Meredith and St. Mary's College played hostess to representatives from eight other colleges who came to participate in a state-wide playday last Saturday. Those colleges represented were Duke, Peace, Greensboro, Woman's College, Guilford, Brevard, Mars Hill, and E.C.T.C. Activities were held simultaneously at both hostess schools. In tennis, Duke took both the singles and the doubles tournaments. There were two swimming meets, each of which had six events. St. Mary's won event one, the crawl for speed. Peggy Patrick won the second event, the breaststroke for form. The remaining four events were won by St. Mary's. In the second meet, Duke tied Woman's College for event one and took event two. Woman's College took events four and six; Mars Hill tied E.C.T.C. for event five, while Peggy Patrick won the third event.

The archery tournament was very close. Jean Griffith ran a close second to the winning Woman's College. Meredith won both the singles and doubles in badminton.

Six volley ball games were played. Duke won three games, Peace one, Greensboro one, and Peace tied Greensboro for the remaining game. The hockey games proved to be one of the most exciting and competitive activities of the day. Woman's College beat Guilford 3-0. Then Guilford took the game from St. Mary's 2-0. Meredith then beat St. Mary's 2-0 and tied Woman's College 1-1.

After the different games, all of the girls met in the Hut for a social hour, at which time scores were given and the winners were recognized. It is estimated that two hundred girls participated in the day's events. Playday is planned as an annual occasion and the obvious success of Saturday's activities should serve as an incentive for future planning.

The following questions were brought up:

1. What is the church up against in its environment?
2. What is the church up against in itself?

4. What are the distinctive marks of Protestantism?
5. What then must we do about our churches in making an effective approach to mankind?
