CLASSES COMPETE TONIGHT FOR STUNT CUP

Expansion Program Begins In Wayne County November 9

Dr. Carlyle Campbell and Mr. Robert Deyton attended a send-off dinner for the Wayne County Meredith expansion campaign at the Hotel Goldsboro in Goldsboro on Monday, November 9.

Raymond Bryan Is Chairman

The dinner, attended by those who are aiding in solicitation for Wayne County, was given by Mr. Raymond A. Bryan, president of the T. A. Loving Company of Goldsboro and chairman of this campaign. The three vice-chairmen for this area are Mrs. Charles Norwood, a member of the Meredith College Board of Trustees; Mr. John L. Henderson, and Mr. D. N. Alexander.

Temporary Buildings Serve Three Decades

Dr. Campbell and Mr. Deyton told the group of the needs of Meredith College and reminded them that in 1926 — when Meredith moved to its present location — there were five temporary frame buildings: a chapel and music building, a science and home economics building, a general classroom building, a physical education plant, and an infirmary. There was no building for alumnae, student activities, or home management.

New Structures Scheduled

The group was also told that Meredith had spent approximately one million and a half dollars for buildings since moving to the new campus, but that this construction had not increased the capacity of the college because it simply replaced the temporary buildings. The group was also told that the program would include—in addition to such new structures as buildings for student activities and physical education—an infirmary, a library, and the remodeling and refurnishing of the dormitories and the dining hall and kitchen.

History Class Plans Williamsburg Trip

A trip to Williamsburg, Virginia, is being planned by Dr. Keith's colonial history class. The group will leave Meredith tomorrow, November 21, and return the following day. They will visit the governor's palace, taverns, shops, and rustic homes of colonial Williamsburg. Staying at homes of the typical Williamsburg style and dining at one of the taverns will provide the girls with an added appreciation of their colorful heritage.

The group also hopes to visit the site of the reconstructed Jamestown settlement, which is a short distance from Williamsburg.

Dr. Keith will accompany the girls on this excursion, which has become an annual highlight of the colonial history course.

Tonight at 8:00 p.m. the annual Meredith Stunt Night will begin in Jones Hall. The four classes will at that time be competing for the silver stunt trophy awarded by the judges on the basis of appropriateness, originality, and production.

Beginning with the freshmen, each class will in turn present an original stunt, written and produced by its own class members.

The following stunt chairmen have been directing the activities of each class: Carolyn Jones, senior; Mary Parrish, junior; Betty Bone, sophomore; and Nancy Edwards, freshman.

A.A. Is Host at Dinner

Prior to the performance, the Athletic Association will be host to past presidents of the association at a dinner in the dining hall. Other special guests will include members of the faculty stunt committee and the stunt judges. An after-dinner coffee will also be attended by the dinner guests in the Blue Parlor of Johnson Hall.

Ensemble Will Sing

After the four stunts have been completed, the Meredith Ensemble, directed by Miss Beatrice Donley, will sing while the judges are reaching their decision.

Stunt Initiated in 1915

Stunt Night was first initiated by the A.A. in 1915 and has become through the years a cherished Meredith tradition. If any one class receives the stunt trophy for three consecutive years, that class may keep the trophy permanently.

Judges for Stunt are selected by the A.A. and are not announced prior to Stunt Night. Four faculty members and one person from outside the college serve as judges.

DR. CAMPBELL TO LEAD THANKSGIVING SERVICE

This year the traditional Thanksgiving program for the Meredith community will be a worship service in Jones auditorium at 6:45 a.m. on Wednesday, November 25. Dr. Carlyle Campbell will lead the morning meditation and the chorus will provide special music. The student body, faculty, and staff of the college are invited to participate in this occasion of collective worship at the Thanksgiving season.

Thanksgiving holidays begin at 1:00 p.m. Wednesday, November 25. Classes will resume 8:25 a.m. Monday, November 30.

Phys. Ed. Absences Now Being Studied

The deduction of quality points for excessive absences from physical education classes has not become official academic policy, as was stated in the last issue of the TWIG. This method of attendance control is only one of the several being considered at this time by the Instruction Committee. Announcement of official policy will be made to the student body when the faculty group completes its study of physical education requirements.

The remainder of last issue's item — stating that no quality points or credit hours are being given and that six semesters of physical education are still required for graduation — was correct.

BSU FORUM FEATURES TRUEBLOOD LECTURE RECORDED AT MEREDITH

In the Hut on Monday, November 23, the third B.S.U. Forum for this year will be presented. The supper meeting, which will begin at 5:30, will feature a tape recording of "The Heresy of Our Age," a lecture delivered this summer by Dr.

D. Elton Trueblood at the Meredith School of Christian Studies.

The resource leaders, all of whom can relate the message of this tape to our college situation, are the Rev. W. W. Finlator, minister of Pullen Baptist Church; Mr. Leroy Richardson, State College B.S.U. director; and Dr. Ralph E. McLain, chairman of the Meredith religion department.

All those who are interested are urged to sign as soon as a list is provided because the Hut will accommodate for this meeting only one hundred students.

Societies Choose Freshman Marshals

On November 5 the Astrotekton and Philaretian Societies held meetings to install new member and to elect new freshman society marshals.

After the Phi installation ceremonies, Peggy Kinlaw was chosen as the new marshal. The other Phi marshals are Jane Manning, chief; Anne Carroll, senior; Janice Capps, junior; and Kay Simpson, sophomore.

Jean Pearce was the Astro choice for new marshal. The election was preceded by the installation of Astrotekton new members. Other marshals for the Astros are Betsy Thomerson, chief; Pat Hight, senior; Donna Taylor, junior; and Carolyn Lay, sophomore.

CONVENTION ELECTS MEREDITH TRUSTEES

At the Baptist State Convention in Greensboro, which was held last week, seven members of the Board of Trustees of Meredith College were elected for four-year terms beginning 1960. These are: Mr. Raymond A. Bryan, Goldsboro; Mrs. J. S. Farmer, Raleigh; the Rev. W. W. Finlator, Raleigh; Mr. Walker Martin, Raleigh; Dr. L. M. Massey, Zebulon; Dr. Marvin Slate, (Continued on page six)
