

College Features Eleventh Palio, Stunt Celebration

Activities To Include Bicycle Race, Clowns, Horse Race, and Original Song Contest

Miss Marion Warner, a member of the Physical Education Department from 1934-37, and the originator of the Meredith celebration of Palio, has been invited to be present at this the eleventh occasion of Palio. Miss Warner is now Recreational Director at the Y.W.C.A. in Philadelphia.

Palio's annual array of activities includes the bicycle race, the horse race, and the original song contest preceded by the class processions and clown stunts. The grand processional features horseback riders, the Meredith band, caricature heads, class clowns, a wagon with Magistrate surrounded by yeomen, the judges wagon, clowns, and the giraffe.

Following the class processions the alumnae will give their stunt in which all visiting alumnae and alumnae faculty members will participate. The stunt will be directed by Mrs. Paul Kelly and Miss Ione Kemp Knight.

The events of the afternoon close with the presentation of awards followed by the singing of the Alma Mater.

Palio, as usual, will be directed by the class vice presidents. Lib Sawyer, Stella Lassiter, Mary Beth Thomas, and Virginia Hudgins. Jean Griffith, vice president of the Athletic Association, will direct activities during the Palio procedure.

From 6:30 to 7:30 in the Blue Parlor, the Wake County Chapter of the Alumnae Association will honor the visiting alumnae, new members of the faculty, and the A. A. board. Mrs. Dallas Holoman, Jr., chairman of the social committee, is in charge of the coffee.

At 8:00 in the College auditorium, the Annual Stunt Night will conclude the day's activities. As in the past, reserved seats will be given to the class having the highest percentage in attendance participating in Palio.

Class stunts are being supervised by the class presidents, Jo Hughes, Joan Drake, Mary Virginia Warren, and Jean Gaddy.

Each class is responsible for a judge, who rates the class stunts on the nature of a stunt as stated in the handbook. Chief judge for the Stunt Night will be Miss Hazel Griffin of Raleigh. The Senior Class has chosen Mrs. Alice Crowson, also of Raleigh, the Junior Class, Miss Helen Runion, of Raleigh, the Sophomore Class, Mrs. Clare Jay Marley, teacher in the Cary public schools, and the Freshman Class, Mrs. Louis Sutton, also of Raleigh.

Meredith Classes To Tour Raleigh

In order that new students at Meredith may get to know Raleigh better, the freshmen and transfer counsellors are planning a "Seeing Raleigh" Sunday for November 18. It is hoped that cars will be available that Sunday afternoon to take new students on the tour of Raleigh. Places to be visited will include old Meredith, State College, the Governor's Mansion, Peace, and other points of interest in Raleigh. Further plans for the tour will be announced soon.

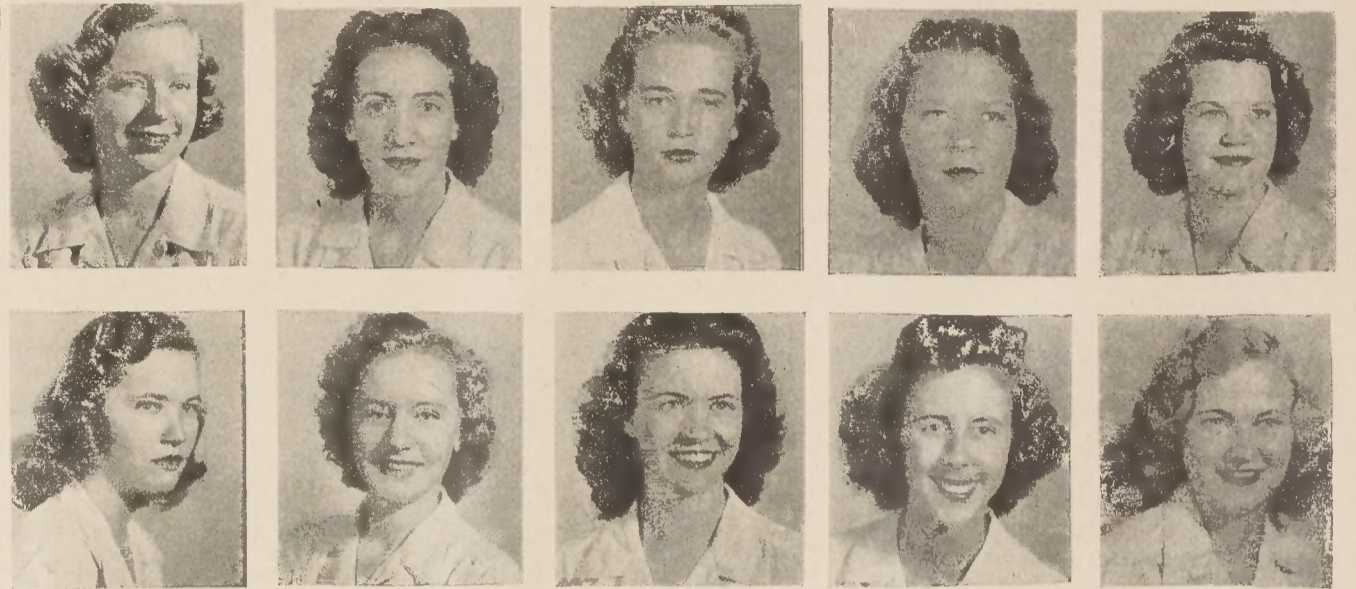

The committee in charge of "Seeing Raleigh" Sunday are Margaret Dover, chairman; Dorothy Stell, Hazel Goodwin, and Mabel Baldwin. The faculty adviser is Dr. Mary Yarborough.

