

SENIOR CLASS CHOOSES NINE SUPERLATIVES IN RECENT ELECTION

The class of 1962 has recently elected its superlatives. Nancy Ricker, who is serving this year as president of the Student Government Association, was elected Miss Meredith. The presidents of the other two major organizations of the Meredith College campus, the B.S.U. and the A.A., were also elected superlatives — Anne White being the Best All Around Dorm Student and Delores Atkins, Most Athletic.

Most Intellectual is Martha Stuckey, president of Brewer Dormitory, while Pat Walston, who is president of Faircloth and chaplain of the Beta Zeta Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, National Professional Music Fraternity for Women, was elected by her classmates as Friendliest.

Leading the Phis through a very

Pratt and Cooper To Present Recitals

The music department is presenting two of its faculty members in recitals this fall. On October 27, Mr. Stuart Pratt will give a piano recital in Jones Auditorium at eight p.m. His program will consist of: Fantasy in D minor.....Mozart Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue.....Bach 24 Preludes, opus 28.....Chopin Waltz .....Scharwenka La Terrasse des Audiences

Debussy
Toccata .....Khachaturian

On November 9, Dr. Harry E. Cooper will present the dedication recital of the new organ. The instrument, given by Mrs. G. T. Cromwell of Morganton, an alumna of Meredith, was designed by Dr. Cooper and built by Austin Organs, Incorporated, of Hartford, Connecticut. The program will include:

Trumpet Tune and Air.....Purcell
Symphony from Cantata 106.....Bach
Fantaisie in A major.....Frank
Tocato on "From Heaven High"
Edmundson
Gavotte from 12 Organ Sonata

Martini
Canzona in A minor.....Guilmant
Christmas in Sicily.....Yon
A Song of Joy.....Frylinger

The first of the programs of the Chamber Music Series will be presented on November 10. The Lyric Trio will perform in the Ballroom of the State College Student Union. The remaining concerts will be presented in Jones Auditorium at Meredith.

GROUP NAMES PAYNE AS HEAD OF ELECTIONS

On October 19, the Nominating Committee held its first meeting. With Anne Braswell, chief counselor, presiding, the members named four freshmen and one junior as new representatives. The committee also chose Brenda Payne to head this year's election committee. Her job will include looking into the possibility of Meredith's having campaigns for the coming elections as well as planning the actual elections.

First on the slate for use in the campaigns will be the possibility of using handbills picturing the candidates and summarizing their quali-successful rush week was Carol Park, who was named Wittiest. The Senior Class regarded its president, Peggy Wilkins, very highly as they elected her to the position of Most Versatile. Gwen Cooper, the editor of the Oak Leaves, was named Cutest, and Sadie Sue Worthington, serving this year as College Marshal, was chosen by her classmates as being the Most Attractive. The one remaining superlative, Best All Around Town Student, will be elected by the class in November.

(Continued on page 4)

Freshman Class Selects Officers

The Freshman Class officers for 1961-62 were elected on October 12. They are: Donna Dull, president; Sue Johnson, vice-president; Ann Pepper Poole, secretary; and Lura Penney, treasurer. At the same meeting Betty Spock was elected freshman class representative to the S.G. and Harriet McCloud, stunt chairman.

Donna is from Winston-Salem, where she was in the National Honor Society, Girls Athletic Association, and Y-Teens. Sue, who is from Clinton, North Carolina, was in the National Honor Society, on the annual staff, and received the Leadership award at graduation. Ann Pepper, who is from Kinston, was also in the National Honor Society, was president of the Senior class, secretary of the student council, and received the "Best all Around" senior superlative. Lura from Kenansville, was secretary of the Beta Club, valedictorian, cheerleader, and received the "Most Intellectual" senior superlative. All four have different fields of interest, despite their similar achievements. Donna plans to major in math, and Ann Pepper in religion. Sue's main interest lies in sports, and Lura is as yet undecided.

FOREST HILLS BAPTIST CHURCH TO BE HOST TO ANNUAL NORTH CAROLINA BSU CONVENTION

For the weekend of November 3-5, Forest Hills Baptist Church of Raleigh will be host to the Annual North Carolina Baptist Student Union Convention, held in a different city each year. Including four major sessions — one on Friday evening, Saturday morning and evening, and Sunday morning — the Convention will attract B.S.U. members from colleges and universities all over North Carolina; these students will stay in the homes of members of the various Baptist churches in Raleigh. "A Living Church in a Revolutionary World" is the theme for the entire convention; a number of stimulating speakers have been secured to present this idea.

Duncan To Speak

Beginning at 7:30 on Friday night, the initial session of the convention will feature a devotion by Dr. J. Allen Easley, music by the Shaw University Choir, and an address by Dr. Pope A. Duncan on the subject "A World in Metamorphosis." Afterwards the convention will divide into small groups for informal talk and recreation.

Group To Hear Hill

At the Saturday morning session, beginning at nine o'clock, the main address will be "The Church and the Churches," delivered by Dr.

