00 to date.

Meredith Expansion Program Progresses

The Meredith College student body, staff, faculty, and other employees have pledged a total of $14,445.50 to the Expansion Program, according to information received today from the Bursar's Office. Of this amount the student body pledged $3,750.00. Many of the pledges have not as yet been made, and it is expected that the total amount will run well over $15,000.

This is the first report to be made by any group working in the fund raising campaign, and this information was presented at the general meeting of all the leaders and workers held at the Raleigh Woman's Club on Tuesday night of this week. This meeting, which was attended by over 250 residents of Raleigh and Wake County, officially opened the campaign to raise $565,000.

The meeting Tuesday night proved to be possibly the most enthusiastic gathering of friends of Meredith College ever held in the State. Practically all religious denominations in the city were represented, and one of the appeals for funds for the college was made on the basis of Meredith being a worthwhile business enterprise for the city of Raleigh.

Present plans for solicitation of funds call for the completion of the drive in Wake County within the next two or three weeks. The remainder of the State will be divided into districts and an organization similar to that used in Raleigh will be perfected in each of these districts before solicitations in those districts are begun.

Valentine Tea Given

The high school girls of the senior classes of Wake County public and private schools were honored at a Valentine tea by the Wake County Chapter of Meredith Alumnae on Monday afternoon, Feb. 14, from 5 to 6 o'clock at the Woman's Club in Raleigh.

The receiving line was composed of Dr. Carlyle Campbell, Mrs. J. Melville Broughton, Betty Rose Prevatte, Marty Jeffreys, Ann Ray Kramer, Mary Jo Clayton, and Nancy Gates.

Guests were introduced to the receiving line by Mrs. L. R. Harrill, president of the Alumnae Association. Miss Anna May Baker and Mrs. B. Y. Tyner received at the entrance.

Miss Godwin and Mr. R. H. Satterfield received at the entrance of the dining-room. Mrs. Carlyle Campbell and Mrs. Benson Davis presided at the tea table. Assisting them were Alice Greene, Dorothy Stell, Emily Ferguson, Geraldine Winfree, Albertine Rozar, Jane Isley, and Frances Tucker.

The decorations carried out the Valentine theme.

Focus Week Ends Intensive Work

Just concluded yesterday was the first Focus Week of activities on the Meredith campus, a week of intensive religious activity. The week included two chapel addresses each day, seminars, guest speakers at the Pause for Power worship services, group meetings, and personal conferences.

Student chairman for the affair was Milly Thornton, incoming B.S.U. president, and she was assisted by the Committee of One Hundred. Sunday, February 20, started the week. On that day members of the Focus Week team visited various Sunday schools and churches in the city. In the Sunday schools were Dr. Everett Gill, Pullen Memorial; Mr. Howard D. Rees, Hayes Barton Baptist; Dr. Claude U. Broach, First Baptist; Miss Mary Nance Daniel, Tabernacle Baptist; and Dr. J. W. Marshall, First Presbyterian. Preaching Sunday morning sermons were Dr. Claude U. Broach, Pullen Memorial, and Mr. Howard D. Rees, Calvary Baptist. B.T.U. speakers that night were Miss Mary Nance Daniel, West Raleigh Presbyterian; Dr. Everett Gill, First Baptist; and Dr. J. W. Marshall, Tabernacle Baptist. Speaking at the evening services were Mr. Richard D. Howerton, Edenton Street Methodist; Dr. J. W. Marshall, Hayes Barton Baptist; Dr. Everett Gill, Tabernacle Baptist, and Mr. Howard D. Rees, Pullen Baptist.

The Monday morning chapel address, "Maximum Christianity and Analysis," was given by Dr. Claude U. Broach, and that evening's "It is the Christian Faith" was by Dr. George D. Heaton. On Tuesday Dr. J. W. Marshall spoke on "The Christian Imperative" and Dr. Edward H. Pruden, on "Christians at Their Best." Wednesday's speakers were Dr. Everett Gill, "The Adequate Answer," and Dr. George D. Heaton, "Jesus is Lord." Mr. Howard D. Rees spoke on "College Life at Its Best," and also Miss Mary Nance Daniel and Mr. Richard T. Howerton spoke on Thursday morning. That evening Dr. J. Morris Trimmer talked on "My Utmost for the Highest." On the final day Mrs. J. O. Williams took "The Power to Become" and Mr. J. Winston Pearce spoke on "A Person to Person Call."

