

ART EXHIBITION

An exhibition of water colors by Dr. Lillian Parker Wallace, former head of the Meredith history department, is now being held. The exhibition in Joyner Art Gallery will continue through November 22. Throughout the year art majors will be presenting their senior exhibitions.

Meredith Art Club Travels Today to Washington, D. C.

Representatives from the Meredith Art Club are planning a trip to Washington, D. C., to view their favorite subject, art. The students will be leaving early on November 3 for three days of studying and examining the works of masters. Although they will be on their own to tour the galleries of their choice, the suggested ones include the National Art Gallery, Phillips Museum, and the Museum of Modern Art. The girls added that they will have a little time for sight-seeing, though they will spend most of their hours at the museums. Among those students making the trip, accompanied by Mr. Robinson, are Puffy Carraway, Donna Cooper, Jeanne Donaldson, Delores Little, Clara Mincy, Ginny Sutton, Mary Charles Wheless, Mary Ann Whitty, and Barbara Jean Williams.

AREA ACTIVITIES

- November 2, 3
Les Grands Ballets Canadiens, Friends of the College
- November 2
Paul Taylor Dance Company, Duke Student Union Performing Arts
- November 5
Organ Recital with Ciompi Quartet, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
Bunyan Webb concert, University Concert Series, North Carolina State University
- November 7
Lee Evans Trio concert, New Arts Series
- November 8-14
"Henry IV," Carolina Playmakers, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
- November 9
Lecture, John Ciardi, Louisburg College
- November 10

- Concert, Jean-Pierre Rampal and Robert Veyron-LaCroix, Raldith Chamber Music Guild
Buddy Rich Concert, New Arts Series
- November 15-17
Welsh and Scots Guards, Friends of the College
"Merchant of Venice," Louisburg College

Forty-Six Seniors Put Methods Into Practice

Student Teachers Placed in Schools

When will we ever start putting into practice what we have been learning in the Meredith classroom? For many seniors, this question can be answered with "Right now!" as they begin their practice teaching in the Raleigh and Wake County schools.

The student teachers have been observing their respective classrooms before they begin the actual teaching on November 9.

Elementary teachers and their schools include the following: Martha Bray and Susan Ray, Clarence Poe School; Mrs. Sue Brewer and Donna Voncannon, Emma Conn; Carole Evans and Donna Haire, Bugg; Susan Leath and Bonnie Poplin, Effie Green; Mary Owens and Betty White, Boylan Heights.

Also, Mary Harper Freeman, J. Y. Joyner; Martha Poage, White Memorial; Mrs. Bonita Sadler, Fred A. Olds; Mrs. Alice Harris, Wake- lon; and Mrs. Elizabeth Kyff, Raleigh Schools art teacher.

Secondary practice teachers, their subject fields, and schools include:

Aycock: Mrs. Mana B. Johnson, social studies. Broughton: Barbara Bailey and Brenda Smith, English; Betty Cherry and Barbara Vandenbergh, home economics; Ann Dulin, business; Mrs. Josie Emmons, Spanish; Ann Hill, Math; and Fran Trexler, sociology and economics. Daniels Jr. High: Phyllis Edwards, math. Enloe: Ginger Hughey, history; and Mrs. Ruth Rhodes, English. Martin Jr. High: Arden Perry, language and social studies.

Cary: Jessie Dixon, French; Patsy Eddins, social studies; Alma Jo Hall and Mrs. Jane Strother, history; and Jane Leonard, English. Garner Sr. High: Brenda Carole Jones and Vickie Tart, math; Mary Katherine Moffitt, English; and Ginger Owens, home economics. Garner Jr. High: Charlotte Braswell, history; and Linda Pressley and Linda Woolard, social studies.

Millbrook: Mrs. Nancy Clark Cul- ler, social studies; Janet Johnson, history; Joy O'Berry, English; and Beth Smith, home economics; Vaiden-Whitley: Mrs. Dudley Barbee Howard, history; and Mrs. Jan Turner Hall and Mrs. Kathy Booth Stewart, English.

