

Juniors exclaim with Frieda over victory.

Frieda Farmer To Head Judiciary; Seven Run-Offs Are Held Today

The second slate election for campus officers was held Thursday, March 21. The S.G.A., B.S.U. and A.A. each filled positions at this time. Other campus posts appearing on the ballot were society presidents, college marshal, Acorn editor and Twig business manager.

Serving the students next year as vice-president of the judicial board will be Frieda Farmer of Lynchburg, Virginia. Frieda has been active in many campus activities, working with Y.W.A.'s as well as serving on Stunt committees for her class. Her junior year she filled the position of secretary of the judicial board.

Other judicial board positions filled were those of dorm presidents. Becky Matthews was elected as Brewer president. Judy Paschal will preside over Faircloth, while the president of the New Dorm will be decided between Lou Mathis and Ann Waters in a run-off election to be held Thursday, March 28. The treasurer of the day students for 1963-64 will be Janet Brown.

The student activities board, a new board resulting from the re-writing of the constitution last year, will have as its president either Betty Godwin or Margaret Houghton. This will be decided by the run-off Thursday.

Several dormitory vice-presidents who will serve as members of the legislative board, were elected. In Brewer, Dottie Bullock will be in charge of first floor, a run-off will decide between Nancy Ford and Betty Jo Steele for second, while Donna Haverstock will be on third. In Faircloth Margaret Kelly will serve as vice-president on first floor; Margaret Simmons, second; and the third floor position will go either to Bonnie Fisher or Janet Pugh, depending on the run-off. Another position appearing on the run-off ballot will be vice-president of first floor in the New Dorm. Mary Alice Bell and Clarene Roberson are the

(Continued on page 6)

Former Nazi Prisoner To Speak on Germany

"Sprechen Sie Deutsch?" Whether you do or not, Gerhart H. Seger's talk on April 10 at 5:00 p.m. should be of interest to all Meredith students. Born in Leipzig, Germany on November 16, 1896, Mr. Seger served in the German cavalry during World War I and was held in the first Nazi concentration camp at Oranienburg for six months under the reign of Hitler. Seger escaped from this camp into Czechoslovakia and while lecturing in England was able, with the help of British friends, to secure the release of his wife and baby daughter from a concentration camp in Rosslau, Anhalt.

Since the Second World War, Seger has been in Germany six times, notably as a witness at the first Nuremberg trial. He is the author of several books about Germany and has lectured all over the United States and Canada. His probable topic of discussion in connection with Dr. Percy's history class will be "After Dr. Adenauer, What?"

ice. Not only will he be expected to visit science classes, but he will also hold individual conferences during his remaining time on campus.

Science Depts. Hold Alumnae Seminar

The twenty-first annual seminar for Meredith alumnae will be sponsored by the departments of chemistry and biology when former students convene this year on April 6. The seminar will open with a coffee hour in the physics department at 9:00 a.m. Coffee will be served in beakers as an introduction to the scientific topic of the day.

Three Seminars

Three seminars will be held for the returning science majors and other alumnae. Dr. Paul B. Sears, visiting Babcock Professor at Wake Forest this year, will speak on "Man and Nature in the World Today" at 10:30 a.m. The noted biologist is the recently retired chairman of the Conservation Program at Yale University and is president of the Ecological Society of America.

Alumnae To Serve On Panel

Four Meredith alumnae will serve on a panel at 11:30 a.m. to discuss progress in their respective

(Continued on page 5)

Dr. John Yarbrough To Speak at ACC

Atlantic Christian College in Wilson, N. C. has invited Dr. John A. Yarbrough, head of the Biology Department, to participate in its Religious Emphasis program on April 3, and 4. The theme for the program is "Science and Religion."

Dr. Yarbrough's chapel address, to be given on April 3, is entitled "Science and Religious Belief." During the afternoon, he will attend informal discussions with the Christian Service Workshop, which consists of a group of students studying for full time Christian serv-

Local Home Economics Chapter Is Spring Workshop Hostess

The Meredith College Chapter of the North Carolina Home Economics Association will be hostess for the annual college chapters spring work shop to be held March 29 and 30. Representatives from fourteen colleges will come to give and receive advice on leadership in chapter work.

Guests To Be Shown Campus

During registration on Friday afternoon, tours of the home economics department and new buildings on campus will be conducted, and refreshments will be served. The guests will eat in the college dining hall before attending the first general session. Neita Stoet, a senior at Catawba College and state president of the college chapters this year, will be presiding. Dean Louise Fleming will be present to bring greetings to the guests from the college.

Mrs. Krayne To Speak

Following the presentation of chapter business, the representatives will hear Mrs. Ruth Krayne speak on "International Needs for Home Economists." Mrs. Krayne is one of four young women chosen by the Hebrew University to come to the United States to study so that they can return to Israel and set up a home economics department. Last year Mrs. Krayne received her M.A. degree from Cornell University. She will return to Israel as soon as her State College graduate student-husband, whom she met on the ship coming to America, finishes his studies. A question and answer period will be held at the conclusion of her talk.

