RHYTHM KIDS ENTERTAIN STUDENTS; SOCIETY OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED

On February 27, the Rhythm Kids from the North Carolina School for the Blind entertained members of the entire student body. The Rhythm Kids were sponsored by the Astrotekton Society. Several years ago the Astros learned of the capabilities of the blind children through three young men, formerly the Popsickles, known today as the Nutty Buddies. These three children, who are now members of the Rhythm Kids and who have continued to be favorites of the Astros, are Calvin Brandon, Joseph Faison, and Johnny Mac-

More. The group entertained Meredith students with new arrangements of "Return To Sender," "Call On Me," "Twist And Shout," and "Bring It On Home To Me."

Society Plans

Coming events for the Phis and the Astros include two meetings in April. One of the meetings will be a joint meeting with the Phis as hostesses to the Astros. Separate meetings will be held for the purpose of nominating candidates to fill the society offices for the coming year.

June Leonard Presents Art Exhibit Showing Mastery of Varied Media

Miss June Leonard, a senior art major, displayed a collection of her work in the Meredith College art gallery from March 2-8. The exhibit consisted of works from all four years at Meredith and was part of her requirement for a degree in art.

The collection of pieces shown included a variety ranging from oils and water colors to commercial sketches. June admits a preference to oils.

One section of the display includes bright water colors, whose subjects are landscapes. Another area is in oils, most of which are abstract. In contrast to these works are several commercial sketches for Thalhimers'.

Although interested in art before coming to college, June had never received formal instruction until she came to Meredith.

As yet June has not decided into what field her art will take her. She does admit, however, that she is never "satisfied" with a work, but always feels she "can do better" on the next one.

Cannon Award for North Carolina History. He is listed in the Directory of American Scholars, Who's Who in the South and Southwest, Literary Map of North Carolina, and Who's Who in America.

Gaston of Chester

Gaston of Chester is the latest of several books Dr. Davidson has written. He has also contributed to N. C. Historical Review, Encyclopaedia Americana and numerous other publications.

Dr. Davidson married Alice Graham Gage of Chester, and they have three children: Robert Gage, Alice Graham, and Mary Gage.

CAMPUS CHEST CARNIVAL

Everyone is invited to the UNC Campus Chest Carnival, Saturday, March 16, from 1:30 to 5:30, on the Intramural Field beside Wollen Gymnasium in Chapel Hill. Come and enjoy carnival rides and booths sponsored by students with everything from pie-eating contests to climbing greased poles. There will be something for young and old, so bring the family. The four charities you will help while you have fun are the World University Service, Mental Health for Children, International Exchange for Latin America, and the American Friends Service. Everyone is invited, so come to the carnival and have fun!

Ten Girls Receive SAI Membership

On February 26 the members of SAI invited ten girls to join their secret sisterhood. Those receiving bids were Lynn Billington, Lelia Clinard, Susan Crowell, Mrs. Ann Huss, Janet Kay Morris, Mrs. Gloria Perry, Mrs. Jacqueline Satterfield, Mrs. Jane Sullivan, Cindy Swayne, and Jennie Thomas.

Sigma Alpha Iota is a professional fraternity for women in the field of music. It was founded at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan, June 12, 1903, by seven graduate students.

National projects of SAI include Pan's Cottage for creative artists and the International Music Fund for rehabilitation purposes. The Sigma Alpha Iota Foundation sponsors and encourages the performance of modern music. Scholarships for summer camps as well as graduate study are given by this organization.

The Beta Zeta Chapter of SAI here on campus also has several projects. Already this year it has sponsored the State College Glee Club. In the late spring the music faculty recital will be held under its auspices.

The old members of SAI are June Hendricks, Elizabeth Vestal, Elizabeth Holland, Priscilla Macomber, Carol Lloyd, Jean Tate, Scott Beaver, Mary Alice Bell, Linda Arrington, Mary Milam, Susan Leathers, and Barbara Jones.

Dr. Ione Kemp Knight has announced that slides of literary and general interest will be shown in 103 Joyner at 5:00 p.m. March 21.

management opportunities. Wachovia Bank and Trust Company and Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner, and Smith, Incorporated will lead a discussion about financing. Governmental affairs will be presented by the North Carolina Merit System. Another phase of the program will be presented by representatives from East Carolina College and the Department of Public Instruction concerning openings in the field of education.

A second panel discussion will be held at 3:00 p.m. "Goals—National and Private" will be moderated by Dr. Gaines M. Rogers from Wake Forest College. Panelists will be Dr. Charles Ratliffe, Jr. from Davidson College, Dr. John W. Kennedy from W.C.U.N.C., and Dr. John Blackburn from Duke University.

Meredith students heading committees for the conference are Betsy Stem, general business chairman, and Martha Ballou, general economics chairman. Ann DeWitt is in charge of correspondence, Diane Bowers and Jean Ratchford are program chairmen for the event, and Norma Baker is in charge of the luncheon.

Harriet Rivers and Brenda Clark will be registrars, Jean McKelvey is in charge of the machines display, and Anne Pope will prepare the materials display. Mabel Pucket is publicity chairman for the Forum.

Basketball Varsity Has Busy Season; A.A. Makes Plans For Spring Sports

Among the group sports sponsored by the Athletic Association this year is basketball. The varsity basketball team has represented Meredith in competition against St. Mary's and Rex Hospital. In both events Meredith has come out victorious. The Meredith varsity team traveled to Chapel Hill to play Carolina's girls on March 13. The girls who are representing Meredith in these activities are Sue Ennis, Joan Brantley, Mary Ann Britt, Dollie Smith, Frances McNairy, Nancy Craig, Mary Lou Morgan, Nancy K. Jones, Carol Ellis, Vickie Goodman, Sandra Butler, Nancy L. Jones, Judy Woods, "Bookie" Ellis, and Libby Bullard.

Not only does the varsity team take an active part in basketball, but the whole student body is given an opportunity to participate through the intermural games between classes, dorms, and societies. The Sophomore class took the honor in class games this year by defeating the Juniors 36 to 27. Competition is also sparked between the Phis and Astros each year as they organize teams to play the best two out of three games for the winner.

Through enthusiastic competition in basketball, the students gain a sense of fair play, a sound body and mind, and an enrichment of their lives through co-operation and fellowship.

Basketball is not the only sport sponsored by the A.A. Tennis, ping pong, softball, and swimming are additional sports which will begin this spring. They are offered for the enjoyment of all the students here at Meredith.
