

MEREDITH GIRLS SING ON BAPTIST HOUR; DR. COOPER WILL PLAY RECITAL AT DUKE

A group of 12 girls representing the Meredith College Choir sang over the Baptist Hour on November 12. The group includes Estella Cox, Peggy Parker, Jean White, Margaret Hines, Doris Carroll, Emily Hine, Jane Watkins, Anna Lou Toms, Margaret Fales, Betty Jean Donley, Willa Grey Lewis, and Lillian Humphrey. Dorothy Shealy is the accompanist. They will be heard on the Baptist Hour again November 26 at 8:30 a.m.

The MacDowell Music Club met in the "Hut" on November 15. After a short business session an interesting program was presented on certain phases of the life of Beethoven. Those taking part in the program were Saxe Farmer and Ruth Miller. A recording of Beethoven's Second String Quartet in G Major concluded the program.

The Meredith College Sextet furnished special music for a number of the meetings at the Baptist State Convention.

The Meredith College Sextet will lead the campus sing Sunday evening, November 26, in the Woman's College Auditorium at Duke University.

Dr. Harry E. Cooper will play an organ recital December 3, at 4 p.m. in the Chapel at Duke University.

The first edition of Who's Who Among Students was first printed for the year of 1934-35. More than 600 colleges and universities are listed. The purpose of Who's Who is to serve as an incentive for students to get the most out of their college careers; as a means of compensation to students for what they have already done; as a recommendation to the business world; and as a standard of measurement for students.

CLUB NEWS

Barber Science Club

The Barber Science Club met last night, November 24, at 7:00 p.m. in Room 16 of the Science Building. C. M. Heck, professor in physics at State College, spoke.

Sociology Club

The Sociology Club met in the "Hut" on Tuesday night, October 14. Dr. C. A. Jones, head of the Sociology Department at Shaw University, was guest speaker, and discussed race relations from the viewpoint of the Negro. He said that his people had the following ideas as how to get the freedom they want: some want absolute equality or nothing; some think that freedom is an ideal and has to be worked toward; others think inter-racial cooperation is impossible; and some think that education will solve all race problems. He stressed the fact that Negroes want the same things that white people want, and that much of the racial misunderstanding is due to lack of knowledge about each other. Dr. Jones thinks that there will be more race riots after the war, and that relations between the white and colored races in general, are getting worse, with even some Northern colleges now closing doors to Negro students.

After his talk, a discussion period was held and refreshments were served.

Granddaughters Club

The Granddaughter's Club again this year sponsored for Meredith the gathering of 120 baby garments for the National Needlework Guild during the week of November 6-10. Peggy Parker and Stella Lassiter were co-chairmen of the drive. Meredith reached well over her quota.

Tomorrow's Business Women

On November 17, Tomorrow's Business Women held their monthly meeting in the Phi Hall.

The program took form of a court scene which was presented by the business law class under the direction of Dr. Estelle Popham. The other members of the club acted as the jury.

On November 18, Dr. Estelle Popham, head of the Business Department, attended the Delta Pi Epsilon Honorary Business Education Fraternity meeting held at New York University on Annual Alumni Day.

Home Economics

Miss Ellen Brewer attended a committee meeting of a representative group of state home economics teachers and directors on November 18. The committee, with Miss Catherine Dennis as chairman, met to discuss curriculum problems for the present and for the post-war periods and to elect delegates to the south-wide meeting to be held in Montevilla, Alabama, in January.

Cornelia Mims, Iris Phillips, Emma Charles Foster, and Louise Sanderson have completed their stay in the Home Management Apartment. Evelyn Gwaltney, Veronica Britt, Ila Marie Shuffer, and Emma Southerland moved in on Wednesday, November 15.

The foods and cookery class had some changes in its regular afternoon laboratories. On November 8, they visited some cold storage plants, one for meats and one for vegetables, in the city. On November 17 they attended a skillfully presented cake and pastry demonstration by Mrs. Helen B. Zoller of The Procter and Gamble Company. She is visiting the colleges in North Carolina during November. Several students of other home economics classes also attended the demonstration.