Film To Conclude Friday Session

A filmstrip on "How We Create An Image," a good lesson on professionalism in home economics, will be shown before Friday night's session is concluded with refreshments and entertainment in the Hunter Hall reception room. The guests will spend Friday night on campus in rooms given up by Meredith girls.

Saturday morning after breakfast in the dining hall, the business session will be held, at which time state officers will be elected. Discussion on the state project will follow the election. The state chapters have decided to help a new department of home economics being started at the University of Colombia by sending them plastic dinnerware for their foods laboratory. In order to let the college chapters see what is being done in the new department, the University has sent some slides that will be shown Saturday morning. In gratitude, the University has also sent some Colombian coffee which will be served at the coffee hour following the showing of the slides.

E. C. C. Leads Workshop

East Carolina College, with Joyce Dove Ward presiding, will direct the leadership workshop Saturday morning. They will have a program featuring a panel of East Carolina girls. A period of discussion in small groups will follow, with each group presenting its ideas at the close of the period.

Officers Installation Ends Conference

The activities will be brought to a close by a luncheon held at Balentine's in Cameron Village. Mary Jane Harrell of Salem College will be presiding at the luncheon meeting at the luncheon meeting.

(Continued on page 5)

Peacock Predicts Over 200 New Students To Enter Meredith Fall Semester, 1963

Dean L. A. Peacock announces that as of March 19, a total of 543 applications for dormitory residence for the 1963 fall semester have been received. This is already an increase over the 535 applications which were submitted for the fall semester of 1962. The problem of selecting next year's students from the large number of applicants is further complicated by the fact that fewer spaces will be available next year.

As a result of the construction of the new dormitory, the college was able to accept 303 new students in 1962; however, next fall there will be spaces for approximately 215 incoming students.

A number of applications have been accepted, some have been rejected, and others are still pending until a better estimate of available spaces can be made. Experience has shown that some of the girls accepted will withdraw before April 1, when an advance deposit of $50 is due, and that eight to nine per cent of the present resident students will withdraw. These withdrawals will provide additional spaces for incoming students.

College Is Prepared In Case of Fallout

The Meredith College tunnel has been designated as one of eighty-five fallout shelters in the Raleigh area. According to Mr. Howard V. Belcher, the college is co-operating with Civil Defense in the interest of the total program.

The tunnel is being equipped with five basic articles: food consisting of wheat biscuits somewhat similar to graham crackers; water; medical supplies, a minimum of non-perishable supplies such as aspirins; sanitation supplies; and, a radiation kit. When the shelter's equipment is complete, it will be able to capacitate approximately 550 people on the basis of ten square feet per person, on 750 calories and one quart of water per day for fourteen days.

Since the Meredith fallout shelter is equipped with government supplies, it is technically a government fallout shelter. Signs on the exterior of dorms are for the purpose of directing people to the tunnel.

Meredith is participating in a fallout shelter management course to be given at State College the last of March. The purpose is to train people who will be in charge of

(Continued on page 6)

Mary Lou Davis (left) and Anne Pope examine Civil Defense supplies.

College Calendar

March 29	Joyner Gallery 8:30-9:30 p.m.
	Betsy Wood's Exhibit
	Hut 4:30-9:00 p.m.
	Book Auction
March 30	Auditorium 7:00 p.m.
	Movie
April 1	Rose Parlor 7:00 p.m.
	B.S.U. Open Council
	Coliseum 8:00 p.m.
	Friends of the College
April 2	S.A.I. Room 7:00 p.m.
	S.A.I.
	Counselors 7:00 p.m.
	Coliseum 8:00 p.m.
	Friends of the College
	103 Joyner 8:30 a.m.
	John R. Van Hecke—
	"Letter Writing Campaign for Governor Terry Sanford 1963"
April 3	First Stringfield 7:00 p.m.
	202 Jones
	Playhouse
	Faculty Parlor
	Spanish Club
	New Dorm 6:30-7:30 p.m.
	Hoof Print Club
April 4	Hut 7:00 p.m.
	Astros
	Society Hall
	Phis
	Art Gallery 7:30-9:30 p.m.
	Jeanne Poole Smith
April 6	Science Building 9:00-4:00 p.m.
	Alumnae Seminar
April 8	Rose Parlor 7:00 p.m.
	B.S.U. Open Council
April 9	Alumnae House 7:00 p.m.
	Student League
	First Brewer
	Y.W.A.
	S.A.I. Room
	S.A.I.
	Council Group
	Hut 4:30-8:00 p.m.
	English Club
April 10	103 Joyner 5:00-6:00 p.m.
	Lecturer from German Em.
April 11	Small Auditorium 6:45 a.m.
	Spring Recess Begins 1:00 p.m.