FACULTY AND STUDENT BODY PARTICIPATE

Cornhuskin', 1961, got under way last night in the atmosphere of apple bobbers, corn shuckers, and hog callers. Under the sponsorship of the Athletic Association, faculty and students competed gaily in excitement and fun. "It was great to be able to let down your hair and have so much fun with the faculty," said a surprised freshman.

Annual Event Begins With Picnic

The Cornhuskin' Bee got officially under way at 5:30 p.m. as gaily clad participants carrying out various themes in their dress, feasted at a picnic in the dining hall and showed off their costumes in a gala parade.

Group Singing Preceeds Competition

From the picnic, faculty and students proceeded to the gym where they participated in group singing. Then chairman of Cornhuskin', Nancy Jones, welcomed everyone and introduced the contest judges, and the contests were under way. Spirit was high between classes as competitors came before the watchful eye of the judges.

Contests Provide Merriment

Hog callers coaxed and berated their stubborn, lost animals amid squeals of laughter from both pigs and audience. Then apple bobbing proved wet but delightful for all. There was no real envy for the bobbers, however, for members of the audience were crunching their own apples.

Spectators were enlightened even more on class themes when the five tall tale tellers rocked the audience with punchlines and puns. Even

Mary Lou Morgan (seated) and Sarah Ramsey enjoy cornhuskin'.

Texans would have bowed to the yarns.

Cornhuskin' Contest Is Climax

Class songs followed and competition grew keen as song and music swayed the new foundations of the old gym. Spirits were at a peak when the big event of the night was called — cornhuskin'! Hands flew so fast over ears of corn that one could hardly see them, and student participants were breathless from trying to outhusk the talented faculty.

As the contests came to an end and tension mounted awaiting the judges decision, the spectators were entertained by recruits of Sue Ennis and Karen Roberts.

DELTA SIGS GIVE PARTY FOR PHIS

On Sunday, October 22, at 2:00 p.m., the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity give a lawn party for the Philaretian society at Meredith. The party was held at the Delta Sig fraternity house.

The Phis met in Johnson Hall where they were joined by the members of the Delta Sigs. From there the group migrated to the Delta Sig's large white house which is located on Tyron Road.

When the group arrived, the girls were taken on a tour of the house. Then the group moved outside and to the Delta Sig Hut. There everyone joined in dancing and singing.

Entertainment was provided by Jerry Long on the drums and Harry Thompson on the piano, while refreshments of punch and cookies were being served by the Delta Sig pledges. After the refreshments and entertainment, the group again moved outside and resumed dancing.

The party was given for the Phis as a thank-you for being invited to help them with Rush at Meredith this year and in return for the party the Delta Sigs attended that was given by the Phis. It was planned by Delta Sig publicity chairman, Wes McGee, and Phi president, Carol Park, in co-operation with Ron Boger, Delta Sig president.

Also attending the party was Mrs. W. R. Allen with her husband and their son Ross. Mrs. Allen is faculty sponsor for the Phis. Mrs. Blanch Riddle, better known to Delta Sigs and their friends as "Mom" Riddle, who is the Delta Sig house mother, was also present for the event. In addition to Mrs. Riddle, Mr. and Mrs. William Kepler, the Delta Sig sponsors, actively participated in the function.

Samuel S. Hill, Jr., of Chapel Hill, who spoke during Religious Emphasis week at Meredith last year. Next, the small groups established on Friday night will meet, this time for actual discussion of the convention theme.

Although no formal session is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, the movie "The Mark of the Hawk," starring Eartha Kitt and Sidney Pottier, will be shown twice, once at 2:30 and once at 4:15, for those who wish to attend.

West To Address Group

Special music by the State B.S.U.

Choir, composed of members from each participating college, will be given at the Saturday evening session, which will begin at 7:30. The main address of the evening, "The Suffering Servant in a Suffering World," will be given by Dr. Elmer S. West, followed by adjournment at 9:15.

B. S. U. Choir To Sing

The B.S.U. Choir will sing again at the Sunday morning worship service, beginning at 9:30. Concluding the 1961 fall convention will be Dr. Pope Duncan's address, "Your Role in the Revolution."

Seniors Honor Little Sisters

On October 19 at 10:00 p.m. in society hall, the Class of '62 gave the traditional Big Sister-Little Sister party for the Class of '64. After refreshments were served, entertainment was provided by the seniors. The program was based on "Art Linkletter's Houseparty," with Joan McGranahan portraying Art Linkletter. Others participating in the program were Sandra Walker, Gwen Cooper, Rachel Dailey, Linda Hales, Sarah Shoaf, Barbara Stewart, Sue Holland, Nancy Ricker, Kathy Roberts, and Carole Brock.

After the program, the president of the Class of '62, Peggy Wilkins, presented the traditional plaque of the even classes to Mary Lyon McKenny, president of the Class of '64. Following the presentation, the Big Sisters sang "The Little Sister Song."

The committee in charge of the party was as follows: Linda Mot-singer, chairman, Cindy Corbett, Shirley Ballard, Diane Journigan, and Lou Perry.