

SPORTS OF THE DAY

By B. J. JOHNSON

A course in senior life saving is being taught each Tuesday night by Miss Cunningham from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock in the Saint Mary's swimming pool. For those who are interested, it still isn't too late to get in the required practices.

The round-robin basketball tournament is well under way with each class playing each other class twice. The winners of the tournament and the scores from the games will appear in the next issue of THE TWIG. Come on out and pull for your team!

The bowling league that we've all been hearing about is to be organized very soon on the basis of dormitory competition. The days and times set for going down to the Manmure Bowling Alley are 3:00 p.m. on Tuesday and 4:00 p.m. on Friday. Watch the A.A. bulletin board for further news concerning the definite day.

We Equitation Club members, that is horse-lovers, wish to welcome our new riding instructor, Mr. West. Already he has mentioned plans for a horse-show in the spring with perhaps a matinee and a night show to display some of the finest show horses—five gaited, walking, and fine harness. Definite plans have not yet been drawn but will be announced at a later date.

NEW STUDENTS REGISTER HERE

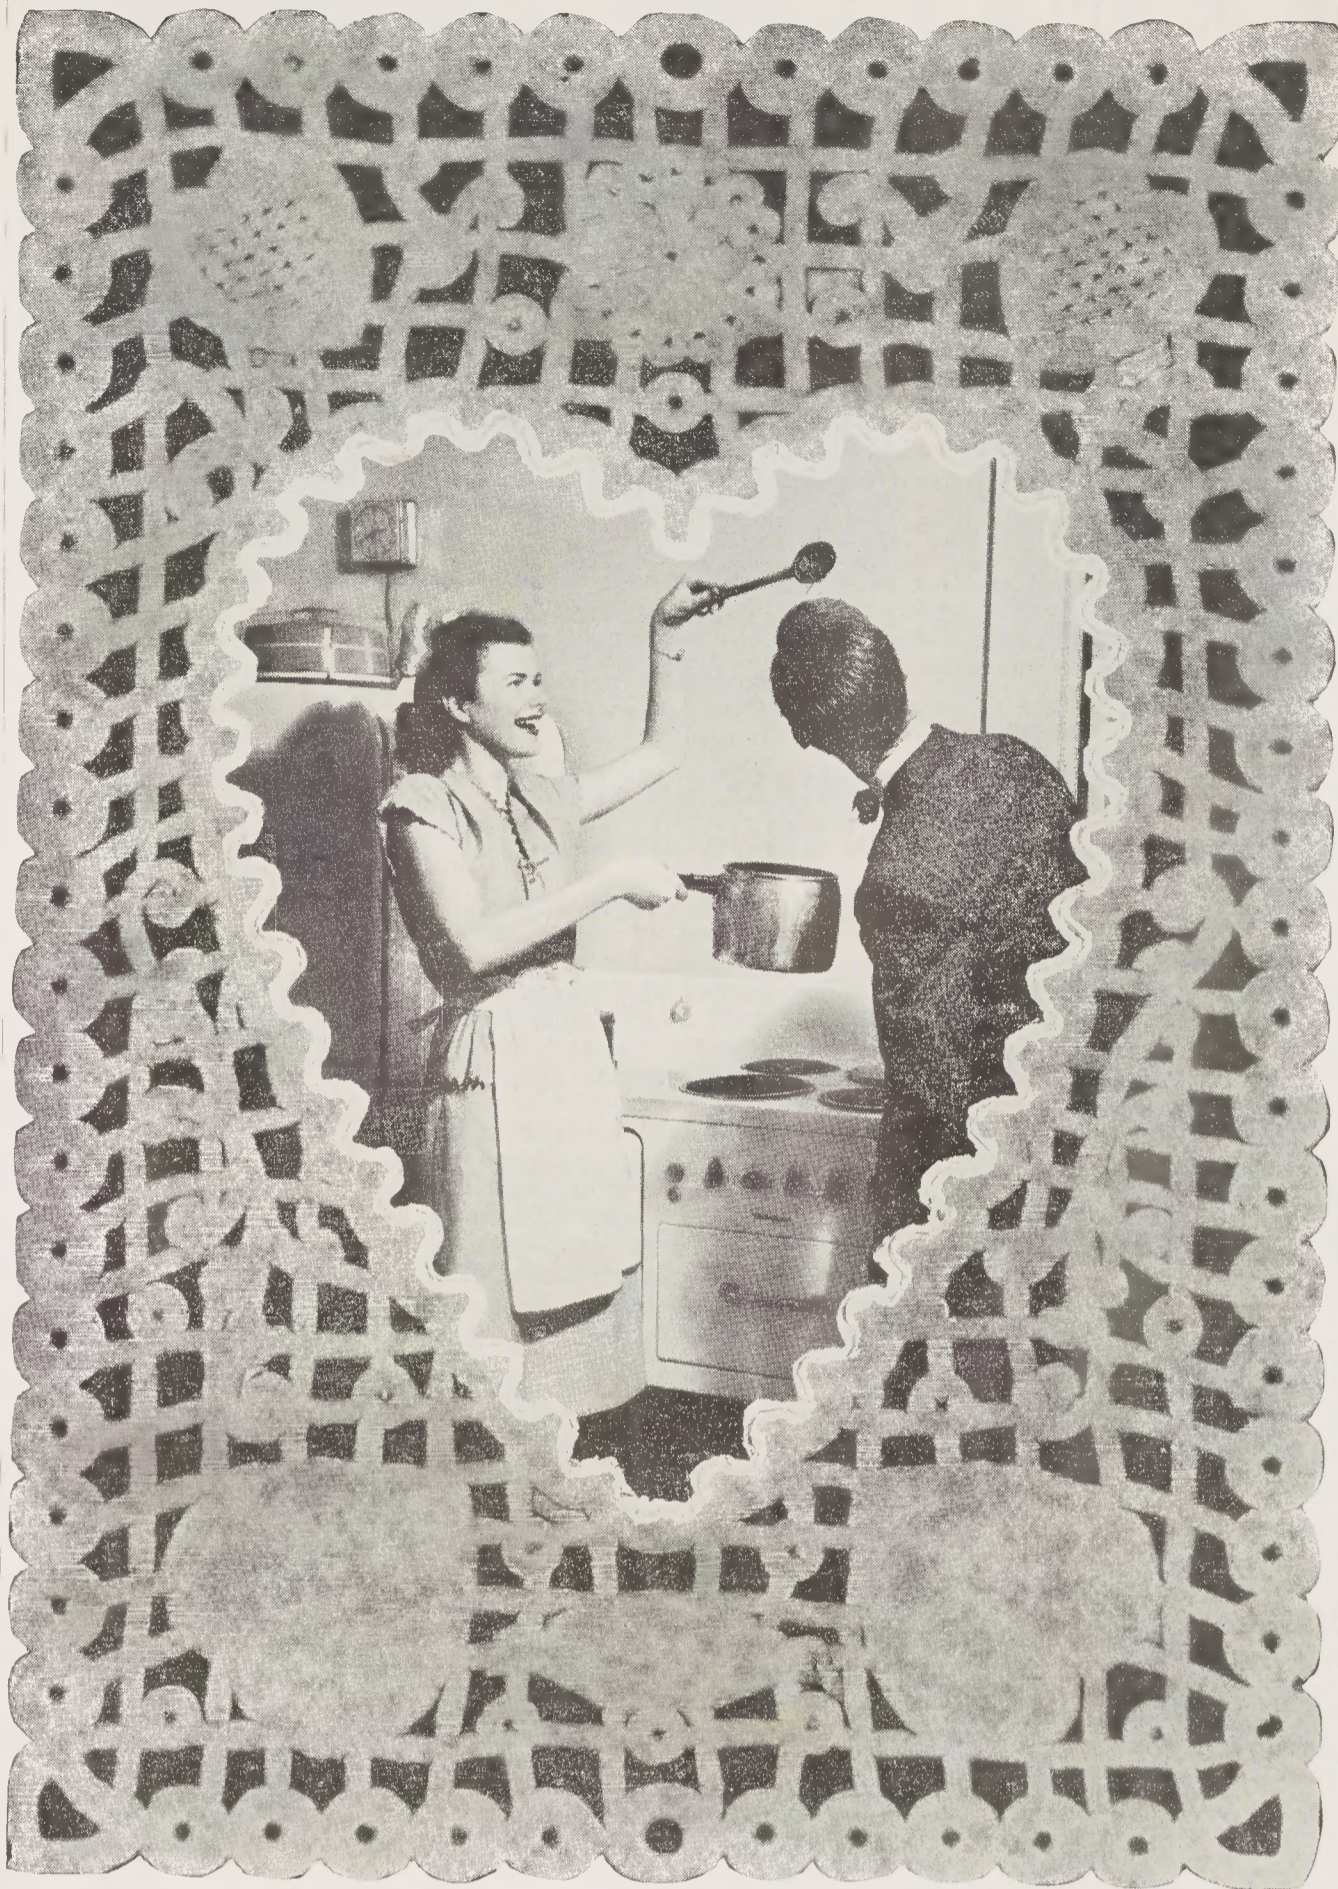

Seven new students have enrolled at Meredith for second semester. There are three former students who are back. Charlotte Bowman, a junior and a piano major from Boones' Mill, Virginia, has been out of school for two years because of accident injuries. During this time, she has worked in a bank and has gone to school at Roanoke College. Helene Klingbeil, a junior from Walpole, Massachusetts, is back after having been out a year, during which time she did library work in Walpole and worked in Jordan-Marsh Department Store. Evelyn Stallings of Youngsville and a science major is back after having been out a semester because of illness in her family.

