

This is no joke . . .

. . . because you can see it for yourself on the water tower just behind the dining hall. Who done it? Your guess is as good as mine—and you can bet your life we're guessing.

ANGEL FARM HAS EXCITING TIME WITH WOLVES, DEACS' ANTICS

Keen Competition Witnessed; Name Is Painted on Tower

By M. WINTERS

Once upon a time, but there ain't no time, its all space, maybe. One spring—a spring—where will I spring from a spring: One day—the 5th of April—ah! for that day—no books, no crook, but snooks by babbling brooks!!!

There (is) (are) (maybe was, were) a place where such whatcha-ma-callums as deacons inhabit. Now these strange conglomerations became dissatisfied with their own "diosities" (the only word Webster forgot) and went out to seek things more profitable, which would—ah!—be a leetle diverting. They didn't have to "deeke" far either—they just put on their footing togs and balled up the road for a little competition with a bunch of wolves. The strangest thing—who came to look on but angels—all colorfully dressed,—but all that glitters, ain't gold.

Now the wolves howled so much and the deacons sang so that the angels took up the habit of screaming till Ma Angel had to call them down. When it was time for the angels to go home, a fight arose between the wolves and deacons as to which should escort them home. While fur flew, the angels sprouted wings (the brilliant, versatile things) and flew back to their roosting places. All aflutter over their accomplishments, they could not settle down even to cracking a book to see how many call-downs they'd gotten. In fact, they thought they'd just use all the psychology they'd ever let go in one ear and out the other,

(Continued on page three)

DORSEY AND BING ARE COMING TO JUNIOR-SENIOR

Students Forced To Take Spring Holidays

Dr. Yarbrough Bitten On Hand By Angry Student

Spring holidays for this year (namely 1945) were banned and in their stead each student was granted a week's vacation to be taken in any part of the semester as convenient to the student. There was some difficulty in having students take advantage of this vacation, and the faculty was forced to resort to drastic measures to make the students go home on Easter week-end.

A near riot occurred at the bus station when Dr. Campbell and other faculty members bought tickets and had students put on their respective buses homeward bound. There was some trouble with one of the buses but they finally succeeded, with the aid of the bus driver, in getting the doors closed, but just as Dr. Carlyle Campbell wiped his fevered brow there was a shout from the driver and upon investigating, it was discovered that students were climbing out the back windows. Dr. Yarbrough rushed around to stop this until the bus could get started and was promptly bitten

(Continued on page four)

Cooper's Super Solos Aided By Jokes

Dr. H. Ezekiel Cooper gave a piano recital in the College Auditorium last night. New York critics present stated, "Cooper's performance shows great promise for the future. However, it is very evident, particularly in certain passages, that previous organ study enriched or marred (according to the taste of the audience) his playing."

For his encores, Dr. H. Ezekiel (as he is known to his friends and close associates) played three well-known numbers—De Falla's "Ritual Fire Dance (his favorite of all favorites), Tiszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 1," and his own piano transcription of Ravel's "Bolero." The recital was thoroughly enjoyed by all, for it showed no evidences whatsoever of the cheap musicianship that some artists resort to at one time or another. However, his skillful musicianship could hardly compensate for the corny jokes he told during intermission.

Plenty of Ensigns Promised; Watkins and Crosby to Sing

Gather roun' chillun' and you shall hear! yep, it's really true! T. Dorsey is actually going to be on our campus. All right—calm down and I'll tell you about it. Dorsey wrote to Marilyn Ferrell and asked if he couldn't be allowed to come entertain at the Junior-Senior. After due deliberation and much dispute, it was decided in the affirmative, on the condition that he bring along Bing Crosby. Now that all the details are arranged, the cat can be let out of the bag to roam at random. Dorsey and Co. will arrive in Raleigh on April 20th to remain at the College until the following night—the big night!

The dinner will be held in the banquet room of the dining hall and will consist of seven courses. Dorsey has offered to play all during the banquet. In addition, entertainment will consist of duets by Crosby and Jane Watkins.

After the banquet, guests will retire to the new moonlit patio where dancing will continue until 3:00. Incidentally, there will be ensigns floating around from just everywhere.

Aw, please don't turn up your noses—you might have fun in spite of this, so be loyal to the school and come on out to Junior-Senior. (P.S. If you get too bored, there will be chinese checkers and ping pong in the game room.)

Dr. Harold McCurdy has returned to his classes with renewed vigor after his recent interviews with a well-known psychiatrist concerning the bad dreams that have been bothering him recently.

NAVY SENDS ENSIGNS TO LIVE ON CAMPUS

Yes, girls, it's true! All those rumors which you have heard for the past week are not just rumors, but the truth. So when we come back next fall we will not be lonesome for males anymore, because the Navy is going to establish a Diesel School on the Meredith Campus.

The Meredith unit will be exactly like the one at State College. Since there is too little time to build barracks for them to stay in, the ensigns will be granted the privilege of camping anywhere they wish on the campus. In addition, they will eat in the dining hall under the

(Continued on page three)