Library Fund Raisers Named; Library Architect Sees Site

Dr. Carlyle Campbell, president of the college, has appointed a campus committee to be in charge of raising funds for the library to be built in the near future. Heading the committee is Dr. Mary Lynch Johnson, member of the English department, who also represents the faculty in the project. Dr. Johnson will be assisted by Mary Bland Josey, college registrar, who represents the staff, and Pat Lay, senior sociology major, representing the student body. Dr. Sankey L. Blanton, public relations director, stated that he is uncertain as to what plans the committee has made at this time.

Architect's Visit

In connection with the library project, a library architect, Mr. Russell Bailey, from Orange, Va., visited the campus on April 24, to talk with Miss Hazel Baity, college librarian, and other members of the administration. He was shown around the classroom buildings and inspected the proposed site for the library. At this time he has not been commissioned to draw the plans; however,

Miss Baity stated that she was favorably impressed by his knowledge of what Meredith needs in a library. She added that she hoped that it would be possible to secure his services in the planning of the Carlyle Campbell Library.

Dr. Blanton, who also talked with Mr. Bailey, said that he felt that he was the man who should be hired as the architect for the project.

Dr. Reveley Announces Teaching Assignments

Dr. David Reveley of the department of education has announced the assignments of the Meredith girls who are doing their student teaching in the schools in Raleigh and the surrounding areas for the spring semester.

At Frances Lacy, Elementary School, Pat Tupper, Frances Howard, and Emmalee Warlick are teaching the first grade, while Frances McNairy is teaching second grade. Brucie Tull and Louise Milford have fifth grade and Virginia Green the first grade at Emma Conn. The A. B. Combs School has Peggy Fish as a fifth-grade teacher. Sandra Searcy Biggerstaff teaches second grade at Eliza Pool, and Margaret Houghton teaches sixth grade at Sherwood Bates. Barbee Elementary School has accepted Mary Shipp for the sixth grade and Elizabeth Kidd for the third grade. At J. Y. Joyner, Virginia Buckner has the first grade, Millie Pearce and Nancy Evans, the second grade, Sandra Wallace, third grade, and Sue Johnson, the fifth grade. Elizabeth Godwin, with a second-grade class, and Helen Simms, with a third-grade class, are at Longview Gardens. Murphy Elementary School has Sylvia Cash in the third grade and Harriet Sides in the fourth grade. Joyce McMillan and Linda Pierce are teaching second grade at Myrtle Underwood. At Wiley Ele-

Simmons to Do Research at Duke

Mrs. Evelyn Simmons of the economics department will spend seven weeks this summer as a visiting scholar at Duke University to take part in a seminar research program.

The group will consist of ten economists from the south. Most of the time will be devoted to research with each scholar presenting a seminar in his field. The project, which will begin on June 15, is financed by the Ford Foundation. Mrs. Simmons stated that this study will not apply toward a degree, but is concentrated on research technique.

Mrs. Simmons will live at home and commute to Durham in order to keep up with her household duties.

Baird to Be "Doll for Dan"

Junior, Norma Baird, who is Moore's campus campaign manager, was recently chosen "Doll for Dan" from a group of thirteen contestants. Selection was based on poise and political interest.

College Plans Busy Hospitality Weekend

High school students who will be attending Meredith College next fall will be special guests of the college during the week-end of May 2-3.

The visitors will attend specially planned activities for Hospitality Weekend as well as the traditional

May Day festivities. The week-end also affords incoming freshmen the opportunity to meet other new students and to become acquainted with campus activities.

Robin Gentry, chief counselor for 1964-65, is in charge of plans for the weekend. Betsy Carlson is directing placement and Martha Henderson is serving as hostess. Freshmen counselors for next year will assist with the hospitality program and will greet the visitors as they arrive on campus.

Programs for May Day have been designed by Weezie Allen, a senior art major.

Registration will be held on Saturday morning from nine o'clock until twelve o'clock with lunch served in the cafeteria from twelve until one o'clock.

Special Activities

Activities planned for Saturday afternoon prior to the May Day program include a horse show at the college stables, a sidewalk art show in front of the post office, and an informal open house at the Ellen Brewer Home Management House to provide the opportunity for interested students to see the demonstration house.

The May Day horse show, slated to begin at one o'clock, will feature an all-breed exhibition with horses from Virginia and the Raleigh area. Hunt-seat and saddle-seat classes, with trophies going to the winners, will be features of the afternoon. Refreshments will be sold on the stable grounds.

