

By JOANNE MASON

The members of the Music Department, faculty and students both, are still wandering around in a daze of recitals, flowers, and receptions. What a week it was, but all of us enjoyed it, except, perhaps, the performers themselves.

Chamber Music Concert

On May 5, the Chamber Music class presented one of the most interesting student recital programs of the year. This class was first offered this semester and was found to be very helpful to the students. The music studied in this class included the important chamber works in music of the past and present.

For this concert Miss Rosenberger, the director, played the violin, and Joy Stillwell, Susan Graham, and Virginia Campbell played piano. William Raper, student at State College, attended several of the classes and also took part in the program. The following program was presented:

- Sonata in B Minor.....Loeillet
Largo
Allegro
Miss Stillwell, Miss Rosenberger, Mr. Raper
Sonata in E Minor for Piano and Violin, K. 304.....Mozart
Allegro
Miss Graham and Miss Rosenberger
Trio in D Minor, Op. 49, No. 1.....Mendelssohn
Andante con moto tranquillo
Miss Campbell, Miss Rosenberger, Mr. Raper
Sonata in A Major for Piano and Violin, Op. 100, No. 2.....Brahms
Allegro amabile
Miss Campbell and Miss Rosenberger
Syncopation.....Kreisler
Miss Graham, Miss Rosenberger, Mr. Raper

Organ Recital

Dr. Harry E. Cooper presented a program of organ music at the Hocutt Memorial Baptist Church on May 15, at 4:00 P.M. This service was held for the dedication of a new Skinner organ recently purchased by that church.

Meredith students will have an opportunity to hear Dr. Cooper when he gives his annual recital on Sunday afternoon of commencement weekend at 4:00 P. M.

HOME ECONOMIC NEWS

Highlighting their work of the year, the numbers of the Meredith Home Economics Club had an inspiring candle light ceremony in the hut Thursday, May 5, to install the officers for the coming year. Frances Williams, the incoming president, reviewed the work of the year and expressed appreciation to the retiring officers.

For the benefit of the pledges, Elaine Saunders told the significance of the symbol of the club, the Betty Lamp. The initiation of new members followed each one being introduced by one of her senior class friends.

The climax of the program was the initiation of the graduating seniors into the American and North Carolina Home Economics Associations. The club was fortunate in having as a special guest Miss York Kiker, incoming president of the N.C.-H.E.A., who welcomed the seniors and presented them with membership certificates.

Garden Tea

The Home Economics class had the special honor recently of being entertained at a garden tea at the "Cedar Chest," Miss Brewer's cabin on St. Mary's Street. Frances Williams, president of the club, poured tea; and the other officers, Mary Joe Shaw, Betsy Jordan, Elaine Saunders, and Jane McDaniel assisted in serving cheese straws, cookies, cup cakes, and nuts.

Approximately forty guests called.

Senior Dinner

At 6:00 P.M. that same evening, dinner was served to the members of the graduating class in Home Economics, with Frances Williams and Betsy Jordan assisting in the serving.

The senior guests were Nita Ballenger, Mildred Bullard, Bethea Danford, Sarah Davis, Rosemary Dean, Virginia Gerock, Leslie Johnson, Jean McLamb, Jerry Miller, Marianna Mizelle, Carolyn Moore, Marianna Morris, and Mrs. Grace Westlake.

Psychology Project Finished By Seniors

Seven Meredith College seniors in psychology, under Dr. Dorothy G. Park, head of that department, have completed a project in the field of projective testing which was read in the form of a report by Dr. Park at a meeting of the psychology section of the North Carolina Academy of Science in Chapel Hill on May 7, under the title "Some Relations of Movement Responses to Creativity."

The experiment was conducted as a part of a larger investigation being pursued in various laboratories over the country under the direction of Dr. Joseph Zubin of New York Psychiatric Institute and Columbia University. The project required the administering of tests to 50 other students at the College, using the Levy Movement blots, a recent projective test, not yet commercialized, which is a variant of the well-known Rorschach or ink-blot test.

One of the purposes of this research is investigation of the differences in movement responses to the ink-blot test between so-called "creative" students and non-creative, or average, students.

The seven Meredith seniors who participated in the research project were Betty Jean Johnson, Peggy Patrick, Mrs. Lily Oatfield, Osee Mac Johnson, Martha Davis, Shirley Powell, and Natalie Neal.

NEW ALUMNAE CHAPTER

The New Harnett County Chapter of the Meredith alumnae association held its first meeting on Wednesday night, May 11, at the home of Mrs. R. L. Remsburg, Jr., in Dunn. Miss Mae Grimmer, alumnae secretary, and Dr. Mary Lynch Johnson, faculty member of the college English Department, were guests at this initial meeting. Dr. Johnson spoke on "The Beginning of Meredith" to members attending from Lillington, Buie's Creek, and Dunn.

Pribbles and Prabbles

By MICKY BOWEN

The Meredith Little Theatre has adopted, as a rejuvenation project, a program which will fit its expanding facilities. Next year, instead of regular meetings, a series of workshops will be held for the benefit of members and pledges. Each committee chairman, who will be appointed to serve for all productions, will conduct the workshop in her field, be it costuming, make-up, or staging.

Congratulations are definitely in order to the Phis and their whole production staff for a beautiful performance on society night! Winning the cup permanently is a feat which certainly can't be topped and will seldom be equaled.

SOCIETY NIGHT SPEAKER

Mrs. Lucy Cherry Crisp, North Carolina poet and now Executive Secretary of the State Art Gallery here in Raleigh, will be the featured speaker at Society Night on Saturday, May 28, at which time Mrs. Crisp will read selections from her poetry.

Society Night is sponsored each year by the two literary societies of the college, Astrotekton and Philaretian, and on this occasion the annual society awards for literary activity will be presented.

Mrs. Crisp, who is a native of eastern Carolina and a graduate of Woman's College, is the author of Spring Fever, and of the recently published Brief Testament.

The faculty and student body is invited to the student productions of The Glass Menagerie and Whistler's Mother to be held May 18 and 20 respectively in Phi Hall at 4:00 P.M. The plays are being presented in connections with the course in oral interpretation.

Everyone has a spark of drama in him; but when young ladies making an announcement in chapel feel called upon to write a playlet for the occasion, we feel the situation is really brightening. You know, there's nothing like showmanship.

ADVANCE APPLICATIONS

A total of 174 new dormitory students have applied for admission to Meredith for next year.

Students have applied to Meredith from 57 of North Carolina's 100 counties, with Mecklenburg County leading. Virginia is next to North Carolina as having the highest total so far in the state enrollments.
