

Outstanding Students Honored for Talents, Achievements Societies Sponsor Annual Awards Day

The annual Awards Day at Meredith, sponsored by the literary societies, was held on May 19. Betty Duckworth, Astro president, began the program with scripture, and Ann Crockett, Phi president, extended the welcome. Various students were recognized for their literary achievements. The annual society literary awards were received by Winnie Chastain, Astro, and Maude Wyche, Phi. Recognized in the area of creative writing, Ellen Warren received the Elizabeth Avery Colton Award, and Sharon Bradshaw received the Ruth Ann Hubbell Award. Jeannie Sams won the Independent Reading Award.

The recipient of the Alice B. Keith Award for the best American History term paper was Rosalyn Graham.

Art and music awards were also made. Beth Perry won the Ida Poteat Art Award. Janie Bostick, Judy Ellis, Virginia Henderson, and Beth Porter were recognized for their outstanding musical achievements. Janie Bostick received numerous awards for excellence in music.

The Ida Poteat Scholarship was given by the Meredith Alumnae Association to Brenda Smith for her scholarship, character, and service to the college.

For her outstanding performance and excellent sportsmanship in athletics, Ann Partin received the Best All Around Athlete trophy. Jeannie Sams received the Horseman-ship Trophy.

Radio Airs College Events

Meredith College is now participating with Duke University, North Carolina State University, East Carolina College, and University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, in a series of public service programs on education. The programs are sponsored each week-end by Raleigh radio station WPTF.

The program, called "Directions '67," is heard each Sunday afternoon at 5:30. Kathy Booth, a Meredith junior from Durham, narrates the program. The script is written in conjunction with Mrs. Faye Humphries, director of the college news bureau, and Grover J. Andrews, director of information and development.

The program begins with the Meredith ALMA MATER, sung by the college chorus. Kathy then discusses campus happenings for the week involved.

The radio program will continue through the summer months, although Mrs. Humphries indicates that the format may vary. The length of the program varies slightly from week to week. However, like Duke, Carolina, N. C. State and East Carolina College, Meredith is given from five to seven minutes of radio time for the promotion of the college.

Johns Hopkins Selects Spanish Major

Hobbs Wins Full Scholarship

Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Maryland, has awarded a full scholarship for graduate work in Spanish to Sandra Hobbs, a Meredith senior from Raleigh. Sandra, applying for this program in February, indicated her desire to continue Spanish, an interest begun in high school. Also, last summer Sandra taught kindergarten in Colombia, South America.

After two full semesters and one summer session of graduate study plus a semester of student teaching in Johns Hopkins University Master of Arts in teaching program, Sandra plans to go to Spain.

This summer Sandra plans to go to Baltimore and visit the graduate dorm which will be her home after September 25. Her summer work will probably be with the Raleigh Recreation Department.

Terry Sanford of North Carolina and is now directed by former Governor Jack Campbell of New Mexico.

Mr. Williams has taught state and local politics and the American political system at Meredith this year. He is returning to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill next year to complete studies for a Ph.D.

Freshman Counselors Prepare For Orientation in September

Freshman counselors have already begun plans for welcoming incoming freshmen to Meredith next fall. Brenda Smith, chief counselor, has organized several committees to help orient the Class of 1971 to life at college.

One of the first events for welcoming the freshmen and transfers will be a Big Wheel Party, planned by Karen Watson, Sharon Ervin, Priscilla Beck, and Jo Carol Brumley. Later, the faculty advisors to the counsel groups will be entertained at a luncheon co-ordinated by Kathleen Grogan and Peggy Timmerman. Serving on the committee for dining room hostesses are Cherie Gulley and Susan Roebuck. Ann Pretlow and Susan Hernly will publicize orientation events, and Sara Davis and Gail Van Doren will plan the programs. Name tags for the new students will be made by Ayn Sullivan, Evelyn Godwin and Judy Shepard. A tour of Raleigh is planned by Lou Pearce and Mary Turner.

Other counselors include Pat Armstrong, Emma Barthalomew, Lynn Boland, Roma Bowen, Sandra Bridgman, Donna Crocker, Katie Dozier, Charlotte Gantt, Susan Gibson, Pat Gourley, Nancy Gravey.

Linda Haddock, Becky Hinson, Ann Hrabanek, Carolyn Kennedy, Ryllis Miller, Anne Preston, Ann Robertson, Jeannie Spach, Bonnie Sparks, Paula Tudor, Margaret Whitlow, Lee Winsted, Cindy Zeliff.

Transfer counselors are Rebecca Eatman, Donna Cooper, Susan Norman, Martha Butler, Ginger Owens, and Bootsie Thompson.

Nonresident Students Choose Officers

Alma Jo Hall, recently elected president of the nonresident students for 1967-68, has announced the names of other nonresident student officers for next year.

Patsy Eddins and Kathy Holder will serve as secretary and treasurer, respectively. Kyleen Graybeal was elected to serve as representative to the Meredith Christian Association, while Jo Paylor will represent nonresident students on the Meredith Recreation Association Board.

Humphries Accepted By Baptist Group

Mrs. Faye Humphries, director of the Meredith News Bureau, has been accepted as a full-fledged member in the Southern Baptist Public Relations Association, an organization composed of full-time workers engaged in promoting Baptist programs in the area served by the Southern Baptist Convention.

FACULTY AUCTION

after the auction. Mr. Leonard White and Miss Joanne Nix of the art department sold some of their original work.

The most popular feature of the auction proved to be the sale of several male faculty members, who offered to take phone duty for one night on a dormitory hall. Mr. Joe Baker, Meredith business manager, and Mr. Henry Coffey, assistant professor of religion, were among these, and they spent the evening of May 16 on campus.

Mr. Baker, who claimed that he "didn't know what to expect" in volunteering for phone duty, found himself making trips for ice, playing "Twister" and canasta, and setting hair in addition to answering the astonished questions of callers. Dressed in a colorful house coat, flapper beads, and a hat direct from the 1967 Mardi Gras, he was voted "Mr. America" by Fourth Vann.