AROUND CAMPUS

HISTORY MEETING HELD

Wake Forest University was the scene of the October 20 meeting of the Historical Society of North Carolina. Dr. Sarah Lemmon and Dr. T. C. Parramore represented Meredith College.

HELP WANTED!

Anyone having an idea or suggestion for a motif for Religious Emphasis Week expressive of the theme, "A Taste of New Wine," should contact Mr. Grove Robinson of the art department. This year, poster design and the mailing piece will be entirely student work.

MCA PLANS ACTIVITIES

The Meredith Christian Association has recently received a check for $500 for services rendered at the North Carolina State Fair. A committee has been formed to consider possible uses for the money.

Also, the MCA Council has voted to join a North Carolina State University group, "Direct Action for Racial Equality," to help financially-deprived Mississippi farmers.

ARTISTS PLAN

(Continued from page 1)

to contribute. The works of these various artists will be on display from 5:00 p.m. Sunday, November 26, through Saturday, December 6.

Included in the exhibition will be the works of the Meredith art department faculty. Among the wide variety of art types which will be for sale are water-colors, pastels, collages, polymers, oil paintings, and perhaps a few sculptures.

Although at the present time the Associated Artists of North Carolina has no Meredith student members, any interested student is urged to contact Mr. Leonard White.

BSU MEETS HERE

The North Carolina Baptist Student Union Convention will hold its morning worship service in Jones Auditorium on Sunday, November 5. The convention begins in Raleigh dith College.

PROFESSORS ATTEND MEETING

Dr. Mary Lynch Johnson and Dr. Ione Kemp Knight attended a sectional meeting of the College English Association at North Carolina Wesleyan College, Rocky Mount, on October 28.

CONFERENCE HELD

Mrs. Helena Allen, Susan Hauser, and Lynn Dodge attended the North Carolina Athletic and Recreation Federation of College Woman in: at Atlantic Christian College in Wilson, North Carolina. Along with representatives from nineteen other colleges, they discussed participation in sports and recreational activities.

HORSE SHOW PLANNED

Several members of the Hoofprint Club will enter a horse show sponsored by the Capital Horseman's Association. The event will be held on November 4 at the Meredith stables.

FASHION SHOW PRESENTED

The October 18 meeting of Tomorrow's Business Women was held at Burton's in Cameron Village. Mr. Bob Bandsuch, sales promotion manager, discussed fashions and reviewed a fashion show. At the end of the show the club was treated to refreshments by Burton's.

DEMONSTRATION GIVEN

Thursday, October 19, the Home Economics Club was given a demonstration on how to apply makeup by a representative of Merle Norman Studio.

The aptitude section of the Graduate Record Examination will be given to all seniors on the morning of January 6 here. Although this is a service provided by the college, those students wishing to take the section of the test dealing with particular subject-matter fields must pay for the test, which will be given at North Carolina State University in the afternoon. Applications for the subject matter tests may be obtained from Dean Peacock's office.

CHANGING BRITAIN

(Continued from page 2)

pation of the English woman, he referred to the excellence of many women's colleges and the high positions held by women in government and industry.

Contact with Mr. Richard surely dispelled any picture we may have had of the British surrounded by a tradition that cannot carry the country into a modern period successfully. Mr. Richard possesses the sort of constructive attitude that Britain seems to be moving toward; his appearance on campus may prove to have been prophetic.

Go Where the Great Hamburgers Are!

RED BARN

RIDGEWOOD BEAUTY SHOP

6 STYLISTS
6 OPERATORS
1 MANICURIST

RIDGEWOOD SHOPPING CENTER
833-4632

Great Nights at Howard Johnson's!

Every

- Wednesday—Fish Fry—"All you can eat" $1.19
- Thursday—Chicken Fry ..... $1.49
- Friday—Fish Fry—"All you can eat" ..... $1.19
- Saturday—Spaghetti—"All you can eat" $1.00

U.S. #1 NORTH

Watch for Smoke Sale at Ken Ben

2506 HILLSBOROUGH STREET
RALEIGH, N. C.

YOUR STORE