Juniors Plan Party For Little Sisters

Plans are being made by the Junior Class for the Big Sister-Little Sister party which will be November 17 at five o'clock. Carolyn Lockamy is in charge and chairmen of committees are as follows: Hilda Liles, invitations; Helen Wallis, program; Mary Martin, refreshments; and Ruth Martin and Jean Griffith, co-chairman of decorations.

Modern Language Department Adds New Spanish Instructor

Fred J. Allred, instructor in Spanish and French from Liberty, North Carolina has joined the Meredith faculty. He has an A.B. and M.A. in Romance Languages from the University of North Carolina. After receiving his M.A., he taught in The Central High School in Charlotte, N. C., from 1935 to 1942. Then he joined the U. S. Army and was stationed with Signal Corps in England for two years. There he met Miss Audrey Robinson from Huddensfield, Yorkshire, and they were later married. Allred received an honorable discharge October 26 and came to Raleigh as an instructor at Meredith. At present he resides at 2212 Hope Street at the home of Mrs. Lillian Parker Wallace.

Program To Include Symposiums, Sermons

The 115th annual session of the Baptist State Convention will be held in the First Baptist Church, Raleigh, N. C., November 13-15. Dr. Ralph A. Herring, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Winston-Salem, is president of this year's convention, the theme of which is "The Task of North Carolina Baptist Churches In the Postwar Years."

The program is to begin at 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday morning, November 13, and will close Thursday, November 15, at noon, with all the meetings in the First Church, except those on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, and these will convene in Memorial Auditorium.

Seniors Achieve Recognition In Who's Who In American Universities and Colleges

Artists To Display Products Nov. 15

The opening date for the biggest exhibit the Art Department of Meredith College has ever put on will be on Thursday, November 15 at 4:00. Greek athletics and festivals of the Fifth Century will be featured at the main exhibition which will be held in the newly decorated Art Gallery. Dr. Helen Price will be the guest speaker at the opening event, after which refreshments will be served.

Recently the entire facilities of the Art Department have been remodeled and unified, with a particular addition of a modern interior design to the offices. All labs have been arranged to their best advantage. In this opening exhibition of the year, all these facilities will be available for inspection by the public.

In addition to the Greek motif of the gallery, other dominant features of the display will be student work. Some of the most successful productions from each art course will be presented. Also the hall joining the art gallery and labs will carry outstanding examples of the work done by the students. A faculty exhibition will be arranged in the offices of John Rembert and Miss Austell.

The students of Meredith College are urged to take this opportunity to visit the Art Department and see the type of work that is being done there.

Meredith, too, has made use of D.D.T. around the campus! It has been sprayed in the tunnels to rid them of fleas, spiders, and roaches and has been used at the barns to get rid of the flies. According to the report of Fred J. Edwards, D.D.T. has been quite effective so far in ridding Meredith of insects.

D.D.T., the wonder insecticide of World War II, is beginning to reach the public now that the demand for it by the Army has been reduced. D.D.T. was used during the war to rid the Pacific Islands of flies and mosquitoes and to prevent the spread of Typhus in Naples and other European cities.

Character, Scholarship, Leadership Determine Basis For Selection

Ten seniors of Meredith College were recently given national recognition by being selected to have their biographies appear in the 1945-46 edition of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. The nominations, made by a student and faculty committee, include Mary Jo Clayton, Elizabeth Davis, Jewell Eatman, Marilyn Ferrell, Nancy Harris, Hazel Johnson, Katherine Johnson, Flora Ann Lee, Elizabeth Shelton, and Ruth Vande Kieft. Students are selected on the basis of character, leadership in extra-curricular activities, scholarship, and potentiality for future usefulness to business and society.

These girls have held a number of offices on the campus. Mary Jo Clayton, editor of The Acorn this year, during her years at Meredith has been freshman representative to the Student Council, president of the Sophomore Class, feature editor of The Acorn, assistant manager of the Beehive, and a member of Kappa Nu Sigma, Sigma Pi Alpha, Colton English Club, and Little Theater. A major in math and English, Mary Jo is from Millersville, Maryland. She is a member of the Astro Society.

Mary Elizabeth Davis of Wadesboro, is this year president of Stringfield Hall, associate editor of THE TWIG, and a member of Kappa Nu Sigma, Colton English Club, and Little Theater. She was freshman representative to B.S.U. Council, Choir member, Sophomore marshal for Phi Society, secretary of B.S.U. Council, secretary of Sophomore Class, vice president of Jones Hall, columnist, THE TWIG, Junior editor, The Acorn, and a member of the orchestra.

Editor of THE TWIG this year, Jewell Eatman of Raleigh, who has a double major in Spanish and English, was reporter for the Day Student Council and publicity chairman of the Colton English Club during her Sophomore year. Her junior year she was business manager of THE TWIG, treasurer of the Sigma Pi Alpha, treasurer of the Colton English Club, and junior representative to the Day Student
