

Honor Students Are Announced

Mrs. Vera Tart Marsh, registrar of Meredith College, released on February 15, 1956, the Dean's List, effective for the spring semester of this year. As the catalogue states: A student must be registered for at least twelve hours and complete and pass all courses with a number of quality points equal to twice the semester hours taken plus three to be eligible for this honor. During the past semester the scholastic record of seventy-four students enabled them to make the Dean's List. They are as follows:

Graduates to be Honored By President and Wife

Dr. and Mrs. Campbell have invited the prospective May graduates to their annual Senior buffet suppers. The first of this year's suppers was held last Sunday evening at the Campbells' home. Eighteen seniors as well as members of the faculty attended the supper as will a corresponding number on each of the following dates: March 17 and 18, and April 7 and 8.

An alumnae of the College has said, "This is the most delightful evening any student will spend during her stay at Meredith College."

HIATT, YOUNG, AND GRIMES ARE ELECTED TO KEY POSITIONS

One sign that spring is almost here is the election of officers for our next school year. The first and second slates of candidates were elected March 1 and March 8, respectively. Mary Jo Pinner was the chairman of the election of officers. Jo Ellen Williams served as registrar. The sophomore judge was Molly James, and Betsy Bullock was the freshman judge.

Winners for the three major offices were: Anita Hiatt, president of Student Government, who is a history major from Winston-Salem; Nancy Young, president of B.S.U., who is majoring in religion; president of A.A., a home economics major from Smithfield, Mary Edna Grimes.

Other first slate winners were: Gwen Maddrey, president of day students; Lois Pond, president of Vann; Marjorie Jackson, president of Stringfield; Jo Ann Selley, chief counselor; Peggy Jo Williams, editor of Oak Leaves; Julia Abernathy, editor of Twig; Liza Culberson, editor of Acorn; Inez Kendrick, secretary of Student Government; Mary Ann Dean, secretary of B.S.U.; Carolyn Roberts, secretary of A.A.; Becky Murray, 1st vice-president of day students; Martha Dean, 3rd vice-president of day students; Molly James, 3rd vice-president of B.S.U.; Margie Boyles, business manager of Oak Leaves; Sally Crook, vice-president of 1st Stringfield; Betty Kellum, vice-president of 2nd Stringfield; Betsy Lane, vice-president of 3rd Stringfield; Mamie Alice Shutt, vice-president of 1st Vann; Shiela Balfour, vice-president of 2nd Vann; Martha Bone, vice-president of 3rd Vann.

Second slate winners were: An-

Three Are Tapped By Silver Shield

Silver Shields's Tapping Service on February 21 saw two Cathy's and a Shirley added to the roster of the honor society.

Shirley Spoon, a well-known senior from Charlotte, is a home economics major now residing in the practice house and, to use her words, "eating too much."

Shirley worked her way up in the Meredith B.S.U. Treasurer her sophomore year, social vice-president her junior year, she is now serving as president of our B.S.U. and president of the Wake County B.S.U. Council. Last year she served as secretary of the Wake County Council and social vice-president on the state council. Shirley was Baptist representative to the N. C. Student Christian Conference at Chapel Hill this year and a delegate to the Ecumenical Conference in Athens, Ohio. Her one other trip out of North Carolina was to attend the National Negro B.S.U. Convention in Athens, Tennessee, her freshman year. A Who's Who girl, Shirley likes to cook and to sew. Her future may hold a seminary, a job as a dietitian or "who knows" as Shirley says.

Cathy Yates hails from Pittsboro, N. C., and is an English major now practicing teaching at Needham Broughton High School.

Cathy is president of the Granddaughters' Club, sergeant-at-arms for the Philaretian Society, and circulation manager for the Acorn. As publicity manager on the A.A. Board, her position on the Twig is that of sports editor. There just isn't a sport Cathy doesn't participate in, according to her suitemates. She was on the varsity hockey and volleyball teams this year and was voted most athletic by her senior class. Her suite votes her "most noisiest" on 2nd Brewer. A transfer from Mars Hill, Cathy is a Dean's List student.

Our other Cathy is named Atkins, and she is a senior history major from Albemarle, N. C. As for her future plans she may teach history or work in a historical museum.

