Miss Grimmer Honored by Board; Alumnae House Named for Her

Miss Mae Grimmer, Alumnae Secretary here for 35 years, was honored recently when the Meredith College Board of Trustees officially named the Alumnae House for her.

Miss Grimmer, a music graduate at Meredith in 1914 and music teacher here for four years, became Alumnae Secretary in 1928. She received an A.B. degree in history here in 1941.

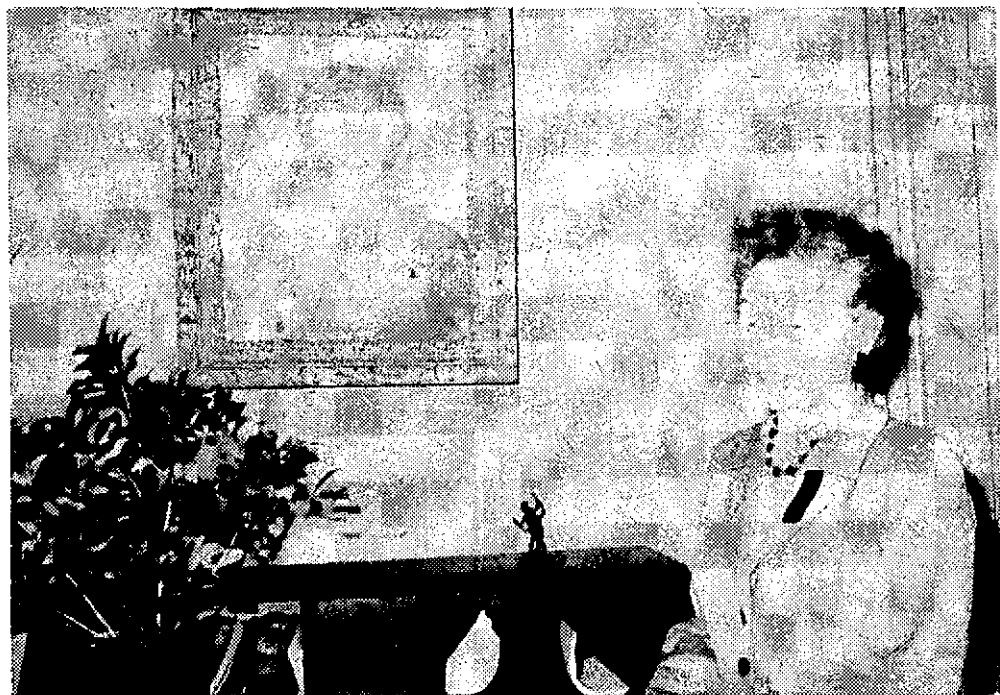

She is the originator of the Meredith Granddaughters Club, the Annual Alumnae Seminar, the Meredith luncheon at the State Baptist Convention and State Woman's Missionary Union, and a list of children of alumnae aptly called the Cradle Roll.

She is currently president of the Altrusa Club and is a past president of the American Association of University Women.

Now hanging in the Alumnae House is a portrait of Miss Grimmer painted by Miss Mary Tillery, a Meredith graduate and former art teacher.

Due to a recent illness, Miss Grimmer was not on campus when the announcement of the Board of Trustees was made. She will retire at the end of this school year.

English Club Plans Book Auction; Hut to Be Scene on March 18

The Colton English Club will hold a book auction in the Hut on March 18, at seven o'clock.

The auction has been an annual event on the club calendar for several years. Dean L. A. Peacock is the auctioneer for the sale. Books of all kinds may be purchased—math books, history books, novels, and many other sorts. The books are collected from the faculty and students who donate works for the sale.

The proceeds from the event will go toward the club project of educating Suthi Joseph, an Indian boy. The club has been sending him money for three years.

Those attending the auction in past years tell many amusing stories about the event. For example, at one of the sales, Dr. Mary Lynch Johnson discovered Dean Peacock auctioning a book which she herself had borrowed. She thought that the book had got mixed up with those to be sold. After buying the book back, she later learned that she had re-while Beverly Scarborough will serve with her as secretary of the organization.

Dottie Bullock was elected nominations chairman and Handbook editor. The day students will have as president Ginger Brown.

The other officers for 1964-65 will appear on second slate. These elections will be held on March 19, with any run-offs necessary held the following week.

BSU Announces Meetings; Forums, Conference Planned

Two supper forums and a state leadership conference are planned by the BSU for the month of April.

On April 1, the first supper forum will be held in the hut. The meeting will consist of a wiener roast followed by a discussion concerning the history and rotag of the Baptist denomination. The discussion will be a development of the various periods of American Baptist history.

Ann Pepper Poole will present an introduction about the Baptists in Europe.

Betty Griffin will discuss the period from the establishment of the first Baptist church in America to the Great Awakening. Virginia Daughtry will speak about the period from the Great Awakening to the Triennial. The period from the Triennial to the present day will be discussed by Penny Pittard.

A second supper forum to be held on April 28 will continue the discussion of Baptist history with more emphasis being placed on Baptist thought.

The weekend of April 17-19 is the date of the North Carolina Baptist Student Union spring leadership conference. The meeting will be held in Salisbury. New officers of the BSU council for the 1964-65 school year will attend this meeting.

Meredith Students Help With Project On Registration

To boost the percentage of qualified Negro registered voters in Wake County, a project sponsored by the Raleigh Citizens Committee has been under way for some weeks, to register these citizens.

College students in the Raleigh area have been participating regularly in the project each Saturday afternoon from 2:00 until 4:30.

Since about 25 per cent of the qualified Negroes in Wake County are registered to vote as opposed to 65 per cent of white registered voters, the project is an educational program for the Negro.

Students travel in pairs to the homes of non-registered Negroes to talk to them about the responsibility of citizenship and the individual's participation in democracy. Mobile registrars accompany the students making it possible for Negroes to register in their own homes.

A stated goal of this project, which will continue until April, enables the students who participate to become involved in democracy, to get a first hand impression of the community and social problems in the area, and to meet and know students from various other colleges.

Colleges which have sent representatives to help in this project are Meredith, State, Shaw, Peace, and

Korean Project

Martha Stone, LISTEN chairman announces that neither the Meredith representative, Elizabeth Reavis, nor the alternate, Carol Andrews, was chosen to participate in the Korean work camp project to be held this summer.

Meredith will still contribute part of the LISTEN funds to the project, however. It is still possible that Elizabeth might help with the project if any of the delegates chosen are unable to go to Korea.

Playhouse Stages Drama March 13-14

CHA Horse Show Set for March 21

The Capital Horseman Association's Schooling Show will be held March 21, 1964, at the Meredith College show ring at 1:00 p.m. The judges will be Mr. Jimmy Norris, noted trainer from Fayetteville, in charge of saddle horse classes, and Mrs. Girvin Kirk for hunter classes. Mrs. Mary Edwards, equitation instructor at Meredith, will exhibit a fine harness horse and a futurity class featuring the younger horses at the Meredith barn. Mrs. Edwards will also assume the duties of announcer for the show. Many riders and horses from the Raleigh area will participate in saddle horse and hunter classes. There will be no admission fee for spectators.

This show will be the first of the 1964 season in which Meredith students will be participating, and anyone interested in showing should contact Mrs. Edwards for information.