Also, there are three new transfer students. Nita Ballenger, a junior and home economics major from Raleigh, has been at Campbell and E. C. T. C. and plans to finish at Meredith. Her father taught Spanish here three years ago. Carolyn Moore of Reidsville is a junior and a home economics major. She went to W. C. her first two years and took a correspondence course from Carolina last semester. Doris Day Russell, of Canton, Ohio, is a senior day student, whose husband goes to State. She attended Meredith summer school in 1946 and has come back to complete her senior year. She works in Miss Grimmer's office.

In addition, there is one new freshman registered for the semester. Dianne Newton, a native of New York City, came to Meredith the day after she finished high school. She plans to major in art and came to Meredith on the recommendation of her aunt, who is an alumna of the college.

Sweet Stuff

EMELIA KUTSCHINSKI

Oops . . . easy does it! Isn't every day such a perfect combination of "sweet stuff" come together . . . Emelia Kutschinski in a soft chambray dress of a delicate baby blue worn beneath the "frilliest" of aprons, embroidered in crimson against a rich cream background, gathered with a ruffle to a wide waist band . . . a fella . . . a girl . . . a Valentine's afternoon.

MIDDLETON HEADS ELECTIONS GROUP

Jane Middleton was chosen general chairman of elections at the regular meeting of the Nominating Committee last Monday night when that group met to make plans for spring registration and elections.

It was voted to hold registration on Wednesday and Thursday, February 11 and 12, and to hold the polls open on Friday of this week for election of the presidents of the three major organizations. The girls elected will serve office during the school term 1948-1949.

Serving with Jane on the committee will be Elsie Corbett, registrar; Betty Cox and Dot Swaringen, judges of elections; Nancy Walker, Carolyn Covington, Evelyn Hodges, and Margaret Morris, election officials from the classes.