Drama is Cathy's first love, and she is active in the Playhouse as well as Alpha Psi Omega Honorary Dramatics Society. She directed her class stunts both last year and this year. As a junior, she was class vice-president. She, too, is on the Dean's List.

Cathy is one of the gals who gives us all that nice mail at the post office. She says the trials and tribulations of P.O. work are many and varied. "People would rather get mail than eat," says Cathy.

MUSIC TEACHERS MEET HERE

A meeting of all the music teachers of the Baptist colleges in North Carolina — both Junior and Senior colleges — was held here at Meredith March 2 and 3. The Meredith music faculty was host to this convention that began Friday afternoon and ended Saturday afternoon.

SENIOR GIVES RECITAL TONIGHT

Tonight at 8:00 p.m., in Jones Auditorium, Margaret Anne English, senior piano major, will present her graduation recital. From Cary and a student of Stuart Pratt, Margaret Anne is editor of the Twig and a member of Silver Shield, Kappa Nu Sigma, and Sigma Alpha Iota. She is on Dean's List and is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Margaret Ann, better known on campus as "Mish," is the eleven year winner of the National Piano Playing Auditions and winner of the Paderewski Medal.

Her program includes: "Prelude and Fugue in A-Flat Major" and "Prelude and Fugue in F Major," both from Book I of the Well-Tempered Clavier by Bach; "Thirty-two Variations in C Minor" by Beethoven; "Sonatine" by Ravel; and "Concerto No. 2 in A Major" by Liszt.

Marshals for the recital tonight are Betty Deloatch, Carolyn English, Mary Kiser, Margaret Layne, Ruth Sperling, and Marjorie Thore.

"The Earth" Given By Dance Group

By PAM HARTSELL

In the dance recital of February 25, Dr. Claire Weigt and the choreos presented a story in verse and dance. A reading of poetry by the narrator and voice of earth preceded the dances in order to provide an orderly, understandable outline for the audience and to set the mood for the dancers.

From the very movements of the bodies to the floor patterns, a balance was achieved which produced unity and harmony throughout. Repetition played an important part in developing the theme of earth, especially in achieving a monotonous sensation during the dance of drudgery. The presence of the rear platform provided a variety of levels for various dances. This device was especially effective in the dance of greed.

The main emphasis of the dance drama centered around Earth, danced by Dr. Weigt; however, the audience was certainly attracted by the figures which she witnessed, some of which were planets, toiling man, figures of speed, monster of greed, and common earth people

TAR HEEL AUTHORS TO BE ON CAMPUS

The North Carolina Literary Forum will hold its first meeting in the Meredith College Auditorium. The purpose of the forum, which is hoped to become an annual affair in Raleigh, is to discuss American books and authors generally, with particular emphasis on Southern authors and books. The talk will be of the informal, give and take variety among authors and between authors and members of the audience.

The forum will be open to everybody and a large attendance is expected from throughout Eastern North Carolina.

Jonathan Daniels, well-known Raleigh author, will serve as moderator. The theme will be "The Southern Renaissance," or how Southern writing has reached its present status. Panel members who will discuss various aspects of the theme and their topics are:

Paul Green of Chapel Hill, Tar Heel dramatist, "How We Got There"; Frances Gray Patton of Durham, short-story writer and author of Good Morning, Miss Dove, "Where Are We Going?"; Sam Ragan of Raleigh, managing editor of The News and Observer, "The Merry-Go-Round We Are On"; and Mrs. Wilma Dykeman of Asheville, author of The French Broad, one of the Rivers of America series, "Who's Doing It?"

The North Carolina Literary Forum is the brain child of Miss Clyde Smith, librarian of the Olivia Raney Library, who thought that a forum similar to the Town Meeting on Books could and should be held in Raleigh. She and Mrs. Wayne Burch are projects chairmen of the Raleigh Woman's Club which is sponsoring the forum. Mrs. Burch will preside over the forum.

The forum will be held on Thursday, April 5, in the Meredith College Auditorium. The forum will be conducted on Meredith's campus through the efforts of the Tyner Future Teachers Chapter. Its members will act as hostesses to the famous guests on campus.

BUSINESS OFFICE LOSES SECRETARY

The friendly greeting and smile from Sylvia Tucker is being missed, I'm sure. Sylvia worked in the business office as secretary to Mr. Belcher. She came to Raleigh about a