May Day festivities will begin at four o'clock in the court with the presentation of the court and a program by the modern dance classes.

Chorus Concert

A spring concert will be presented on Saturday evening at eight o'clock in Jones Auditorium. The program for the Meredith College Chorus will represent a wide variety of literature from madrigals of the sixteenth century composers through the impressionistic composer Debussy to present-day writers.

The program includes "Matonna, Lovely Maiden," by Orlando di Lasso, "In These Delightful, Pleasant Groves" by Henry Purcell, "Adieu, Sweet Amarillia" by John Wilbye, and "How Merrily We Live" by Michael Este.

Bach and Debussy

"The Sixth French Suite: Allemande, Sarabande, Gavotte, and Minuet" by Johann Sebastian Bach will be a feature of the program. "The Blessed Damsel" by Claude Debussy will illustrate the lyric poem.

Chief counselor, Robin Gentry talks with Margaret Simmons, student activities board president, and counselor Nancy Jones about hospitality weekend plans.

Library Gets Memorial Books; Five Volumes Are Received

Miss Hazel Baity, college librarian, has announced that several new books have been given to the library. The books were presented in memory of several persons who were closely connected with the college.

Dr. Alice Keith, past member of the history department, and Dr. Lillian Parker Wallace, past head of the history department, gave volumes three and four of Arthur Link's Life of Wilson to the library. These volumes were presented to the library in memory of Dr. Samuel Gayle Riley, past head of the Meredith history department. Riley was a student of Woodrow Wilson when Wilson taught at Princeton. The fourth volume of this series, entitled Wilson: Crises and Confusions, has not yet been published, but will be presented to the library as soon as it is released.

Miss Mae Grimmer, retiring alumnae secretary, has given a book entitled Selected Poems by Vachel Lindsay. Miss Grimmer presented the book in memory of Dr. Win-gate M. Johnson, brother of Dr. Mary Lynch Johnson, English Department head.

Two alumnae of Meredith, Misses Minnie and Elizabeth Nash, presented T. S. Eliot's Collected Poems 1909-1962 in memory of Mrs. Charles E. Brewer, mother of Miss Ellen Brewer.

Miss Julia Ratchford, a Meredith sophomore, presented to the library a book in memory of Anita Temple Lewis, the late president of the sophomore class. The book is entitled Matthew Fontaine Maury, Scientist of the Sea by Frances Leigh Williams. Julia felt this an appropriate gift because Temple loved the sea.

Jeffries' Paintings Take Recent Honors

Mrs. Mackey Jeffries, a member of the Meredith College art department has recently received two awards for paintings shown in state shows.

On April 12, she received the Purchase Award from the Greensboro News Record for a painting exhibited in the Associated Artists of N. C. Exhibit in that town, which was a juried show. The award was for $250. Mrs. Jeffries' painting will become part of the permanent collection in the Weatherspoon Gallery at UNC-G. She was one of three artists to receive the award.

On April 24, with the opening of the Cameron Village Sidewalk Show, Mrs. Jeffries received one of three $100 awards. Her painting was entered in the Associated Artists of N. C. Invitational section of the exhibit. Only exhibiting members of the association were invited to participate in the professional section of the show.

Williams Is Chosen As Tulane Fellow

Gail Williams, a junior history major, has received a Junior Fellowship for work toward an M.A. degree at Tulane University. This fellowship is offered by the Ford Foundation and pays full tuition plus $2,500 for living expenses for one nine month school term and the summer following, during which time the thesis is to be finished. Gail will complete an A.B. degree at Meredith and will go to Tulane in September 1965. She will do her work in American history with a related field in European history.

Gail first learned of the program from Dr. Sarah Lemmon. She made application in February after having talked with a representative from Tulane.

Robinson Replaced Because of Illness

Mrs. Ruth Robinson of the business department has re-entered Rex Hospital for surgery. She will not be teaching at Meredith for the rest of the year. Mrs. Josephine M. Upchurch, who has been substitute teaching in local schools, will be her replacement for the remainder of the year.

Mrs. Robinson has been teaching at Meredith since 1953. She taught typewriting, elementary and advanced shorthand.

The annual Big Sister-Little Sister Breakfast will be held on Tuesday, May 5, at 7:30. The freshmen will entertain the juniors on the lawn of the Ellen Brewer Home Management House. Joanna Helms has been appointed to act as chairman for the committee planning the event.
