DAY STUDENTS, VANN TRIUMPH AT ANNUAL PLAY DAY, APRIL 20

April 20 proved to be a day of fun, fellowship, and good food for students, faculty, and families of the faculty members, for on this day was held Meredith's traditional Play Day.

The student body and faculty were welcomed by Kathleen Simmons, chairman of the day's activities, and President Carlyle Campbell, after which Mr. James Eads of the biology department and Judy Young, a sophomore, were crowned as reigning Duke and Duchess.

Groups Compete In Cheers, Songs

The next event of the afternoon was the presentation of cheers and songs by the faculty, dormitories, and day students. First and second place winners of the song were Brewer Dormitory and the Day Students, respectively; and first and second place winners of the cheer were Vann and Faircloth Dormitories, respectively.

Faculty Defeats Students

Two other main events of the afternoon were the faculty-student volleyball game and the faculty-student softball game. The faculty (with the help of frequent substitutes) triumphed in both encounters.

Throughout the afternoon, individual challenge play-offs were held in such games and sports as bridge, horse shoes, croquet, tennis, ping-pong, checkers, hopscotch, and canasta. These competitions were held in the court and in the gymnasium.

After a picnic supper was held in the court, the first and second place winners of the entire Play Day were announced. The Day Students captured first place and Vann Dormitory took second place honors.

The three other retiring officers relinquished their posts to Nancy Wade, Helen Neblett, and Kappie Weed, who were recognized as vice-president, treasurer, and secretary, respectively.

Clothes Chatter

Get into the swim—and there's no better time than now to choose from Burton's glamorous selection of new swimsuits.

Roxanne's corsetiere styled swim suit of aqua lastex with the draped front that comes in bra sizes to make the most of your figure would do just that on Julianna Yancey.

Just smile and wear a Jantzen, Dianne Watkins, of mauve, green, and sea blue floral stripe in lastex, syled with.

little boy legs. A dramatic drape, splashed with huge purple flowers and greenery on white makes a real eye-catcher of tall, willowy Carolyn Sears.

Yes, all of those wolf whistles are for Gigi Padgett in a long-stemmed sheath showing off its American beauty roses in natural colors on white, fastened with contoured straps and dropping to a mid-back V.

Just as appealing in her own cute way at the beach is Crissie Gurkin, gaily sporting an island print watermelon pink sea dress with its permanently pleated skirt and contoured straps with adjustable buttons. What about that Sigma Nu beach party,

Crissie??

A diffused violet print on de-

lustered satin in the classic

silhouette makes Rachel Dailey lovely to look at. Delightful to see, as well, she will be

when she covers up her swim

suit with a saucy, cotton poplin

kimona sleeve jacket to match

the charming suit.

To complement Sylvia Rose's

glorious tan is the rambler sea

dress of desert coral floral

with a cummerbund midriff

and a gay unpressed

pleated skirt.

Every girl can complement

her tan, figure, or personality

with one of the exciting

Burton's swim suits.
