Miss Bell's Special Friends Have Varied Personalities

By POLLY FINAN Miss Lila Bell, a faculty member in the Meredith education department, seems to agree with the old saying that the dog is "man's best friend." This past summer, for instance, she entered Blaze, a Shetland sheepdog, belonging to Mrs. W. F. Spurlin, in the Fayetteville Kennel Club Show in which dogs were judged on their obedience. Blaze, though he is only one year old, has already been in two shows. In the first show, Miss Bell stated that he was clearly heading for first place when he broke at the very last moment. "I could have died," laughed Miss Bell.

This summer, however, Blaze performed beautifully. In competition with over fifty other dogs, he was the recipient of a ribbon. This ribbon gave Blaze what is known as one leg. To receive the C.D., or Companion Dog, degree, a dog must have three such legs. Upon graduation with this degree, a dog may begin training in jumping. Miss Bell plans to continue training Blaze, whom she said is very easy to handle.

Blaze, as well as Susie, Miss won no awards, but Miss Bell is con-Bell's terrier, has attended the train- tinuing to work with her. Miss Bell ing school held by the Kennel Club | said that she would be taking Susie of Raleigh. Susie has also been in back for further training, and added shows, but Miss Bell comments that "If she doesn't behave herself, I'll like most females, Susie has a "will kill her."

Week ends at Carolina and Davidson will find Lou Mathis and Judy Wicker wearing chic new fashions from Mac Josephs. For fraternity parties, especially, these two seniors have chosen the shift-jumper, the "rage of the season." Glancing at her itinerary, Lou sees that her new black and white tweed shift from Mac Josephs will be the perfect "eye catcher" for those fun filled week ends. Lou's shift-jumper, featuring smart black leather trim, zips in front and boasts a semi-flared skirt. A dashing style for combo parties, a new "sling shot shift" will go into "Wicker's" overnight suitcase. This wool tweed shift appears in high fashion colors of bottle green, plum and ever popular black. Both girls agree that one or two blouses with the shifts are a must. And Mac Josephs offers a wide selection in this category. In addition to the