There were two sets of seminars. Those on Monday and Wednesday and Friday nights were "International Relations," led by Dr. Edward

Changes Made in the B.S.U. Constitution

At a recent meeting of the student body, the following changes were made in the B.S.U. constitution:

1. That a day student be elected to one of the general offices, thereby eliminating the office of day student representative.
2. That a non-Baptist girl be elected to one of the general offices, eliminating the office of interdenominational representative.
3. That the office of freshman representative be eliminated.
4. That the office of poster chairman and reporter be combined.
5. That the office of president of World Fellowship be eliminated from the B.S.U. Council. (That she be represented on the Y.W.A. Council as chairman of community missions.)

DR. WINSTON GIVES TEA

Dr. Ellen Winston will entertain the members of the faculty and the faculty wives at an informal tea this afternoon, from four to six.

COMPOSERS ENTER CONTEST

Norman Lockwood, winner of the Prix de Rome in 1929, has come to this state and is the music leader of the First Annual Arts Forum at Woman's College in Greensboro on the twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth of this month.

There are two students and three faculty members from Meredith who will have their compositions heard. The students are Dorothy Shealy, playing her piano composition, "Soutvenir," and Rebecca Barnes, singing her composition, "Day," accompanied by Betsy Jean Holt at the piano.

The compositions by the faculty are a suite by Mr. Stuart Pratt; a song, "Love's Reverie," by Mrs. Halpern, sung by Mary Lee Holder, accompanied by Betsy Jean Holt; and "Voices in the Mist," for four-part women's voices, by Sgt. Edgar Alden, now of the Signal Corps.

Girls Go to WMU Meeting

Six Meredith girls will appear on the program of the annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union to be held in Charlotte March 7-9. Ruth and Ruby Lyon will speak on what the orphanage has meant to them. They, with Jane Watkins, Rebecca Barnes, Willa Gray Lewis, and Mary Lee Holder will sing as a benediction at the close of each day-time session, "Prayer."

Among the other speakers are two missionaries who are Meredith alumnae, Miss Pearl Johnson of Shanghai, China, and Miss Sophie Lanau of Soochow, China.

JOIN THE WAVES!

The Navy Department has set aside these two weeks—from February 21 to March 4—for special emphasis on the WAVES. Quite a few Meredith girls have already joined this branch of service and "are now serving admirably in many important billets." WAVES have released enough men to man twelve warships, and Meredith has been doing her part. But thousands more WAVES are needed; Meredith girls are needed, especially as officers.

What will the Navy do for me? you ask. You will be trained in various skills which will be of immense value to you after the war. You will get good pay: enlisted women, $50 to $138 per month, with allowances for food, shelter, medical and dental care, and $200 worth of clothing; officers, $150 to $200 per month base pay with allowance for necessities listed above. You won't have to pay an income tax; you can buy life insurance at low government rates; you will have the privileges of free mail, reduced transportation rates and other benefits accorded to service men. Also you will derive a warm satisfaction from the knowledge that you are helping your country in a vital way.

College graduates are welcomed and urgently needed as officers. For officers, the Navy wants women who have proved their ability to absorb training and put it to constructive use, who are responsible, adaptable, enthusiastic, with high standards of character and conduct. The requirements are easily met by any Meredith graduate, no matter what field she majored in.

Meredith is proud of her WAVES. The following girls are all Meredith graduates:

Tempie Ricks Brantley ('31), of Whitakers, now travelling all over Alabama recruiting women for the WAVES, had her M.A. in Math.

Norma Lee Dawson ('38), of Wilmington, a materiel officer stationed in New York City, was a home economics major.

Margaret Lanier ('38), of Wallace, now an aerographer's mate, stationed in the "central weather bureau" of the world, was a major in primary education.

Betty Brown MacMillan ('41), of Thomasville, is stationed in Washington, D. C., doing "secret" work, and meanwhile working on her M.A. at George Washington University, hoping to have her M.A. by January of '46. Ensign MacMillan majored in English at Meredith.

Howard Mumford ('28), of High Point, is now on duty in Washington, D. C. She majored in Latin and minored in English at Meredith.

Aileen Rogers ('42), of Wake Forest, was a home economics major, is now stationed in Georgia.

Julia Moore Scarborough ('29), of Aulander, stationed in Miami, also doing work that is "very interesting but highly confidential," majored in Latin and English here.

Hazel Stewart ('43), of Lillington, is now stationed in Hollywood, Florida. She was a Meredith chemistry major.