The chief counsellor serves as chairman of the Nominating Committee, and the membership is made up of the presidents of the major organizations, of the classes, of the Little Theater, and of the literary societies, the editors of the publications, and the chief marshal. The members of the committee this year are Ann Wallis, Fran Thompson, Gloria Mayer, Harriet Neese, Doris Harris, Mary Beth Thomas, Ella May Shirley, Lib Jones, Marjorie Joyner, Edith Camp, Lois Harmon, Louvene Jordan, Virginia Campbell, Frances Alexander, Margaret Moore, and Mary Dell Fales.

Detailed plans for voting procedure during the spring will be announced.

RELIGIOUS FOCUS WEEK

One of the highlights of Focus Week is a party to be held Wednesday night at 9:30 in Phi Hall. The party, under the direction of Barbara Swanson, includes faculty members, team members, and students.

Throughout the week, books of interest will be displayed and sold in the library.

On Tuesday a discussion group for the maids and janitors will be held at 10:30 a.m. in the auditorium. The Rev. Baucom will lead the discussion.

Although not a tradition of long standing at Meredith, Focus Week has come to be an inspiring part of our college life.

ENGLISH CLUB SPONSORS READINGS

The chapel program given recently by the Colton English Club consisted largely of student writings and selections of poetry from the Meredith Anthology of Verse.

After Doris Harris, president of the club, gave an introduction to the program, Marjorie King read the scripture from the book of Psalms, or the poetry of the Bible. Following the scripture reading, Janie Nance read several varied selections from the Anthology, With a Song.

The remainder of the program consisted of some of the writings of Gloria Mayer, Esther Green, and Frances Alexander.

The creative ability exemplified in these readings met a gratifying response among all the students.
