

Kaye Taylor Elected President Of Freshmen For Coming Year

The Freshmen Class has elected its officers for the coming year. Those who will serve during the 1962-63 school term are Kaye Taylor, president; Barbara Tilley, vice president; Fran Smith, secretary; Peggy Knauff, treasurer; and Kent Thompson, stunt chairman.

Kaye's hometown is Kinston. In high school she was president of the Junior Tri-Hi-Y and vice-presiciety, and the Science Club. Her favorite activities are water sports and bowling.

Fran Smith, a Richmond, Virginia native, worked on committees and councils in high school and as a nurse's aide after school hours. She enjoys water skiing, knitting, and sewing.

Peggy Knauff hails from the Queen City of Charlotte. She was dent of the Student Council. She served the yearbook staff as feature editor and the National Honor Society as secretary.

Barbara Tilley from New Bern, was elected vice-president. Barbara's activities in high school included being vice-president of the Latin Club and the choir, treasurer of the Junior class, and secretary of the Tri-Hi-Y. Other clubs in which she participated were the Junior Civitan Club, National Honor Soa homeroom officer in her high school for three years and enjoys sports and dancing.

The freshmen stunt chairman, Kent Thompson, was a stunt chairman at her high school in Goldsboro. She was also secretary of the senior class, senior editor of the yearbook, and feature editor of the school newspaper.

Mrs. Dorothy K. Preston of the math department was chosen to be the class sponsor.

Edinger Is NEA Candidate

By JEAN HEGE

At the NEA convention this year, excitement and enthusiasm will be even stronger within the North Carolina delegation than usual because they will be supporting Miss Lois Edinger for vice president and president-elect of the National Education Association. This is the first candidate from North Carolina since Dr. J. Y. Joyner held the office in 1902.

Meredith Graduate

In the past few years, Miss Edinger, a 1945 graduate of Meredith, has been recognized as a National and state educational leader, but even during her college years she was a leader on this campus. While at Meredith, she majored in history and was president of the International Relations Club as well as active in the Student League of Women Voters. She worked diligently to aid her class in making their stunt presentations successful, and she also reported for THE TWIG. While her name appeared on the Dean's List frequently, Miss Edinger was also chosen to be honored by Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Since graduating from Meredith, she has received her Master's Degree from the University of North Carolina and has continued her study toward a doctor's degree there.

Seniors Begin Student Teaching

By SUSAN ROSS

With shakes in the knees, butterflies in the stomachs, and smiles on their faces, the student teachers of Meredith are beginning to meet their pupils. One will soon be able to spot these girls easily when they rush to breakfast and hurry to meet their rides, loaded down with textbooks, experience charts for first graders and new ideas for the bulletin boards in hopes that their supervising teachers will approve.

18 Elementary Teachers

Student teachers on the elementary level number eighteen this semester. At Frances Lacy, Jerrie Bibb will be in the fifth grade; Harriet Cole and Ellen Rogers, third; and Margaret McGuirt, second. Emma Conn will be the "second home" for Laura Branch, fourth; Edna Buffalo and Mary E. McCormick, first. Jeanne Burgess, fifth; Mary Lou Davis, second; and Mary Ann Wolfe, second, will be student teaching at Mt. Vernon Goodwin.

In several schools we have only one person placed. Sylvia Jeffcoat is at J. Y. Joyner in the fourth grade, while Sylvia Rose will be in the second grade at Murphy. Ann Sanders will be in the fourth at Boylan Heights, and Myra Sawyer will work in the third grade at Barbee. A fourth grade at Fred Olds will have Faye Starling, and Eloise Sykes will be in the fifth grade at Wiley.

22 Secondary School Teachers

Junior and high school teachers number twenty-two. At Broughton Senior High, Judy Avery, French; Berma Jean Davenport and Dorothy Stowe, English; Joy Harrington, home economics; and Sarah Ramsey, history, will be the student teachers.

Kappie Weede and Margaret Phillips, English, and Jean Pollock, home economics, will travel to Garner each day.

Joan McGranahan will be in the English department at Enloe High School while Linda Baxter, Spanish, Carol Christian and Bobbi Heffner, English; Brenda Corbett Scarce, history; and Anne Shadoin, sociology, will be at Cary High.

Junior high teachers include Betsy Benthall, home economics; Amelia Robinson, French; Dianne Simmons and Donna Yancey, social studies at Josephus Daniels. At Hugh Morrison will be Gene Davenport in home economics, Linda Arrington, music, and Pat Hutchins, English. Bryna Barrett will teach social studies at Millbrook.

The student teaching period officially begins November 12 and will continue until the end of the semester. At present, the teachers-to-be are observing a few hours each week.

I. P. REPORTS

Berea, O. —(I.P.) — Weekly assembly programs have been discontinued at Baldwin-Wallace College. A new system has been substituted whereby students will receive one hour of college credit per year for attending a variety of out-of-class academic and cultural events. The total hours required for graduation of day session students will be raised from 186 to 190.

During each quarter, students will be required to attend ten events, chosen from at least five of the following seven broad areas: music, art, drama, general humanities, religion, science, and social science. There will also be two required assemblies per quarter for the purpose of communicating with the student body in face-to-face situation and for traditional and essential convocations.

As this new system will involve the earning of college credit, its cost will be included as a part of the student tuition fees.

RULE CHANGES SOUGHT BY S.G.

By BETTY HOOKS

Recently two recommendations from the legislative board have been sent to the faculty committee on student government. One of the recommendations has been approved by the committee. This rule change will allow second-semester freshmen to have the same light privileges as upperclassmen. Light ruling for first semester freshmen will remain as it now stands.

One O'Clock Privileges

The second proposal sent to the faculty committee has not received final action as yet. The committee will do additional work before a decision is reached concerning this proposal for a specified number of one o'clocks per class. Ellen MacIntosh headed a legislative board committee which studied the possibilities of one o'clock privileges and presented ideas to the whole board for action.

Board Working On Two Proposals

At the present time, legislative board committees are in the working stage on two new proposals. Judy Woods heads a committee which is working in co-operation with a BSU committee on possibilities for eliminating required Sunday school and church attendance. Another group with Donna Dull as chairman, is studying a proposal for making the freshmen double-dating rule effective until the first open weekend, rather than until Thanksgiving, as it now is. Neither proposal has been sent yet for faculty committee action.
